Marinite Gets Nod For U.S. Treasurer Job

Elizabeth Smith Accepts Kennedy Appointment

BY CHAPIN A. DAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Rudel (Libby) Smith of Kent Woodlands has accepted appointment as treasurer of the United States in the Kennedy administration, the Independent-Journal learned today.

Although Mrs. Smith today maintained the protocol position of "no comment" on the appointment, she accepted the $17,500-per-year post after President-elect John F. Kennedy telephoned her personally and urged her to take the job, it was learned. It was expected the official announcement would be made in Washington, D.C., later today.

The 49-year-old California national Democratic committeewoman, who lives with her son, Dan, 17, at 21 Rancheria Road, had been approached earlier with the suggestion that she consider such an appointment. She had rejected the idea, saying she preferred to remain in California at least until Dan is graduated next June from Redwood High School.

Late yesterday, however, Kennedy phoned her and asked her to reconsider.

"What can you say when the

Kennedy Appoints Brother, Dillon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today named his brother, Robert F. Kennedy, attorney general in his administration, and chose Douglas Dillon to be secretary of the Treasury Department.

Robert Kennedy, 35, was the president-elect's campaign manager. He was counsel of the Senate rackets investigating committee.

This is the first time in U.S. history that a president, or president-elect, has chosen a brother to be in his cabinet.

Kennedy also announced the appointment of Byron (Whizzer) White, Denver, Colo., attorney, to be deputy attorney general.

White, a former All-America football player, will serve under Kennedy's brother in the Justice Department.

Dillon, 51, is now undersecretary of state, and is a Republican. His appointment is one the financial community will likely view as assurance there will be no radical fiscal experiments in the Kennedy administration.

With these appointments, Kennedy completed the selection of his cabinet except for postmaster general. There were reports that this job would go to J. Edward Day, a Los Angeles insurance executive.

Jet, Prop Airliners Collide, Crash In New York; At Least 127 Dead

Big Fire Sweeps Residential Area

NEW YORK (AP) — Two huge airliners, groping through snow-shrouded skies for landings, collided and crashed into the city today with fiery devastation. At least 127 were killed.

The disaster was one of the worst in American aviation history.

It unleashed flames and havoc, turning an entire square block of Brooklyn into an arena of terror. Residents fled apartments screaming as walls caved in and fires broke out in a dozen buildings.

So far, however, only one person on the ground was known killed.

Of the 127 persons aboard the two planes, one lived, a young boy.

An army of emergency workers fought through the fires and wreckage, with possibly other casualties still to be found.

One plane, a United Air Lines DC-8 jet with 83 aboard, struck in heavily populated Brooklyn, hurling debris like bomb fragments, and setting 10 apartment buildings on fire. A church—ironically named "Pillar of Fire"—was demolished. A funeral parlor was in flames.

It was the first crash in this country of a pure jet carrying passengers.

The other plane, a Trans World Airlines Constellation carrying 44, raked over the Miller Field section of Staten Island, and came to rest in harbor water. It also started fires in the area, but they were quickly controlled.

Heavy snow was falling when the crash came about 10:40 a.m.

The disaster recalled a plane collision over the Grand Canyon on June 30, 1956, when 128 were killed. It also was between TWA and United airliners.

Today's TWA flight 266 was from Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, coming in for a landing at La Guardia field. The United airliner, out of Chicago, was stabbing through the murk for Idlewild International Airport.

The fields are about 10 miles apart, on opposite shores of Long Island in Queens. Normally plane approaching the fields are assigned to different altitudes, and different approach timing.

"Obviously something went wrong, but we don't know what," an Idlewild field communications spokesman said.

The DC-8 jet fell like a flaming rocket into an area on Flatbush Avenue, setting off an inferno. Every available piece of fire and emergency equipment was rushed to the scene.

Street side morgues were set up, and ambulances formed a screaming cavalcade heading to hospitals.

The lone passenger to survive was identified as Stephen Baltz, 11, of Chicago's suburban Wilmette. He was on his way to join his mother, who was visiting relatives in New York.

Killed on the ground in the flames was Charles Cooper, a sanitation department employee who was shoveling snow.

Dense smoke and flames fingered among the buildings, and formed a black cloud above the roofs.

"I heard screaming in there in the smoke and flames," said Nick Ligelis, a flower shop operator. "It's a horrible thing."

Mayor Robert Wagner issued an appeal for New Yorkers to stay away from the disaster area.

Although only one victim on the ground had been found by early afternoon, Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanaugh Jr. said firemen still had mountains of wreckage and rubble to search.

At one point, the whole block was aflame, but within four hours, a massive force of firemen, police crews, Air Force and Coast Guard squads had stemmed most of the fire's spread.

The Feberal Bureau of Investigation sent a seven-man disaster squad from Washington to aid in identifying victims. E. R. Quesada, Federal Aviation Agency administrator, also flew here to head an investigation.

Laos Reds Holding 5 Yanks Hostage; U.S. Forces Alerted

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Prince Boun Oum and victorious pro-Western Gen. Phoumi Nosavan drove into Vientiane at dusk today and announced liberation of this shattered Laotian administrative capital from pro-Communist forces.

COMBINED AP & UPI

VIENTIANE, Laos—Retreating pro-Communist forces of paratroop Capt. Kong Le were reported today to have seized five American hostages in this wrecked and burning city where fires sent a column of smoke spiraling a mile into the air.

The right-wing forces of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan appeared to be driving the Soviet-supported paratroopers back toward the vital airport on the outskirts.

Meanwhile, U.S. Marine and naval forces patrolled the South China Sea ready to back up America's pledge to protect the pro-Western government of Laos against any aggression by its Communist neighbors.

(At the same time, the State Department is preparing one of the stiffest notes ever sent to Russia, rejecting Soviet charges that the United States is intervening in the battle between pro-Communist and pro-American forces in the strife-torn Asian nation.

Triumph For Selassie Claimed In Broadcast

LONDON (AP) — A broadcast over the Addis Ababa radio claimed today the rebel government set up in opposition to Emperor Haile Selassie has been overthrown.

The broadcast, heard in Nairobi, Kenya, said the announcement was made on orders of Maj. Gen. Merid Mengesha, who had been described as a traitor yesterday by a rebel-controlled station.

The exact situation in Addis Ababa still was obscure. Resident correspondents had been unable to get news out.

But Haile Selassie himself, ready to fight for his throne and blaming "irresponsible persons" for the rebellion, apparently was in or near Addis Ababa, his capital.

A loyalist "Voice of Ethiopia" broadcast reported him back. A similar broadcast earlier from Mengesha, then transmitting over a clandestine station, had reported the "Lion of Judah" back in Ethiopia.

In nearby French Somaliland French News Agency monitors heard the "Voice of Ethiopia" say army units faithful to the emperor had routed the insurgents.

The Ethiopian Embassy in London said the emperor, hurrying home from a state visit to Brazil, had left Khartoum, in the Sudan, adjacent to Ethiopia.

Before leaving Liberia to continue his flight homeward, Selassie expressed confidence peace will soon return to his northeast African country.

"The confused situation in Addis Ababa," he said in a statement, "is something that will soon pass. Such confusion is caused always by irresponsi-

Quentin Site Suggested As S.F. Airport

The tidelands near Point San Quentin, considered and rejected for a Marin County Airport, may be in the running for location of a second major airport for San Francisco—but whether they will be considered depends on the report of a Burlingame aeronautical consulting firm.

Harold S. Messersmith, superintendent of San Francisco International Airport, said today discussion of location of a second airport for the Golden Gate metropolis is awaiting a report from the firm of Leigh Fischer and Associates, which is expected within 30 days.

He refused to speculate on whether the Marin County site would be among those recommended for consideration. It was proposed to the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission, which ordered the survey, by Carroll Snyker, executive vice president of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

WEATHER MAN SEES CLOUDY BUT DRY SKIES

A cloudy but dry weekend was forecast today for Marin County by the Weather Man.

The sun will break through the clouds occasionally and the showers that dumped a fraction of an inch of water on the county last night and today are expected to stop.

Mill Valley and Tamalpais Valley both registered .08 of rain last night. Woodacre had .05 and Belvedere trailed at .04.

San Rafael Bank Gets Another Purchase Offer

Southern California interests entered the bidding yesterday for the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael, with an offer that appeared more lucrative for stockholders than merger terms proposed by Crocker-Anglo National Bank.

As directors were discussing the Crocker-Anglo offer, a telegram arrived from a Southern Californian representing unnamed financiers, offering to buy the entire stockholdings at $96 per share.

Crocker-Anglo had offered a two-for-one exchange of shares to acquire the Marin County banking firm. Crocker-Anglo shares are now selling at $38.

Thus, the new offer would give stockholders about $20 more for each share—and in cash instead of stock. The additional $20 would more than cover the capital gains tax on sale of the stock.

Negotiations with Crocker-Anglo are continuing while the new offer is being investigated, chairman W. P. Murray reported today.

Directors met yesterday in hope all details of the Crocker-Anglo proposal had been worked out for presentation to stockholders. This proved not to be the case, however.

Further action was postponed to a special meeting of the direcors, to be called when details of the Crocker-Anglo offer are completed and more information on the telegraphic offer from Southern California is received.

Minnesota Governor Named Secretary Of Agriculture

WASHINGTON (AP)—Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman is in John F. Kennedy's cabinet as secretary of agriculture, and AFL-CIO lawyer Arthur J. Goldberg as secretary of labor.

The posts of attorney general, secretary of the treasury and postmaster general today were the only cabinet posts—of a total of 10—still to be filled by Kennedy.

The president-elect last night picked Freeman, who also lost out in his quest for another term as Minnesota's governor, for the politically explosive job of heading the Agriculture Department.

Three hours earlier Kennedy tapped Goldberg—special counsel to the AFL-CIO—for the labor position, a potential hot spot for a union man in dealing with management along with labor.

Freeman, 42, and Goldberg, 52, are Democrats. They stood with Kennedy at the door of his Georgetown home as he announced the appointments.

After Freeman had been named he stepped aside and was replaced next to Kennedy by Rep. George McGovern (D-S. D.), who ran unsuccessfully for a U. S. Senate seat in November. Kennedy said he had chosen McGovern to serve as director of the new administration's food-for-peace program—a plan for buiding good will abroad through distribution of American surplus farm commodities.

Kennedy said yesterday he had offered the job of postmaster general to Negro Rep. William L. Dawson, (D-Ill.) but that Dawson had turned it down. Kennedy said Dawson, 74, took the position he could be of greater service to the new administration by remaining in the House.

NEW CHOICE SOON

Kennedy promised to make a new choice soon.

In naming Freeman to be secretary of agriculture, Kennedy spoke of him as "the best man we could get to take over this responsibility. He added that Freeman, a Lutheran who is a lawyer, had dealt with Minnesota farm problems which are similar to those facing the entire country.

The governor called the task ahead a real challenge and a great opportunity.

"No one knows all the answers," he said, "but the answers can, must, and will be found."

Goldberg, a gray-haired man who said he will work to end bitterness between labor and management, was hailed by Kennedy as perhaps the most competent American in the labor relations field.

JEWISH FAITH

The new secretary of labor is the second man of Jewish faith to be picked for the Kennedy cabinet. The other is Connecticut Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff, chosen to be secretary of health, education and welfare.

With a view to possible criticism of appointment of a union man, Goldberg—who also is general counsel to the United Steelworkers Union—pledged to enforce the labor laws with impartiality and vigor.

As for promotion of labor-management peace, Goldberg said: "This is an objective toward which I am wholeheartedly dedicated, for which I have worked in the past, and for which I will work unceasingly in the years ahead."

BLACKFACES AND BOOS

New Orleans Whites Hold Mass Meeting

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The White Citizens Council held a mass meeting last night in its battle to halt the integration of public schools in New Orleans.

The meeting was interrupted repeatedly by shouts of "kill the niggers," "feed 'em hay," and "send 'em back to Africa."

One of the evening's attractions was the trooping of seven grade-school-age children on stage. Three girls and one boy wore exaggerated blackfaces while two boys and one girl wore no makeup.

The children hugged each other and made loud smacking noises, switching partners so that each "Negro" smooched with a white.

"Is that what you want?" council president Dr. Emmett Erwin asked, pointing to the children.

The hall became a bedlam of boos.

A man wearing a vest made of a Confederate flag waved a sign reading: "Integration means race mongrelization."

Concessionaires patroled the aisles hawking Confederate flags and rebel army caps.

Pamphlets on "God gave the law of segregation—as well as the 10 commandants—to Moses on Mount Sinai," and "race mixing a religious fraud" were distributed.

State superintendent of education Shelby Jackson told the crowd to "stand up and fight . . . and you will have freedom."

Frank Voelker, chairman of the state sovereignty commission, called for President Eisenhower or President-elect John F. Kennedy to suspend the integration decisions which have resulted in four Negro girls' attendance at two previously white-only public schools here.

Retiring Phone Worker Honored

Miss Adeline Manning of 15 Treanor Street, San Rafael, was honored by her co-workers at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. on her completion of 35 years Bell System service.

The occasion was observed at a luncheon at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito, where she was presented with a corsage and company service emblem by D. R. Horton, telephone company district manager.

The business office force at 1800 Second Street, where Miss Manning is a stenographer, honored her further with a coffee party.

Miss Manning, who moved to San Rafael from San Francisco shortly after the 1906 fire, has worked here most of her 35-year career.

Herter Warns New Drive For Summit Coming

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter warned the Western allies today to be wary of an expected campaign by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for renewal of East-West negotiations.

Herter told the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization that Khrushchev apparently has won the consent of other Communist countries for more negotiations with the West. But he said Khrushchev is on the horns of a dilemma: How to avoid nuclear war and at the same time speed communism toward world domination.

OPENING SESSION

Herter was speaking at the opening session of a regular meeting of NATO foreign and defense ministers.

President Eisenhower, in a farewell message to NATO, called for "an even greater unity of thought and action" in the alliance.

Herter read the message from the outgoing American president, who is regarded as one of the founding figures of the NATO alliance. He served as the alliance's first supreme commander and gave the NATO program strong support in eight years as head of the American government.

IMMENSE PROGRESS

Eisenhower said in his message that he was greatly encouraged by "the immense progress made by the Atlantic alliance during the last decade."

Referring to the recent Moscow summit meeting of Communist powers, Herter remarked that Khrushchev has since been more belligerent.

Herter particularly pointed out the scathing attacks by Khrushchev on U.S. policy after the Moscow Communist summit. While the Reds called for peaceful co-existence in their final communique, the document was sprinkled with bitter attacks on the West.

DECISIONS FOR WEST

The purpose of the annual top-level NATO session is to conduct a formal probe of Communist intentions and decide what the West will do to counter Red moves.

Herter's view that the world condition has generally worsened since the NATO meeting last December was understood to be generally supported by most of the NATO powers, specifically including Britain, France and West Germany.

Prohibition Figure Dies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Funeral services will be held today for federal agent Moe Smith, member of the Prohibition era team of "Izzy and Moe" who were responsible for arresting thousands of bootleggers, bartenders and speakeasy patrons.

Smith, 73, died Wednesday at Sydenham Hospital. His partner, Izzy Epstein, died in 1938.

Izzy and Moe gained national fame for their comic antics and the disguises they used in running down booze peddlers during the early years of prohibition. They posed as grave diggers, conductors and politicians in their zeal to trap violators.

Vessel Searched

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—French naval vessels, ignoring official Bonn protests, stopped and searched another West German ship in international waters off the North African coast, the Assn. of German Shipowners said today.

The association said the 4,185-ton freighter Archsum was stopped about 54 miles from Gibraltar by an unidentified French warship and searched for arms consigned to Algerian rebels.

Disc Jockey Stabbed

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—A disc jockey was severely stabbed yesterday by an irate listener who hates rock 'n' roll music.

Ron Irvin of radio station KAIR said he had just put a record on the turntable when he saw a stranger in the studio. As he started escorting the man out, the stranger screamed:

"I hate that music. I hate rock 'n' roll."

Irvin was slashed across the back with a knife or beer can opener.

Baby Is 'Weapon'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An Italian ex-wrestler facing arrest for deportation as an undesirable alien clutched his curly-haired baby son so closely last night that officers were afraid to arrest him for fear he might crush the child.

Raimondo Bracchetti stood off federal immigration officers and police in his apartment for 90 minutes, refusing to release his son, 21-month-old John.

Officers left after getting a promise from the 6-foot-2, 240-pound man to appear for a hearing today.

French Mail Strike

PARIS (AP)—Postmen struck throughout France today and few people got their Christmas mail.

The strike, due to end at midnight, caused many post offices to close. Officials at the Finance Ministry also decided to stop work for two hours this afternoon. Both groups are dissatisfied with present wage scales.

Prettiest Stamp

MONACO (AP)—A British stamp representing Windsor Castle and the queen has been selected out of 5,200 entries as the most beautiful stamp in Europe and the world.

The one-pound — $2.80 — stamp was chosen yesterday by a 15-man jury which included representatives of Britain, France, Sweden and German stamp societies. There were entries from 110 countries.

Hoffa Pleads Innocent

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—Teamster Union boss James Hoffa pleaded innocent today when arraigned on fraud charges before a federal judge.

Two of Hoffa's associates also pleaded innocent to 12-count federal indictments charging them with misusing a half million dollars in Teamsters funds in a grandiose Florida land development which never developed very far.

Nixon Margin Cut

HONOLULU (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's popular vote margin over President-elect John F. Kennedy in Hawaii was reduced to 61 yesterday.

A recount of 34 of Hawaii's 240 precincts shaved the edge from 141, the figure which gave Hawaii to Nixon a month ago when the vote was certified. Democrats here are expected to try for a total recount, although the electoral college meets Monday.

Honeymoon In Spain

CORDOBA, Spain (AP)—King Baudouin and his Spanish bride spent the first night of their honeymoon in a magnificent manor house attached to a 16th-century monastery high in the Cordobese Sierra.

The royal newlyweds arrived late last night by plane at Sevilla's San Pablo Airport.

U.S. Cutback Of Dependents Is Reduced

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American servicemen's wives and children had a partial reprieve today from the Pentagon order sharply reducing the number of dependents abroad to save U.S. dollars and gold.

Revised instructions from Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. will permit at least an additional 65,000 wives and children to remain overseas. The new order also will slow the rate of their return to the United States.

OKINAWA EXEMPTION

The new directive, announced yesterday, also exempted from the dependents cut military families stationed in Okinawa, the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba and installations in the Azores, Mexico, Canada and Panama. There are 30,549 American military dependents in these areas.

President Eisenhower ordered the restriction on servicemen's families overseas four weeks ago as part of his program to stem the nearly four-billion-dollar annual drain of American gold and dollars.

MANY COMPLAINTS

This brought complaints from military leaders and congressional defense experts that the limit of servicemen's wives and children overseas would shatter morale and might cause mass resignations.

Instead of cutting the 484,000 overseas dependents to 200,000 as Eisenhower directed, the new orders allow the services to reduce to about 265,000.

In addition, instead of being required to reduce at a rate of 15,000 a month beginning in January, the services will be allowed to set their own rate for the return.

American Named 1 Of 4 Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named four new cardinals, including Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis, Mo.

Two South Americans and an Italian were the others elevated by the pontiff.

The Italian prelate is Msgr. Giuseppe Ferretto, a member of the Vatican Curia.

The new Latin-American cardinals are Most Rev. Luis Concha Cordoba, archbishop of Bogota, and Most Rev. Jose Umberto Quintero, archbishop of Caracas.

They will be elevated at a secret consistory at the Vatican Jan. 16.

Creation of the four new cardinals will bring the membership of the Sacred College of the Roman Catholic Church to an all-time record of 86.

There was no indication today that the pope would make public at the Jan. 16 consistory the names of the three cardinals he designated "in pectore" (in his heart) on March 28, 1960. At that time the pope named seven new cardinals which brought the college to a total of 85, plus the three "in pectore."

to six. The others are Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago, James Francis L. Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston and Aloisius Cardinal Muench, former bishop of Fargo, N.D., and now a member of the Vatican Curia.

John Cardinal O'Hara, archbishop of Philadelphia, died last August.

Man Arrested For Planning Bomb Threat Against Kennedy

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 73-year-old man was held in $100,000 bond today on a charge that he intended to turn himself into a human bomb aimed at the life of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Richard Paul Pavlick, retired postal worker from Belmont, N.H., was given a hearing before U.S. Commissioner George L. Pink last night. Pink said the bond was one of the highest ever set in this city.

Pavlick was arrested yesterday in Palm Beach and officers said they seized several sticks of dynamite, blasting caps, wiring and other paraphernalia in his automobile and motel room.

Assistant U.S. Dist. Atty. Robert Rust of Miami requested the $100,000 bond.

Clothing, Perfume Stolen From Home

About $250 worth of women's clothing and perfume vanished from a Kent Woodlands home, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Items missing include dresses, gowns, perfume and soap.

ible and we believe that this is the case in Addis Ababa."

The emperor's representatives in Asmara, capital of Eritrea, have proclaimed that former Italian colony remains loyal to Selassie.

The radio at Addis Ababa, where Selassie's opponents named the emperor's son king, remained silent 24 hours after it announced that fighting had broken out there.

The emperor's defense minister, Mengesha, in a broadcast over what appeared to be a secret radio station, reported the emperor had returned but did not say where.

The Ethiopian consul-general in Nairobi said he had a report from Addis Ababa that soldiers loyal to the emperor surrounded the city and called on the rebels to surrender to avoid bloodshed.

Violent gun battles raged yesterday in the narrow streets of Addis Ababa, and the Ethiopian radio said several civilians had been killed or wounded in an "inhuman massacre."

Ike Cuts Off Cuban Sugar For 3 Months

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, accusing Fidel Castro of "deliberate hostility toward the United States," today barred any Cuban sugar imports during the first three months of 1961.

By presidential order, Eisenhower fixed the Cuban sugar quota "at zero" for the first quarter of the coming year. This was a sharp follow up to his action last year when he reduced Cuba's sugar imports by about 700,000 short tons.

Unless Cuba can sell its sugar elsewhere, the new action was a 40-million-dollar economic blow to the Castro regime.

In normal times, Cuba supplied about one-third of the nine million tons of sugar used annually by this country.

Eisenhower stressed Castro's animosity toward the United States and the Cuban leader's pro-Communist tendencies.

He said the Castro government "has continued to follow a policy of deliberate hostility toward the United States and to commit steadily increasing amounts of its sugar crop to Communist countries."

SMITH

president himself asks you to serve?" she asked.

To accept, however, Mrs. Smith needed approval of her new boss — Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who appointed her only two weeks ago as deputy chief of the state Division of Labor Law Enforcement. Brown was in Southern California and she had difficulty reaching him. Eventually she got through to the governor. He "seemed very pleased," accepted her resignation as of early in January, and wished her good luck.

She will go to Washington just before the Jan. 20 inauguration. She will take over the post of treasurer from Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest of Utah.

As the treasurer of the United States she will be under Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, whose selection for the cabinet was announced today by the president-elect.

The job itself is purely an accounting one. The treasurer receives and accounts for all public moneys that may be deposited in the treasury at Washington, in the Federal Reserve banks and other designated depositories. It includes no policy decisions.

Best known activity of a U.S. treasurer is the counter-signing, with the secretary of the treasury, of all paper money issued by the government.

In practice, however, there is an added duty. The treasurer, particularly in recent administrations when a woman has been appointed to the job, has a busy public speaking assignment. She has represented the administration at numerous public meetings around the country, particularly at meetings of women's organizations. An informal chore at these meetings is autographing dollar bills, a thing many people appear to cherish.

In the East, Mrs. Smith will be near the rest of her family. Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Gunn, live in Bedford Village, N.Y., with their two children.

Mrs. Smith and her husband, Fred H. Smith IV, a San Francisco office equipment executive, were divorced a year and a half ago.

Born in Montreal, Canada, of American parents, Mrs. Smith has lived in Marin County since 1945. She attended Smith College in Massachusetts, being graduated in 1937 with a B.A. in Oriental civilization. She had planned a career in museum work, but found it "a closed field."

She became a teacher, then got interested in politics in the first unsuccessful congressional campaign in 1948 of her Kent Woodlands neighbor, Roger Kent, now Democratic State Central Committee chairman.

She worked for the Independent-Journal in 1949-51 as reporter, feature writer and editor of the Marin Magazine section. Then she became an intern in the Coro Foundation in San Francisco, a political training organization, and served a year on the staff of the foundation.

She was elected national committeewoman from California in 1956 and has been working at politics almost full time since then.

The Navy announced yesterday that two aircraft carriers, 1,400 Marines and several destroyers are deployed in the South China Sea.)

Names of the five hostage Americans were not known immediately. They were reported to have been seized by the leftist forces in their homes in the western section of the city. The area is some distance from the center of the city where the U.S. Embassy and major buildings were smoke-blackened ruins.

The five men were members of the U.S. International Cooperation Administration unit here which dispenses foreign aid, dealing generally in economic assistance to underdeveloped nations.

More than 300 foreigners, including 135 Americans, arrived in Bangkok, Thailand, after a flight from the embattled Laotian capital across the northern Thai border. The refugees ran a gauntlet of shellbursts and sniper fire to cross the Mekong River into Thailand. The group included several American women.

American informants claimed Russians or Communist North Vietnamese were serving the leftist artillery, laying precision fire across the center of the city.

"I have helped train Laotian artillerymen and have never seen them shoot like this before," one American said.

Police Chief Warns On Theft Of Mail

Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt issued a warning today that his department is keeping a sharp watch against theft of mail from mailboxes.

This came after what Goerndt called a "rash" of Christmas card stealing in the hill area. Yesterday officer Theodore Zink "staked out" for four hours at Glen Drive and Currey Avenue, caught a 10-year-old Marin City boy taking Christmas cards from three mail boxes on Currey Avenue. The boy said he took them "because he liked to look at the pictures."

Two weeks ago, police said, two 7-year-old Sausalito boys were found taking mail from mail boxes in the Currey and Platt Avenues area.

Cards had been found lying opened, on the hillside, police said, but mail other than Christmas cards has not been bothered. About 40 cards had been taken in the two-week period.

Musician Lands Auto In Bay

Richard Crabtree, 26-year-old nightclub musician of 5 Tomales Street, Sausalito, drove his car into the bay at Bridgeway and Richardson Street in Sausalito at 2:55 a.m. today.

The car broke through two sections of pipe railing and dropped 12 feet into the mud at low tide, reported Sausalito police.

NEW SALES GIMMICK

Auto Company Offers Rebate In U. S. Bonds

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—The auto industry today studied without official comment George Romney's newest gimmick to sell more American Motors cars by offering buyers rebates of government savings bonds.

Romney announced the plan yesterday with a flourish in a news conference in a plush New York hotel. He called it sharing progress with the neglected customer and invited the rest of the auto companies to join him.

Apparently there will be no mad rush to do so.

Privately, various auto men expressed the opinion that Romney's plan will create considerable interest and probably help his sales.

Romney is highly regarded by his competitors, both personally and as a shrewd business man. He is credited with singlehandedly selling the American public on the idea of a compact car — the size which currently is accounting for at least 30 per cent of all automobile sales.

Basically the program calls for a rebate of one $25 bond to each customer for each 10 per cent increase over last year's sales which American Motors accomplishes in the four months dating back to Dec. 1.

If sales increase 10 per cent, every buyer gets one $25 bond. If the increase is 20 per cent, $50 in bonds; 30 per cent means $75 in bonds; 40 per cent means $100 in bonds and 50 per cent or more means $125 in bonds.

The plan applies equally to buyers whether they purchase the tiny imported Metropolitan or the much larger Ambassador V8. But there are certain restrictions.

These include: Delivery must be made between Dec. 1 and March 31. The maximum payment is $125 in bonds. The program applies only in the United States. The rebate is not applied to cars bought by the government.

DOLORES MARTIN
Mass slayer?

California's total agricultural income new exceeds that of any other state.

Detroit Police Search For Killer Of Four

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit police pressed a city and state-wide search today for a woman who apparently slew her son, her sister-in-law and two infant nieces after leaving a suicide note written on a 15-foot roll of shelf paper.

Mrs. Dolores Martin, 26, disappeared after leaving the note in her home here yesterday. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Wilkes, 55, called police when she couldn't find her daughter or Mrs. Martin's 3-year-old son, Daran.

Two policemen searched through the home, but found nothing amiss and left. Mrs. Wilkes then walked to the district station and asked that the police search again.

A second squad came to the house and opened a cedar chest which Mrs. Wilkes told them "feels heavy." Inside was the body of Daran, suffocated by a pillow.

A search of the house also uncovered the note, in which Mrs. Martin threatened suicide and the lives of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Virginia Martin, and her two daughters.

Police rushed to Virginia Martin's house, broke down the front door and discovered three bodies in a pool of blood on the living room floor.

The victims were Virginia Martin, 23, and her two daughters, Wanda, 2, and Toni Rene, 1. All had been stabbed repeatedly.

North Carolina's football team flubbed seven straight conversions this fall before Bob Elliott made two extra points. They came in NC's 27-14 loss to Tennessee.

SOME DRIVERS ARE PRONE TO ACCIDENTS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Are you an accident-prone driver? Dr. Donald Schuster, psychologist at the University of Southern California, says a chronic violator has these characteristics:

He is physically and psychologically active.

He "drives" himself to get ahead.

Despite aggressiveness, he probably relies on others.

He is unwilling to conform culturally.

He lacks aesthetic appreciation.

He is willing to take chances.

Schuster said he has tested 2,000 drivers since 1958.

Top Drug Makers Expected At Legislative Hearing

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Seven of the state's top drug manufacturers, subpoenaed in an effort to reach agreement on lower prices for drugs bought by the state government, are expected to be represented at an Assembly committee hearing in San Francisco next Thursday.

Chairman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco) of the Social Welfare Committee said it would be the first time representatives of the state, druggists, manufacturers and wholesalers discussed the question together.

Burton said he hopes the participants can develop a method to reduce government drug costs because of its heavy volume buying.

"Despite the state expenditure of some 36 million dollars for drugs in the public assistance program over the past three years, we have not received the benefit of any wholesale discounts which would normally accrue to such a large purchaser," the chairman added.

Burton said the manufacturers had been invited to earlier hearings on the same subject, but had failed to appear. He said the other representatives had answered his invitations.

Inverness Water Labeled Unsafe

Inverness Park water is unsafe for drinking and should be boiled five to 10 minutes, the Marin County Health Department warned today.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, said laboratory tests have shown water of the Inverness Park water system to have a consistently "low bacteriological quality."

The system's owner, J. J. Downey, has been repeatedly warned about his water, Dr. Albrecht said. The health department notified him yesterday that if the water condition is not corrected immediately, his permit to operate will be revoked.

If Downey continues to sell water after he loses his permit, Dr. Albrecht said, the case will be turned over to the district attorney's office. It is a misdemeanor to operate without a permit, she said.

Land Swap Proposed For Sausalito Park

The Sausalito Recreation Commission will renew its request for city purchase of nine acres of underwater Napa-Litho Streets property Jan. 3 with a proposal that a land swap may reduce the cost to the city.

The commission is eager to have the city acquire the property for an aquatic park, and has already designated it "Sausalito Marina" on a long-range recreational development plan which was presented at last night's commission meeting, reported John R. Minton, chairman.

Minton said a survey had shown that the city has five acres of underwater streets in the area—including portions of Litho, Bee and Donohue Streets and Railroad and Humboldt Avenues. Some of this land might be exchanged to Sausalito Properties, Inc., for part of the Napa-Litho property, he suggested.

It was reported that the January, 1959, appraised value of the nine acres of Sausalito Properties Inc. is $80,000. A sale price of $175,000 was quoted to the commission earlier.

The commission also:

1. Asked City Manager Charles A. Brown to call for new bids on the project to widen the Turney Street launching ramp to accommodate two boats.

2. Sent to the city manager its approval of a 10-year lease of Bayside Park.

Felon Faces Murder Count Next Monday

A 27-year-old San Quentin Prison life-termer will be arraigned on a murder charge in Marin Superior Court Monday for the fatal stabbing of a fellow inmate last Oct. 11.

Farrell H. Fenton, who is serving a life term for burglaries, forgery and robbery in Alameda County, was indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury last night. He is charged with stabbing Edward Ybarra, a narcotics violator from Los Angeles, who was watching the World Series in the prison gymnasium.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, who headed an investigation, said Ybarra was called out of the gym into an adjoining weight lifting room where he died with a deep stab wound in the back and several wounds in front.

The death weapon, believed to be a knife, has not been found.

Fenton faces the gas chamber if convicted.

3 Cases Of Beer Stolen At Eatery

Three cases of beer disappeared from a storeroom behind the Oak Tree Restaurant at Ignacio, the manager reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Steve Grenowich of 5359 Redwood Highway, said he has kept beer and peanut oil in a garage to the rear of the restaurant under lock and key. The other half of the garage is used by a newspaper distributor, who works there early in the morning.

Investigators said a partial wall divides the two sections, but a person could climb over the wall from one side to the other.

Firm Denies Letter To Planner A Threat

Ralph T. Walters and architect Lloyd Flood joined today in voicing hope that their "towers apartment" project for Strawberry Point will be decided by the Marin County Board of Supervisors Tuesday on its merits rather than because of yesterday's radio-squabble.

They denied that a letter from Walters to City Planning Director Mary Summers had constituted a "threat," though it gave notice that if she took part in a KTIM radio panel discussion of tower apartments, the firm of Walter-Flood, Inc., would ask for her dismissal.

In a joint statement they said:

"It will be extremely unfortunate if this passing incident causes anyone to lose sight of the fact that we have an extremely fine project which should be considered beneficial to all, and gladly accepted.

"Surely it (Walter's letter) was not in our opinion any personal threat whatever, though we feel strongly that it is improper for a paid public employee to discuss on a radio program a matter still up for decision.

"It would make no difference whether the employee were in favor of or against any particular project. This is a moral issue."

Chairman Walter R. Castro of the board of supervisors disclosed Mrs. Summers had telephoned him about the letter Wednesday night.

"Personally I have no objection to any department head going on the air," he said. "I asked the county counsel and he said there was no legal issue."

However, Supervisor William D. Fusselman said: "We sit in a quasi-judicial capacity. An attache of a court wouldn't go out and discuss a matter still under consideration, so I consider it an impropriety for a county official to do so.

"But I wouldn't have told Mrs. Summers not to speak. It's notorious that I'm a believer in free speech."

Supervisor James Marshall, declaring 'I' still haven't made up my mind how I'm going to vote next Tuesday" declared, "It was okay with me for Mary to go on the air. I was in favor of it.

"I feel that the letter was very inappropriate, and if it wasn't a threat what was it?" said Supervisor Vera Schultz.

Supervisor William Gnoss was away on a trip to Ukiah today.

State Psychiatrists Find Killer Of Patrolman Sane

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two state psychiatrists have found that Erwin W. Walker, sentenced to death 14 years ago for killing a highway patrolman, is sane and should be returned to prison.

The finding reported by the State Mental Hygiene Department today means that Walker, 42, of Glendale, will go before the Marin County Superior Court for a new sanity hearing.

A hearing date will be set as soon as the report of Dr. Louis Nash of Atascadero State Hospital and Dr. Walter Rappaport of Agnews State Hospital is forwarded to the court. The doctors went to the State Medical Facility at Vacaville to see Walker Wednesday.

Walker has been undergoing treatment in state institutions ever since he was found insane just a half hour before his scheduled execution April 15, 1949. He had attempted suicide the day before.

He was convicted of the 1946 slaying of Patrolman Loren Roosevelt, who stopped Walker to question him about a burglary.

Should the Marin court agree with the doctors' findings, it would be up to the Los Angeles County Superior Court, which convicted him originally to set a new execution date.

Cadets Attend Yule Service

The unfinished auditorium on the San Rafael Military Academy was used for the first time today as columns of cadets, dressed in full service uniform, filed inside to participate in Christmas services conducted by Rev. John D. Riley, school chaplain and rector of St. Paul's Church.

Temporary seating arrangements were provided for the students on the auditorium floor. The building will be dedicated next May 7 at an Alumni Day ceremony.

A Hammond electric organ donated to the school by Ralph A. Millard of 62 Rafael Drive, San Rafael, was played at the service by Millard's grandson, Cadet Bruce Lindsay of Ignacio.

Moslem Terrorists Sought In Algeria

ALGIERS (UPI)—French paratroopers today searched the casbahs for Moslem terrorists on a rampage of murder and pillage in the native quarters of Algeria's major cities.

Moslem rebels shouting "independent Algeria" and "long live Abbas" eluded paratroopers on the alert for terrorists roaming through the casbahs of Algiers, Oran, Constantine and Bone. Ferhat Abbas is the premier of the Algerian rebel "government."

The death toll of the riots stemming from President Charles de Gaulle's recent trip to Algeria climbed to 131 yesterday with the discovery of five murder victims.

Deputy press chief Jean Louis Guillaud said Moslems had ransacked a synagogue in the Casbah in Algiers and had terrorized Jewish residents in the native quarter. But the government spokesman said there were no reports of any Jews being killed.

Leaflets were scattered late yesterday by army helicopters over the casbah with an appeal to Algerian Moslems to return to work and put faith in de Gaulle who is determined to win semi-independence for Algeria.

The leaflets were dropped on the teeming Arab quarters during wild demonstrations for Algerian independence.

Although an uneasy calm settled over most of Algeria, riots were touched off in the port of Bone by funerals of Moslems shot down by French security forces during the recent demonstrations. Other groups of Moslems staged small funeral processions without incident.

The French government is moving swiftly to crush the last vestiges of Algerian violence and punish the ringleaders of the riots in advance of the Jan. 8 referendum on the Algerian question.

French Premier Michel Debre was expected to appear before the national assembly in Paris today and read a statement on de Gaulle's plan for an "Algerian Algeria" policy.

Nine Bay Area Counties Due Millions More

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Bay Area's nine counties, now populated by 3,638,852, will have more than four million before 1970, nearly six million by 1980 and nearly seven and one-half millions by 1990, predicts an economic survey by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The survey was published today by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

It noted:

"This area comprises only 4.5 per cent of California's area but accounts for 23 per cent of the population, 31 per cent of the wholesale sales, 54 per cent of the water-borne commerce and 36 per cent of bank debits."

Nepal King Presses Government Shakeup

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — King Mahendra today pressed his purge of politicians in taking over strong-man powers with reports of widespread arrests including right wingers as well as Communists.

The monarch, 39, declared his primitive Himalayan Hindu kingdom, sandwiched between India and Communist-occupied Tibet, would maintain a policy of strict neutrality in world affairs.

Gurkha troops guarded the royal palace and government buildings, including the government radio station.

The capital was outwardly calm. But all Katmandu daily newspapers, except one, suspended publication today to protest the king's coup in arresting popular Premier B. P. Koirala and 10 of his 11 cabinet ministers and suspending the constitution.

The young monarch's blow ending the experiment in parliamentary democracy he launched himself 18 months ago came with such suddenness that both the Nepalese and foreign diplomats were stunned. Nepal has a population of about eight million.

He charged the Koirala government with "failure to maintain law and order" and "harboring undesirable activity"—but did not spell out the charges.

There were reports that Communist leader Pushpalal and Bharat Shamsher of the right-wing Gorka Parishad party had been rounded up along with other leaders of the ruling Nepali Congress Party.

In Washington, U.S. State Department officials said the king's seizure of power appeared to be due to purely domestic issues.

In New Delhi, Nepalese Ambassador S. J. B. Daman told reporters the king was forced to act because of popular discontent against the Koirala government. Daman said there had been popular resentment against taxes and land takeovers imposed by the Koirala government.

Episcopal Diocese Against Book Ban

The Episcopal Diocese of California today aligned itself, through its department of education, against "irresponsible or hasty censorship" of books on Tamalpais Union High School District's recommended reading list.

Rev. Canon Trevoy A. Hoy, director of education for the diocese, which includes some 150 Episcopal churches, wrote the Tamalpais district board expressing concern over attempts by Rev. Michael Barkowska of Calvary Baptist Church and several other clergymen to have "Of Mice and Men" and "Catcher in the Rye" removed from high school library shelves and the reading list.

The Episcopal diocese will have a representative present at the Tam board meeting next Monday night at Redwood High School, Canon Hoy said.

His letter to the board declared:

"A number of our clergy are concerned about the efforts that have been made by a group of ministers in Marin County to criticize the use of certain books in your school. Specifically mentioned have been 'Catcher in the Rye' and 'Of Mice and Men.'

"While we recognize it is the duty of the school administration to assign books which are appropriate to the experience and age level of children and teen-agers, we wish to let you know that the grounds upon which these selections are being attacked are not shared by many Christians.

"In the first place, 'Catcher in the Rye' has been found a most helpful description of our contemporary culture. It may, indeed, have real value in bringing college students and adults to grasp some of the religious issues of the day.

"Moreover, we are not fearful of books which speak unfavorably of the church or depict people using God's name in vain . . ."

The letter expressed hope "that no undue pressure will be brought to bear upon your board that will encourage irresponsible or hasty censorship." It closed with, "trusting you will let us know if there is some further way in which we can support you at any time in preserving our civil liberties."

Rev. D. Murray Hammond, rector of the Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley and dean of the Convocation of Marin, which includes all Episcopal churches in Marin County, said he shares Rev. Hoy's views, and added:

"The principle criteria of that which our high school students read must be a perfection of the writing and the truth that is set forth, not one or more of the 10 Commandments. Indeed, were the criteria of the 10 Commandments applied to such a book as the Holy Bible, there would be very little of the Old Testament left. I trust that the democratic process will not allow the misguided scruples of a few to become the standard of teaching in our public schools."

AS SEASON OPENS

Price Dispute, Weather Hold Up Eureka Crab

The northern California crab season opened yesterday, but bad weather and a last-minute price dispute delayed arrival of "Eureka crabs" which are expected to lower prices in fresh crabmeat in Marin.

First, placement of pots in the water was held up one day by a price dispute. So the pots went in only yesterday, after the season opened, second, it was so rough and windy only a few boats went out.

Reports today were that poor weather still prevailed but boats were out to collect from the pots. How good the catch will prove was still unknown.

With presumably increasing supplies next week from areas north of Point Arena, closed by law until Dec. 15, high Marin prices should come down.

The "boat price" at Eureka is 16 cents a pound, one cent over last year.

U.S. Personal Income Stays Steady

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department reports that, despite a growing work force, personal income—one of the key yardsticks of the nation's prosperity — remained steady in November, neither rising or falling.

Wage and salary payments dropped as manufacturing payrolls shrank for the sixth consecutive month, the department reported yesterday. The over-all personal income total held steady, however, because of an offsetting increase in payment of unemployment insurance.

The November stalemate, the second this year, left personal income at the record yearly rate reached in October of 409.5 billion dollars. But for the first 11 months of the year, it was at an annual rate of 404.1 billion dollars, making it appear doubtful the final 12-month total would reach the 405 billion officially forecast by the department.

With the work force growing by more than one million persons a year, personal income usually rises each month unless there are unfavorable economic developments.

Included in the personal income total are wages, salaries, rents, dividends, interest, government benefit payments and the earnings of proprietors, farmers and professional persons.

The department said manufacturing payrolls fell by 700 million dollars at annual rates last month "as both employment and average hours worked in November declined more than seasonally."

Drunk Driver Gets 15 Days

Claude J. Rich, 34, of 778 Rendon Lane, Novato, drew 15 days in county jail for his first drunken driving offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday. Rich has already served more than 15 days, for which he gets credit. However, he is still being held in jail for Nevada authorities, who want to extradite him on a charge of obtaining property under false pretenses in Carson City.

Rich was caught driving while drunk on Harbor Drive in Black Point on Nev. 11.

New Micro-Eye — A new kind of electric eye is the nerve center of this new Land Camera. It is small as a matchhead, yet almost as sensitive as a human eye. It can even "see" indoors at night.

Works Anywhere — Because of its radical design this new camera works automatically over the widest range of any electric eye camera — from brightest beaches to shadowy interiors.

No Flashbulbs — Indoors at night your room lights are all that is necessary to make the picture, using the ultra-sensitive 3000 speed Polaroid Land film. The Polaroid wink-light fills in the shadows.

Instant Pictures too! — Every picture you make with this camera is ready to be enjoyed on the spot, just moments after you click the shutter. Isn't this the way you want to take pictures? Come in for a free demonstration.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Czechoslovak Cooking Winning Friends Out In Far West Marin

"A repository of many basic values in life—something for the mind, something for the heart, something for the palate . . ."

So wrote Shirley Temple in the guest book of Inverness Lodge after a recent visit with her family to the quaint West Marin hostelry which in spite of all improvements by the Prokupeks during the past five years still retains all those old-world virtues that first attracted this Czechoslovakian family to settle here.

CLUB MAN — Bar manager Ted Huber at the Peacock Golf and Country Club, San Rafael is a liquor dispenser by incidence. His real training has been in club management. Huber is a Petaluma resident but has worked in Marin County for several years.

Guest pages at the lodge are filled with similar sentiments from other visitors who have come here to get away from the touch-and-go pace of the outside world, for this is primarily a place of peace and quiet. Many find the off-season more enjoyable than the summer months for this very reason.

The time between Christmas and New Year's will see the cabins at Inverness Lodge well booked — I understand that many of them have already been reserved. If the thought of a quiet holiday season in Marin but away from home appeals to you, here's the place to go, but I'd advise you to make arrangements now.

Actually there are two faces to the Prokupek's interests in Inverness — the one described above and a captivatingly different one at Drake's Arms in the heart of town. As with Inverness Lodge, it is operated by Milan and Manka Prokupek and their son-in-law and daughter Vladimir and Alena Nevl. Milan Jr. is still too young to get in on the managerial end of the business but he is already showing considerable talent in cooking at the Lodge.

Drake's Arms was designed by Gladys and Adolph Oko with a distinct British pub atmosphere. Another attraction from a dining standpoint is the price range which is less than that at the Lodge and runs under $3.00 for good American fare. This may seem odd—a British pub run by Czechoslovakians serving American food and Danish beer, but it loses nothing because of its international structure.

Personally, I like its solid four-to-one martinis, its hot roast beef sandwiches with German fried potatoes—a bit of cheesecake imported from the Lodge.

Strangely enough, I've talked to many Marin residents who have never found their way out to Inverness — doubly strange because a constant stream of outsiders know and treasure its charm.

NEW CHEF at San Rafael Joe's is Valdo Michetti, an old school chum of Hector Rubini —they both came from Tuscany and went through the Americanization school in San Francisco together. This is Valdo's first appointment in Marin County, however. All should now be harmony in the kitchen, since Hector's partner, Guido Farina, is also a Tuscan.

Hector himself is all wrapped up in promoting his Red Rock Marina project in Richmond on the old ferry pier. Fishing is good, he says, and plans are being drawn for 1,000 berths, ready sometime next year. By next summer, look also for bar and sandwich faciilties here—with a full restaurant to follow later.

San Rafael Joe's will be closed over the Christmas holiday—both Sunday and Monday.

SMALL though it is, Bill Deaver's coffee shop at Fourth and B Streets is a popular drop-in for just about everyone in San Rafael. It's a daytime hang-out—only breakfasts, lunches and mid-day snacks are served here but favor runs high for Bill's special pancakes, ham and eggs and other heartier fare.

You'll rub shoulders (and we mean this literally) with execs, clerks and sporting world characters from most anyplace in or out of the county.

ONE THING about the course at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club—only nine holes are laid out for playing.

This is a boon for duffers like myself and I'd like to suggest my own scoring method—one card for the score you claim to have made, and another for the strokes you didn't count.

Added together, they make a respectable showing for 18 holes and the whole thing only takes about half the time.

Incidentally, Ted Huber, now bar manager of Peacock Gap is known to most Marinites as a mixologist rather than as a club man, though he's more of the latter by training and experience.

It was his study at the University of Washington; he was manager of the Minocqua Country Club, Minocqua, Wis., which once hosted the Eisenhower family, and he has other country club associations to his credit.

Here're Final Figures On Propositions

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's 1.75-billion-dollar water bond issue won by a margin of 163,444 out of nearly six million votes cast in final figures released yesterday by Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

The Senate reapportionment measure, Proposition 15, was defeated by 1,531,905 votes—a margin of nearly two to one.

The final vote on the big water bond issue, Proposition 1, was Yes 3,008,328, No 2,834,384.

The vote on Proposition 15 was Yes 1,876,185, No 3,408,185.

NO GAIN FOR L.A.

The reapportionment measure would have resuffled the 40-member State Senate on a sectional-population basis instead of the present geographical alignment. Los Angeles County would have gotten seven seats.

Proposition 1 is designed to pay for a vast water transportation system to haul surplus Northern California water to the arid south.

The legislature lost on two measures: Proposition 2 to increase assemblymen's terms from two to four years and Proposition 5 to boost all lawmaker's pay from $500 to $750 a month. Both were defeated by margins of close to 3 to 2.

BIG MARGIN

Proposition 6, giving nonprofit golf courses a break on property taxes was approved by a margin of a little better than 3 to 2.

The final count on all 15 ballot propositions:

1. Water bonds: Yes 3,008,328, No 2,834,384.
2. Assembly terms: Yes 2,238,068, No 3,096,438.
3. Veterans exemption: Yes 4,591,464, No 1,107,722.
4. State College Board terms: Yes 3,153,721, No 2,043,962.
5. Legislators pay: Yes 2,213,793, No 3,060,408.
6. Golf courses: Yes 3,459,677, No 2,115,813.
7. Chiropractors: Yes 2,834,810, No 2,197,462.
8. Felons' voting rights: Yes 2,353,761, No 2,901,080.
9. Claims against cities: Yes 3,608,688, No 1,259,663.
10. Judges qualifications: Yes 3,650,118, No 1,258,303.
11. Veterans exemption: Yes 3,661,142, No 1,876,259.
12. Constitution: Yes 3,767,765, No 1,038,794.
13. Appeal courts: Yes 3,138,495, No 1,579,328.
14. Highway funds: Yes 2,065,363, No 3,000,176.
15. Reapportionment: Yes 1,876,185, No 3,408,090.

Hams To Elect

Members of the Tamalpais Amateur Radio Operators Club will elect new officers at a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall on Machin Street in Novato.

LORD OF JUNGLE—This jaguar is a hero of Walt Disney's true-life adventure "Jungle Cat," a color film on wildlife in the Amazon basin of Brazil. The film is showing at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo.

MARIN MOVIE FARE

Film Tells How Men Conquered River

By LES DARD

Herewith the weekend filmfare:

RAFAEL THEATER

In the middle of the 19th Century, a party of Americans under Maj. John Wesley Powell set out to traverse the perilous Colorado River rapids.

It is his story which is told in "Ten Who Dared" (color), which comes to the Rafael screen on Sunday in San Rafael.

Nine men accompanied the one-armed Powell (John Beal), among them William Dunn (Brian Keith), who actually has the meatiest part. The others include a Union army veteran, a youngster and an ex-felon.

Besides the problems posed by the treacherous river, the party faces up to numerous internal conflicts and the usual problems of exploration.

The film was made under Walt Disney auspices and doubtless will appeal to Disney fans.

LARK THEATER

"Carry On, Nurse" is a British comedy which establishes that the male animal cuts a pretty sad figure when bereft of his pants.

A hospital serves as the setting for this romp, which follows the day and night activities of the patients, old and new.

Wilfred Hyde White is the best known name in the cast of this long-running film in Larkspur.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Two features and a featurette designed for family viewing are now on the San Anselmo screen. They're "The Wizard of Baghdad," a new fantasy-adventure so new I haven't even been able to preview it, and a Walt Disney combination:

"Jungle Cat," latest of the True-Life Adventure series, which traces the birth and growth of that most dangerous jungle creatures, the jaguar, and

"The Hound Who Thought He Was a Raccoon," a delightful short.

All three are in color.

MOTOR MOVIES

"The Lost World" (CinemaScope, color), now showing, is a big budget monster movie based on the book by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

The idea is that there's a huge, isolated plateau in the South American jungle, where prehistoric monsters still wander.

Scientist Claude Rains, all done up in a red wig, and accompanied by Jill St. John, Michael Rennie, Richard Haydn and David Hedison, among others, takes a 'copter into this remote area. They find the monsters as well as some they never knew existed, and very inhospitable aborigines.

Estimate: Fantasy, Hollywood-style.

Probation Office Staffer Resigns

Fritz Nitschke, probation officer who has been handling juveniles picked up during weekends, has resigned from his job, Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher disclosed yesterday.

Nitschke, who came to work for the Marin Probation Office on Jan. 1 this year, quit effective Dec. 9. Busher said Nitschke gave no reason for his resignation and did not say where he was going.

Other staff members will be alternately taking over weekend duty on an overtime basis until next month, when Busher hopes to select a successor. He is interviewing applicants now.

STICKY PROBLEM

Machine Can't Lick Ills Of Post Office

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — "The best laid schemes o'mice and men gang aft a-gley," wrote Poet Robert Burns.

And so it goes for the world's first fully-automated post office here.

Ever since the gadget-loaded 20-million-dollar plant was opened at the West River Industrial Park Oct. 20, numerous vexing problems have cropped up.

First, postal officials discovered that the high-speed electronic facer-cancelers were completely baffled by Christmas seals on the face of letter mail. The complicated machinery, apparently bewildered by the presence of more than one stamp on the face of letters, shunted mail into the reject slot, necessitating hand-canceling.

Next came a report that the mail-sorting equipment chewed up between 30 and 40 letters a day. The damage was caused, according to engineers, when letter mail being processed by electronic sorters was not removed quickly enough from sorting bins. The result was that mail backed up and was shoved into conveyor mechanisms. Chains and wheels in the conveyors chewed up letters before they were dropped out or were spotted.

Then followed an announcement that caused several veteran postmen to give the horse laugh to modern design: Old-fashioned manual equipment had been trucked into the mechanized post office to assist the machines in handling the Christmas rush mail. However, officials were quick to explain that the use of manual equipment to help in the holiday crush had been contemplated from the start.

Finally, a Providence newspaper set out to prove that the new post office is not only automated but unprejudiced. It was discovered in test mailings that letters carrying foreign stamps passed through canceling machines, by the eyes of postal clerks, and were delivered. The U.S. Post Office Department ordered an investigation into reported "illegal mailings."

"Of course there are some bugs," said Edward O. Campbell, project manager for Intelex which built the project. "But these are gradually being cleaned up. This is nothing serious. As far as the post office and Intelex is concerned, the new post office is operating perfectly."

Russ Demand Dag Removal From U.N. Congo Command

COMBINED (UPI) & (AP)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—Russia demanded today that Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold be stripped of his authority over the forces of the U.N. command in the Congo.

The announced intention of the United Arab Republic, Guinea, Ceylon, Morocco and Indonesia to withdraw their contingents from the Congo "is tantamount to a vote of no confidence in the secretary-general and the U.N. command," Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin said at the outset of the General Assembly's urgently resumed debate on the Congo situation.

"One must have an inexhaustible fund of optimism to deny the utter collapse of the military and civilian operations of the United Nations in the Congo and the personal activities of the secretary-general . . ."

Attacking Hammarskjold, Zorin asked, "Is it not time to remove the secretary-general from command of the U.N. force and to give the command to those people who will enjoy the confidence of the Congolese people?"

The Soviets returned to the offensive against Hammarskjold as Russia reopened its campaign to restore ousted Premier Patrice Lumumba to power in the Congo.

India and Yugoslavia moved to break the Congo deadlock with a plan that would place Congolese troops under U.N. command and free Patrice Lumumba. The scheme was given little chance of winning support from East or West.

The Indian-Yugoslav proposal closely resembled the peace plan which Ceylon and Tunisia tried to put through the Security Council earlier this week but pulled back when they failed to muster support from either side.

One new feature in the current resolution is the recommendation to place Congolese troops under the United Nations.

The plan would also:

1. Take immediate steps for release of all political prisoners, including Lumumba, deposed Congo premier.

2. Take immediate steps to reconvene the Congo Parliament. The United States has insisted that it is only a rump parliament and that many of the deputies won't come out of hiding because they have been terrorized.

Teacher Pay Request Discussed In Novato

Teachers and trustees of the Novato Unified School District last night continued discussion on the relation of district finances to teacher requested pay hikes.

Trustees noted that it may take some time to increase from the present top district salary of $7,960 to the $9,150 which is the trustee aim. The present low salary of $4,600 would rise to $4,760, trustees have agreed.

The hikes at each end of the pay scale generally conform to requests from the Novato Teachers Assn. But trustees and teachers still must agree on the salary steps between.

The pupil load per teacher is expected to rise next year from the present 31-plus per class in elementary grades to an average 33. In the high school, classes will climb from an average 19 students to 21, Supt. W. J. J. Smith reported.

The rising teacher load follows the recommendation of financial expert Oscar Anderson, who has been advising teachers and trustees.

Negotiation on the teacher salary requests will continue, perhaps at the next scheduled board meeting, Jan. 10. Last night's meeting was a special one limited to salary discussion.

Iron ore is classified into 27 different grades, and often is mixed to produce the right grade.

Catholic High Senior Gets In Speech Finals

Kathy Bodeen, Marin Catholic High School senior, will represent California in national finals of the high school student speech contest sponsored by the American Assn. of Television and Radio Broadcasters.

The 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bodeen of 2 Haael Avenue, San Anselmo, was announced as state winner after judging yesterday in San Francisco. She won the Northern California championship last weekend.

Tape recordings of the speeches were played for the judging.

Kathy will receive a trip to Washington, D. C., where she will compete for a $1,500 scholarship awarded nationally on or about Washington's Birthday, reported Rev. Bernard Cummins, her speech instructor.

The diameter of a contact lens is only slightly larger than the diameter of an aspirin tablet.

Falls are the leading cause of accidental deaths among persons 65 and over.

CHURCH CONCERT—Jules Haywood and his choir will present a Christmas musical concert in the Marin City Community Center for the Village Baptist Church Sunday at 3 p.m., announced Rev. Samuel L. Banks, pastor. Haywood has appeared with the Southern California Symphony Orchestra and with the Conservatory Orchestra in Paris.

Frye Offered New Contract At Lagunitas

Lagunitas School District trustees last night offered a contract for 1961-1962 to Supt. Clifford L. Frye.

Frye has until May 20 to accept or refuse the contract, reported trustee Winifred S. Frederick.

The trustees voted to immediately increase the district's insurance by $49,500 to bring coverage to full replacement value of the school. Insurance Co. by North America handles the district's insurance.

Superintendent Frye told the trustees that 378 students are now enrolled in the district.

Frye also reported that the Marin County Planning Commission had approved the addition of 3.3 acres to the existing school site for the new addition and that the State Bureau of School Planning had given preliminary approval to plans submitted by architects Callister and Rosse of San Francisco.

The board will meet next on Jan. 6 at 8 p.m. in the school.

Marin Woman Wins Car For Fund Slogan

Mrs. Harold E. O'Brien of Larkspur, a former San Francisco school teacher, is winner of an Austin-Healey Sprite automobile for first place in radio KFRC's United Crusade slogan contest.

Although KFRC staged the contest to garner possible slogans for next year's Crusade drive, the 1960 "big give" campaign is still going on.

"We have not made our goal of $11,250,000 and are still accepting contributions," W Parmer Fuller III, Crusade campaign chairman, reminded today.

Mrs. O'Brien, the first prize winner, formerly taught at Lowell and Balboa High Schools. Her husband is still a Balboa High instructor. They live at 909 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur.

Their new, fully equipped automobile was among thousands of dollars worth of prizes donated by business firms to call attention to the Crusade. The first prize auto was donated by British Motor Cars of San Francisco.

KFRC received more than 3,500 entries in the contest, which ran from Nov. 7 to Dec. 4. Because of this response, the station plans to hold Crusade slogan contests every year, said R. E. Nason, KFRC general manager.

Fort Land Offered At Half Its Value

The federal government yesterday offered 291 acres of land at Forts Baker and Cronkhite to the state at half its value.

General Services Administration offered 130 acres at Fort Baker and 161 acres at Fort Cronkhite within the proposed Golden Gate Headlands State Park project to the state. Value was placed at $615,000, price to the state would be $307,500.

The offer was reported by Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera).

GSA's decision to give the state first crack at the purchase of the land that adjoins the city of Sausalito and straddles Highway 101 over and directly south of Waldo tunnel is a victory for the State Division of Beaches and Parks and Miller who have been fighting to save it for recreational purposes since last February.

GSA originally wanted to sell the Baker land to private interests for commercial development.

Miller introduced a bill providing for conveyance of the property to the state under the terms of the Surplus Property Act. The bill was co-sponsored in the Senate by Senators Clair Engle and Thomas H. Kuchel.

GSA next took the position that the state should pay the full market value for the land. A section of the Surplus Property Act permits a state or local public agency to buy surplus federal lands for park and recreation use at 50 per cent of market value.

NEW DIET PILL KILLS APPETITE FOR 12 HOURS

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)— The William S. Merrell Co., a pharmaceutical firm, yesterday introduced a one-a-day diet pill it claims will kill the appetite for 12 hours.

It's called tenuate dospan and is a combination of an appetite suppressant and a new and improved delaying agent, according to Dr. John B. Chewning, a company official.

He said the pill melts gradually through moisture and normal muscle action in the intestines, releasing the hunger-killing drug over a day-long period.

The pill will be available soon by prescription only, Chewning said.

California's food packing and processing industry handles one-third of the U.S. total.

Man Taken From Phone Booth, Jailed

Howard B. Dunlap Jr., 38-year-old transient, was arrested on charges of drunkenness and resisting arrest today after San Rafael police said he tried to fight them off when they dragged him from a public telephone booth in the 800 block of B Street.

Police Officer James Carlton was kicked in the knee. Dunlap was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for cuts.

Officers Carlton and Eugene Frederick said they saw Dunlap lying inside the phone booth at 12:50 a.m. today. When they tried to pull him out, he swung out with his fists and kicked with his feet, they said.

He was jailed in lieu of $577.50 bail, to be arraigned at 1:30 p.m. today.

Master Plan For Marinship Discussed Without Quorum

Lack of a quorum prevented the Sausalito City Council from official action last night on the Marinship Master Plan, but it didn't prevent a public discussion.

Two council members were present: Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. and Councilman Marjorie Brady.

Ten Marinship property owners were present who took strong stands on these allegations:

1. The importance of light industry was minimized in planning consultant Frederick H. Allen's plan.

2. All of the light industry should be placed in a certain area and not be "checkerboarded" with apartments in Marinship's 141 acres.

3. The 32-foot height maximum should be eliminated.

Mayor Ehrlich asked the property owners to keep up a constant effort to put circulation and zoning plans into effect by keeping a "push" on the city planning commission and council.

He suggested it would be helpful if the property owners would provide some kind of explanation of the economic growth and development of the Marinship area and a map showing location of plants.

Cecil Muller of the Hercules Glue Co. said it would be helpful to property owners "if the council would come and see Marinship." Ehrlich at once set a visit for Jan. 7 at 9 a.m., to begin at the industrial center building.

Planning Commissioner Paul Micou asked owners for data to prove that small industry was really "going" in Marinship. This was after E. N. Kettenhofen, owner of the industrial center building, had said, "if I had three industrial center buildings, I could fill all three in six months."

Adolph A. Tiscornia, owner of the Federal Ornamental Iron and Bronze Co., said he receives many offers to buy his property for industrial use.

Alan H. Scurfield said: "Look back five years. In five years time it is amazing the growth that has taken place."

Commented Ehrlich, "to scramble within a key area apartments, a glue factory and a printer—this isn't the way sound planning is done."

Kettenhofen said: "There's a tremendous growth in Marinship . . . and you are indirectly shutting it off by checkerboarding apartments through it."

Scurfield suggested an industrial park and got applause from other property owners.

Drivers Shaken Up In Sideswipe Collision

Two drivers who changed lanes almost simultaneously were shaken up in a sideswipe collision just after midnight on Highway 101 south of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Drivers were John Francis Johnson of 228 Miramar Avenue, San Rafael, and Anatol Vladimir Braschnik of San Francisco, both southbound. Both told the California Highway Patrol they would see their own doctors.

Green Bay Won't Gamble Against Rams' Great Defensive Backfield

HANLEY

With the kind of hard running game Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung provide the Packers, Green Bay is not likely to gamble on passes in the Los Angeles Coliseum tomorrow against a vastly improved Ram air defense.

Even a tie would assure the Packers of the NFL Western Division title, so why take unnecessary risks? Packers Coach Vince Lombardi ordered his team to stay on the ground last Saturday against the 49ers because of the slushy field in Kezar Stadium. He undoubtedly will allow some passes against the Rams, but only enough to keep their defense honest.

In their role of spoilers during the second half of the season, the Rams have been trafficking in grand theft. Virtually all of their 23 pass interceptions this year came in their last seven games. Three were run back for touchdowns; seven others directly led to TDs and two were transformed into field goals. That accounts for one-third of the team's scoring.

IMPROVED DEFENSE

Pass protection is the most improved department in the Ram bag of tricks this fall. Last year, when Los Angeles won only two games, its season total of interceptions was a measly seven for an even more meager 5 yard return total. This year's 23 interceptions were run back for a total of 362 yards.

Jim David, the Rams' rookie defensive backfield coach, is chiefly responsible for the vastly improved records. The Rams' head man, Bob Waterfield, acknowledges this but also attributes it to "a better rush and a better attitude on the part of the whole defensive unit."

David, a former ace Detroit pass defender, believes most interceptions result "from a great individual effort" and not necessarily from a line rush on the passer. Nevertheless, he concedes that a determined rush is most helpful.

LEADING THIEVES

Charlie Britt, a rookie from Georgia, and Eddie Meador, now in his sophomore year as a pro, are the Ram backfield defensive stars. Together they have accounted for almost half of the interceptions.

"Eddie is the best natural defensive man in Ram history," says defensive assistant Don Paul. "It is impossible to go overboard on this guy."

"He's a great team man," says David. "Meador not only is the fastest man on the squad, he makes the all-out effort on every play. Eddie is the best corner man in the league."

The 49ers, Colts and Lions—all pulling for a Ram upset—hope Meador and Britt have their best day of the year tomorrow against the Packers.

If he plays the percentage, Lombardi will deny them that opportunity.

Big Trade Gives Braves 'Best Infield'

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves today advertised the "best infield in baseball" following their second major trade within 10 days in which they obtained slick-fielding shortstop Roy McMillan from the Cincinnati Reds in a three-team deal.

To get McMillan, the National League's top defensive shortstop of the past few seasons, the Braves let loose pitchers Joey Jay and Juan Pizarro, who promised much and never delivered.

The Reds then shuffled Pizarro and Cal McLish to the Chicago White Sox for third baseman Gene Freese. The Braves also got a minor league player from Cincinnati, to be named later.

Everyone seemed happy, particularly Milwaukee, which is in its briskest trading mood since moving here from Boston in 1953. A week ago Monday in St. Louis the Braves gave up four players, including outfielder Billy Bruton, for second baseman Frank Bolling of the Detroit Tigers.

This gives them an infield of Joe Adcock at first, Bolling and McMillan and Eddie Mathews at third.

"We didn't feel we could win a pennant without a better shortstop," said a jubilant John McHale, general manager of the Braves. This meant the shelving of Johnny Logan after nine seasons for use as a utility infielder or as bait in negotiations for a relief pitcher.

Logan, 33, had his worst season in the field and at bat last season, and had been on the block for some time.

Vice President Bill DeWitt of the Reds said in Cincinnati "we hated to part with McMillan," but the club felt it had to because "we needed more hitting and feel Freese can furnish it."

Freese, who previously played with the Pirates and Phillies, batted .273 with the White Sox last season, hitting 17 homers and driving in 79 runs in 127 games, after an early season slump.

White Sox President Bill Veeck said the multiple trade gives Chicago a "tremendous" boost in the 1961 pennant race.

"We led the league in hitting," Veeck said, "but finished third in pitching. So we went after pitching." He said J. H. Martin "can do the job" at third in hitting and fielding.

McMillan, 30, is known as a scrapper who fields better than he hits. He topped National League shortstops in fielding in 1957 and 1958. Hobbled by injuries in 1959, he came back to bat only .236 last year. His high mark was .272 in 1957.

NFL SHOWDOWN

Packers Vs. Rams On TV Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Coach Bob Waterfield hoped today to be able to patch up his injury-ridden squad to present a strong defense to the Green Bay Packers tomorrow in a game which means practically nothing to the Rams but everything to the division-leading Packers.

The game will be nationally-televised by CBS at 1:30 p.m.

With a victory, the Packers (7-4) will have a clear title to first place in the Western Conference of the National Football League and a championship playoff with the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Rams (4-6-1) upset the Baltimore Colts 10-3 last Sunday mainly with a great defensive effort, but they had half a dozen men racked up.

Defense may be the key to victory or defeat in tomorrow's game since the Packers have two of the top running backs in the NFL. Left halfback Paul Hornung, the leading point-maker, and fullback Jim Taylor, are among the league's top six ground-gainers.

INJURED RAMS

Injured Rams who, though ailing, may play include: Fullback Joe Marconi, defensive tackle John Baker, linebacker Jack Pardee and Gene Brito, defensive end. Lou Michaels, who can fill in at defensive end or tackle, also has a bad foot.

Definitely out of the Packer game are: Offensive end Del Shofner, quarterback Frank Ryan, and tackle John Kenerson.

The Rams will still have their new defensive secondary entry—Ollie Matson, who was a star in the Colt upset. Matson, supplanted at fullback by Marconi, had not played defensive in eight years, but he seemed to like it. He may go both ways if Marconi is idle. The Rams also have hard-running Tom Wilson to use as a fullback.

Coach Waterfield, eyeing the Packer roster, obviously expected the Packers to concentrate on their strong running game.

Injured Colts May Cook Up Surprises For 49ers Sunday

Johnny Unitas, the finest quarterback in professional football, gets a chance to show what he can do with his top receivers ailing Sunday.

Coach Weeb Eubank won't say whether Raymond Berry, Jim Mutscheller and Jerry Richardson will be ready to play against the San Francisco 49ers.

But 49er Coach Red Hickey figures they'll be in uniform and in action along with Lennie Moore, the Colt halfback who sprints downfield for the long touchdown passes.

COLTS FAVORED

Even though the Colts are beset with injuries and have lost their last three games, the world champions are 5½ point favorites over the host 49ers.

Eubanks looks mysterious when he's asked whether the Colts are cooking up something special for the 49ers.

"I expect we'll have a surprise or two," the chunky coach says.

Hickey and the 49ers are working on a surprise or two of their own. And the 49ers have their injury list finally clear.

One potential weapon the 49ers haven't utilized this year is Ray Norton, rookie speedster from San Jose State.

The Olympic sprinter has appeared in less than half a dozen plays all year.

With the Colts' defense realigned because of injuries, Hickey might look for the spot to gamble on Norton.

If Green Bay beats or ties the Rams in Los Angeles Saturday, Sunday's game here will be for second place money. If the Rams win, then the game here will be for the right to meet the Packers in a playoff for the National Football League's Western Division championship.

But either way, there's no next week for the loser.

OLYMPICS CHAMPION

Bill Nieder Retires Due To Knee Injury

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shot putter Bill Nieder, the world record holder and Olympic champion, must retire from the sport because of an ailing knee.

Nieder said yesterday that doctors at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he is stationed as an Army lieutenant, told him continuation of shot putting might result in a permanently stiff right knee.

The 6-3¾ athlete suffered his knee injury originally in 1954 while playing football at the University of Kansas. He reinjured it last spring while shot putting.

Army doctors diagnosed the ailment as a form of arthritis.

Nieder said "I figure I've accomplished everything I can in amateur sports in being the record holder and Olympic Games champion. I always felt that if I could hold the world record for just one day my dreams would come true."

Nieder said he has been talking with movie producer Pierre DeBeaumont about the possible part of Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight boxing champion, in a planned motion picture.

Nieder's knee was in a heavy brace when he threw 64 feet 6¾ inches on his fifth round toss to beat arch rival Parry O'Brien and set an Olympic record.

Prep Hoopsters Play At Tam, Drake Tonight

Four Marin County Athletic League basketball teams go to the post today and tonight after three local schools suffered setbacks yesterday at the hands of non-Marin opponents.

In afternoon action today Marin Catholic traveled to San Carlos High School and Novato invaded Sonoma High. Local fans have a pair of cage programs to choose from tonight as Tamalpais hosts Montgomery of Santa Rosa and Drake's Pirates entertain Vallejo in San Anselmo. The Tam program starts at 6 o'clock with a Class B preliminary followed at 7:30 by the varsity engagement. At Drake, the Bs start at 7 and the varsities at 8:30.

Meanwhile, the College of Marin Tars trekked to Redding today where they will open the Golden Valley Conference Tournament tonight. The tourney continues tomorrow.

In yesterday's high school action Marin Catholic was clouted by Emeryville 43-25, Galileo of San Francisco downed Redwood 44-29 and Lowell edged San Rafael 46-42.

Marin Catholic Coach Bernie Schnieder experimented yesterday and discovered his reserves need more work. With the second string playing the entire first half, Marin fell behind 27-10. The first team took over in the third stanza and closed the gap to 34-25, but early deficit was too much to overhaul. Jim Soden and Ed O'Connell each scored seven points for Marin.

Emeryville also won the Class B game 40-38 in spite of Ron O'Connell's great 25-point performance for Marin.

One of the bright spots in the otherwise dismal game for Redwood was the performance of Mike Kavanaugh, 6-foot-4 center who is "starting to come into his own," according to Coach Dick Hart.

Big Mike tallied 13 points and snared seven rebounds to show he will help the Giants in the league compaign next month.

Galileo nipped Redwood in the lightweight duel, 40-39. Joe Weiss and Grant Stephenson each tallied 10 for Redwood.

Rich Robertson with 13 points was San Rafael's top scorer in its loss to Lowell. Chris Yaeger and Rich Curry each added 9 to the Bulldog total.

Lowell also won the B game 43-36.

CONTEST ON TELEVISION

Mighty Mite Jones Leads Oregon In Liberty Bowl

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—You've heard about the youngster who does everything for his team but carry the water bucket. The Oregon Webfoots have such a lad on their football team.

The situation is sometimes confused since this Jack-of-all-phases of football offense looks more like the water boy than the water boy himself.

Cleveland Jones is his name. He's 143 pounds dripping wet, and stands 5 feet, 3 inches tall. Oregon Coach Len Casanova refers to him as the "biggest little man in football."

Asst. Coach Jack Roche comments that you have to see Jones to believe it. Roche, without the trace of a smile or hint he is joking, says the pros would do well to look twice at the small halfback.

Listing just a few of his accomplishments in helping the Webfoots to a 7-2-1 record and a spot in tomorrow's nationally-televised (NBC) Liberty Bowl game against Penn State at Philadelphia Stadium disclose the following:

1. He led the team in scoring with 5 touchdowns, a pair of two point conversions and 12 for 20 placement conversions for a total of 46 points.

2. He was tops in punt returns with an average of 8.7 yards.

3. He was the No. 1 kickoff returner with 12 for 241 yards, an average of 20.1.

4. He led the pass receivers, 25 caught for 402 yards and 4 touchdowns.

5. He was second in rushing, 80 carries for 539 yards, an average of 6.4.

6. He completed 3 of 7 passes for 33 yards and 2 touchdowns.

Jones says he isn't bothered by his size, no inferiority complex. He hopes the pros won't be bothered by it either. He'd like an opportunity to play for pay.

"I hope they remember another little fellow by the name of Buddy Young when they hold that pro draft and start 'weighing' whether I'm worth a chance," says the diminutive halfback. "I'm asking only what I've had to ask all my athletic life, a chance."

Casanova is hopeful he'll get big things from his small package against favored State Saturday.

Eagles To Scout Packers Vs. L.A.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles, Eastern Conference champions in the National Football League, have sent Asst. Coach Charlie Gauer to Los Angeles to scout Green Bay against the Rams tomorrow.

Green Bay needs only a victory or a tie to win the Western Conference and the right to play the Eagles Dec. 26 for the NFL title.

If the Packers lose, Gauer will go to San Francisco Sunday to watch the 49ers and Baltimore Colts battle. A Packer loss would throw the Western Conference into a tie and give San Francisco, Baltimore and Detroit a chance at the division title. This would mean playoffs and moving the title game ahead to another date.

Aussies Needling U.S. Tennis Stars

SYDNEY (AP) — The U. S. Davis Cup team is still getting a ribbing in Australian newspapers for its recent racket-tossing antics.

The editorial page cartoon in the Sydney Mirror today showed a bespectacled American captain debarking at the airport with four individuals holding smashed rackets.

"Meet our 1961 team," the captain is telling a newsman. "Chuck, Hurl, Fling and Pelt."

Rose Bowl-Bound Gophers Arrive In L.A. Tomorrow

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—National champion Minnesota, 100 per cent fit and brimming with eagerness, flies to California tomorrow for its Jan. 2 Rose Bowl battle with Washington.

The Gophers are wreathed in post-season honors, the reward for one of college football's most eventful comebacks ever.

A Rose Bowl defeat could ruin it all, but the Gophers are willing to let their reputation and their right to the national crown ride on the outcome of their maiden bowl appearance.

Minutes before they leave the Gophers will accept the award they said means the ultimate for them, The Associated Press trophy symbolizing their No. 1 rank in the annual poll.

"Aside from Tom Robbins, who might do some punting for us, we're in top shape," said Coach Murray Warmath. "We couldn't ask for better squad condition."

Robbins was waylaid by a knee injury in his first play of the opening game and thus has to be figured as a net gain for the Gophers Jan. 2 if he plays at all.

The AP trophy will be presented to Warmath by George Moses, AP chief of bureau in Minneapolis.

Minnesota Guard Brown Named MVP

CHICAGO (AP) — All-America guard Tom Brown of Rose Bowl-bound Minnesota has been named the Big 10's most valuable football player of the 1960 season.

Brown, a 243-pounder who won the Football Writers of America award as the season's outstanding tackle or guard, dominated the "most valuable" poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune.

Ray's Wife Files Separation Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—Former boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson, 40, who was reconciled with his wife last spring after a six-months estrangement, has been named defendant in a separation suit.

Notice of the suit was filed yesterday in State Supreme Court by the attorney for Robinson's wife, Edna Mae. She seeks $500 weekly temporary alimony plus $5,000 counsel fees.

Explanation of the charges will be filed at a later date.

The Robinsons were married in 1943. The Negro fighter has held both the middleweight and welterweight boxing crowns.

Chisox Set Record For Advance Ticket Sales

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have passed the $2 million mark in advance ticket sales—a new high for the club for this time of the year. Total advance sales by opening day last season was $1.3 million.

Dick Bass' Wife Sues For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of Dick Bass, rookie halfback of the Los Angeles Rams, is seeking a divorce.

Mrs. Nina J. Bass charged cruelty in a suit filed yesterday and asked for custody of the couple's one-year-old son, Ricki.

Bass, 23, formerly starred in football at College of the Pacific. Mrs. Bass' suit said they wed in October of 1958 and separated last Dec. 1.

PRO, COLLEGE CONTESTS ON TV TOMORROW

Football dominates the spotlight for Bay Area television fans tomorrow with the Liberty Bowl game and the National Football League's Green Bay Packers-Los Angeles Rams getting the national video treatment.

The Liberty Bowl, featuring University of Oregon against Penn State, will be televised from Philadelphia by NBC (Channel 4) at 9:45 a.m. and the Green Bay-Los Angeles game will be shown by CBS (Channel 5) at 1:30 p.m. from Los Angeles.

Other sports features on TV tomorrow are the fight of the week between welterweights Luis Rodriguez and Emile Griffith (ABC, Channel 7, 7 p.m.) and the USF-Stanford basketball game (KTVU, Channel 2, 8 p.m.).

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

It Cost Challanger $900 To Fight For Title—And Take A Beating

When former lightweight champion Ike Williams told Senate investigators the other day that his manager took every cent of his purses for two fights, it recalled a conversation we had with Rocky Castellani six and a half years ago.

Rocky, staying in San Rafael, had just lost his challenge for Bobo Olson's world middleweight title at the Cow Palace and the subject of finances came up.

One listener, Mrs. Carmel Booth, then of San Anselmo, asked Rocky how much his share of the title fight gate would be. He smiled rather weakly, "Nothing, not a red cent," he replied.

Mrs. Booth and other listeners were further startled when Rocky continued, "In fact, Mrs. Booth, I'm in debt $900 from the fight."

BILLY THOMAS

He then elaborated: "You see, my contract with my manager (Alvin Naiman) is a 50-50 proposition. He takes half of everything I make. Well, Al guaranteed Olson $125,000 for this fight in exchange for 60 per cent of the gate and television receipts, which we would split—half for Al, half for me." The 60 per cent share Naiman and Rocky were to split amounted to $123,200. However, subtracted from Olson's guarantee, it left a debt of $1,800. Naiman was to pay half, and Rocky, who had fought 15 round and trained months, was to pay the other half.

And your boy wants to grow up to be a fighter?

AND SPEAKING of such things, little Billy Thomas, former Tam High athlete, is a good little featherweight fighter. Monday night, in fact, he belabored the bejabbers out of Sacramento's Georgie Page in Kezar Pavilion and ring experts say some day he just may be among the top feathers in the world.

Getting there, however, is a tough road. Little Billy does gruelling roadwork every morning, then hustles off to work as an odd-jobs man at a San Rafael auto firm, and after work goes to San Francisco to do gym work. This adds up to a long, long day and not much pay.

Monday night's card drew a gate of $1,353. With all expenses, pay for all the fighters, etc., there's not much left, even for a main-eventer like Billy Thomas.

After he gives his manager the usual one-third cut, Billy must wonder if all the work and the belts on the whiskers are really worth it.

However, he keept going on his dreams of world recognition and I hope the 25-year-old Marinite makes it. He's a devoted father (two children) and a hard worker.

THE NEW YORK Yankees, who have more money than they know what to do with, picked up a cool $55,000 profit the other day in the player pool when they sold Dale Long for the pool price of $75,000. Long is the man the Yanks had bought from the San Francisco Giants for the waiver price of $20,000.

INCIDENTALLY, someone expressed surprise that the Yankees' Joe DeMaestri wasn't drafted by either of the new American League clubs.

It wasn't possible, because the Yankees listed Joe as an "untouchable" under the terms he dictated. Joe told the Yanks he'd retire if they tried to trade or sell him.

And, since Gil McDougald has retired, DeMaestri's presence on the N.Y. squad as utility infielder is more and more valuable.

TELEVIEWERS of tomorrow's Liberty Bowl game between Oregon and Penn State should pay special attention when the name Ron Snidow is mentioned. Snidow, an Oregon tackle, is a former San Rafael High star.

REDWOOD HIGH'S varsity basketball squad, including coaches, managers and 16 players, will be treated to tonight's USF-Cal basketball game, compliments of the school's Benchwarmers Club. The evening will be finished off with a fish feast at Spenger's in Berkeley after the game.

CONTENTED FISHERMAN

FALSE CAPE, Va. (UPI)—Several years ago when fish started leaving the Chesapeake Bay area for the winter, John Hoke followed them south along the beach — and has never come back. Today, he and three companions live in a beach fishing camp near the Virginia-North Carolina line.

Hoke is a graduate of the University of Virginia, was a football letterman, a Naval officer and a B-17 pilot in World War II.

PERSISTENT FISH

GUNNISON, Colo. (AP)—Loyal Frizzell hooked a scrapping rainbow trout. The fish took his bait, leader and part of the line.

Frizzell tried his luck again the next day at the same place. He hooked and landed the same trout and retrieved his original gear.

Dons Threaten Cal Victory Skein Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

California lays a 25-game home winning streak on the line tonight against surprising sophomores of USF.

It will be the last home game in three weeks for California and isn't being taken lightly. Until Wednesday night the Dons were not considered a threat. Then USF outplayed highly rated Providence College but lost in overtime.

Last night Santa Barbara smothered Westmont College 88-56 to win the Winter Classic Basketball Tournament. College of the Pacific captured third place in the Santa Barbara tournament, downing Chapman College 61-56.

Big Tom Meschery's 31 points led St. Mary's to a 79-69 triumph over Evansville in Indiana, San Francisco State rallied in the second half and whipped Valparaiso 78-70, and Xavier of Cincinnati beat Loyola of Los Angeles 75-62.

ROAD GAMES

Most of northern California's major cage quintets play road games tonight.

San Jose State is at Utah, Santa Clara faces host Portland, Ore., in the Tournament of Roses, San Francisco State takes on Washington University at St. Louis, Mo., the Cal Aggies host U.C. Riverside, and Humboldt State goes against Willamette in Salem, Ore.

In a double-header at Los Angeles, Butler plays Southern California and Notre Dame meets UCLA.

Meschery's performance for St. Mary's was his best of the season. The 6-foot-6 senior hit 8 of 12 field goals and seven of eight free throws. It was the Gaels' fifth win in six starts.

Pacing San Francisco State to its first victory in five games were Richie Williams with 29 points and Jim Caranica with 20.

Maris Wins A.L. Slugging Title

BOSTON (AP)—New York's Roger Maris beat out teammate Mickey Mantle for the American League's 1960 slugging championship, official league statistics show.

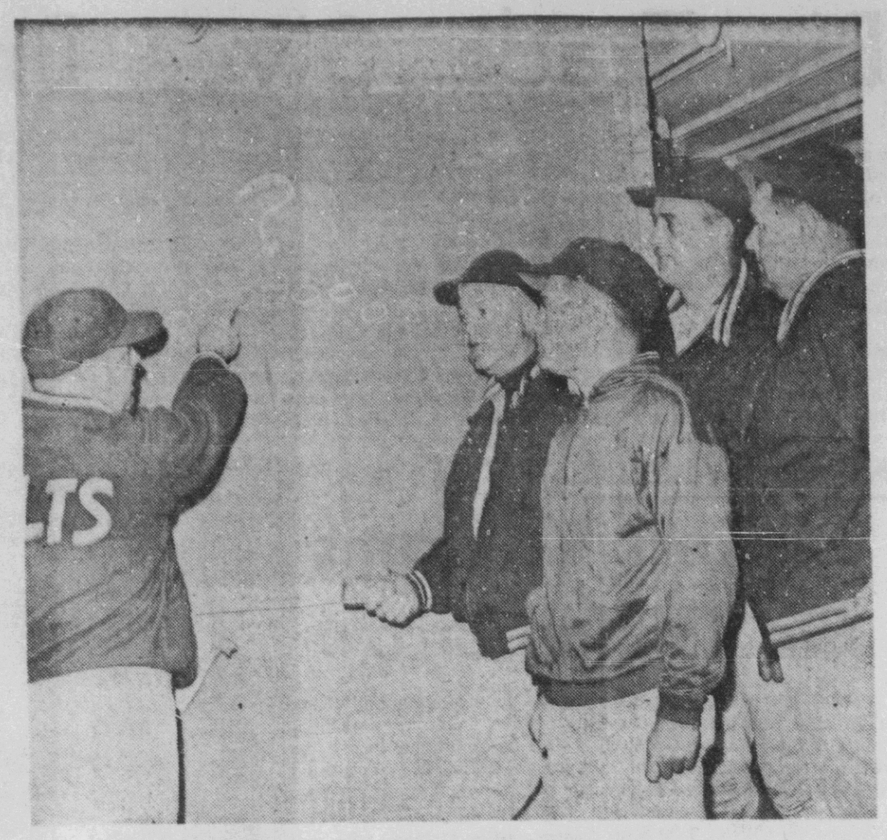
The records, released today, give Maris a .581 slugging percentage and his first title in that department. He had 290 total bases on 77 singles, 18 doubles, seven triples and 39 homers.

Slugging percentage is figured by dividing times at bat into total bases.

Mantle had a .558 slugging mark. Chicago's Roy Sievers and Harmon Killebrew of Washington tied for third with .534.

TATUM AT TACKLE

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Jimmy Tatum, 14, is picking up where his dad, the late Jim Tatum, left off. The son of the former football coach is a tackle on the Chapel Hill Junior High School football team. Tackle was his dad's position.



COLTS PREPARE FOR 'SHOTGUN'

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Charges that Olympic Winter Games officials spent more than authorized by law on the 10-day event are based on "technicalities," says the state's No. 2 finance officer.

T. H. Mugford, deputy finance director, made the comment yesterday after a state auditor said $401,000 too much was spent from a $1 million emergency fund appropriated by the legislature for the games this year.

Mugford's department transferred the entire fund to the Olympic Organizing Committee. But after the games it was found that according to its budget the committee should have spent only $600,000 of it.

"This is very much a technicality," Mugford said. "The fund was to supplement the committee's budget if revenues didn't come up to estimates, and they didn't.

"We didn't make a final allocation, we advanced the money on a loan basis; it's to be repaid."

H. D. Thoreau, former executive director of the organizing committee, said not only that the fund probably will be repaid, but that the games may even show a profit.

The state allocated a total $8.9 million of the $20 million spent to stage the games this February in Squaw Valley, where Thoreau said the state got an $11 million state park for its $8.9 million investment.

The Yankees hit successive home runs 13 times last season. In six of the games, Roger Maris was involved with a four bagger.

Raiders Fight To Escape AFL Cellar

Oakland's Raiders, the final team formed in the new American Football League, adopted the slogan "don't be last" and they'll be fighting tomorrow for just that.

In the season finale at San Francisco's Candlestick Park with a 1:30 p.m. kickoff, the Raiders tackle the Denver Broncos with a victory needed to keep Oakland out of the Western Division cellar.

Denver resides there now with a 4-8-1 record while the Raiders are 5-8.

When they met in Denver, the Broncos took a decisive 31-14 victory, but have slumped since. Still they have quarterback Frank Tripucka, the league's No. 2 passer.

Oakland met No. 1 two weeks ago when Jack Kemp passed the Los Angeles Chargers to victory at Candlestick and No. 3, Al Dorow of New York, proved the big gun last Sunday as the Titans grabbed a 31-28 thriller.

RAIDERS HEALTHY

Coach Eddie Erdelatz has all his Raiders hands available for the wrapup. Defensive end Charley Powell and flanker back Alan Goldstein both were ailing earlier, but should be ready to face the Broncos.

Again the quarterback choice goes to Tom Flores who threw three touchdown strikes Sunday.

Flores has completed 177 passes for 1,593 yards while Tripucka, the ex-Notre Dame star, has hit 234 of 449 for 2,905.

Denver also boasts the league's top scorer in Gene Mingo who has tallied 119 points on 6 touchdowns, 32 conversions and 17 field goals.

English Booters To Strike Jan. 14

LONDON (AP) — Representatives of the Professional Footballers' Assn.—the players' union—have voted overwhelmingly to strike Jan. 14 unless they get more pay and better contracts.

The delegates, representing 2,700 English soccer players, voted 690-18 to strike. The players are asking a guaranteed minimum wage of $42 a week and abolition of the maximum wage of $56 a week among other things.

The current minimum is $22.40 a week which the club officials have offered to increase without being specific.

DARK LIKES SOUTHPAWS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don't be surprised if Manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants places himself on the playing roster next season. After looking at his batting marks he may decide to pinch hit against southpaws. With Milwaukee last season, Alvin batted .375 against southpaws. He hit only .247 against right-handers.

Panel Truck with double doors on both sides

Can your truck pass this test?

The real test of a truck is not how much it can carry, but how little—and still show a profit.

The curious thing about Volkswagen Trucks is that they not only make large loads practical, they make small loads profitable.

A VW does its job at half the cost of standard half-tons. Half the gas, half the oil, half the tire wear. Even the smallest delivery makes sense. Yet it delivers 830 pounds more than your present half-ton.

If you wouldn't mind paying less for more payload, let's talk.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Cries, Moans Among Duck Hunters; Flounders Perk Up Bay Activities

STEVENS

There was weeping and wailing and the gnashing of teeth on the part of many nimrods who hunted the Grizzly co-op for ducks. But there were broad grins on the faces of others who were content to get a half to two-thirds the legal limit.

Among the grinners were the William Cuneos, Sr. and Jr., according to Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia Slough. Sunday the Cuneos picked up six nice fat pintails (sprigs to most of us) along with some fast flying bluebills.

Anent the piscatorial activity out of Joe's Launching, it seems the cold weather has dampened the ambition of many skiff-fishing Marinites. Only four boats launched at Santa Venetia Slough on Sunday, but those four boats must have had a ball. Mainly because the occupants of the four skiffs had the savvy to try for flounders along with bass. Nerviani informed me that only 10 bass (nice fresh run stripers in the five pound class) came in but he counted 52 exceptionally nice large flounders.

WE CONGRATULATE Clyde Bickle and friend for the four bass and 25 flounders; William Dahl and friend for four bass and 16 flounders; Charles Rose for his two bass and six flounders and Wilbert Moungovan and wife for their six fine fat flounders.

Reports have it that there are plenty of bass around that area, but they take some skill in catching. "They barely touch the bait and then go bye bye," said one of the less successful anglers. I know what he means. When stripers, especially fresh runners, hit very lightly, it's quite a chore to set the hook quick enough. But it can be done. I suggest the use of very small hooks and rather small pieces of bait. Try it next trip out.

THE OVER-ALL picture of back country fishing for stripers is not exactly encouraging. Could be only a lull before the storm, but about the best that can be said of the area above Antioch—Big Break, Frank's Tract, Sherman Island Lake and the Flats of the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers—is that it has been spotty for the past three days. One day the action is from fair to good and the following day is a washout.

Not so in the local waters. On the Contra Costa side of the bay the action has been surprisingly good. Carl Bennet of the Rodeo Marina called me to report Saturday's fishing good and Sunday's fishing better. Actually the break came on last Thursday and fishing improved steadily until Tuesday night. For example, the party boat Sunfish, with Skipper Patton at the helm, netted 14 limits of bass by 2 p.m. and most of those fish were caught in a driving rain. The Kathie M docked with eight limits from 6 to 8 pounds and (on Saturday) the Two Dores, a half day boat, brought in 10 limits by 11 a.m. Practically no skiffs could take the inclement weather conditions on Saturday, but some got out on Sunday and most of them limited out. Oddly, no flounders were reported. I wonder if they have all come over to the Marin side?

LARGEST FISH we heard about from the Crockett-Rodeo region was taken from the bank—an 18 pound beauty on bullhead bait. The catcher was Ted Voges.

My barometer is dropping a little. May presage rain, but if it is wrong expect some good weekend fishing.

Final Drag Races At Cotati Sunday; Stoke To Compete

The final drag race event of the year is scheduled at the Cotati dragstrip Sunday.

On hand for the event will be the team of Allred-Belknap-Capuro-Noren with Noren to be at the wheel of the team's super-charged 160-m.p.h. Class "B" De Soto dragster. Also competing for awards will be San Rafael's Fred Stoke and his super-charged Chevrolet dragster.

Awards will be made in all classes according to directors and a large turnout of competitors from the Bay Area is expected.

Time trials start at 8:30, eliminations begin at 1 p.m. at Cotati's strip. Pit privileges are available to the general public. Admission is $1 with children under 12 free.

Dodgers May Sell McDevitt, Lillis Before Midnight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers may sell southpaw pitcher Danny McDevitt and shortstop Bob Lillis.

Dodger Manager Buzzie Bavasi says several clubs are seeking both players. The Yankees, Athletics and Senators want McDevitt, a 27-year-old pitcher with worlds of stuff, Bavasi said, and Detroit and Cleveland want Lillis, who isn't the Dodger regular shortstop solely because Maury Wills developed quickly into a star.

"I don't have any trades in mind, but I may sell McDevitt before the deadline at midnight," said Bavasi today. Bavasi said he isn't going to sell to the Los Angeles Angels and he scoffed at a report that the Dodgers might peddle Lillis and third baseman Jim Gilliam to the Angels for Bob Cerv.

Honolulu's PCL Franchise Awarded To Salt Lake Men

HONOLULU (AP)—Nick Morgan Jr., president of the Salt Lake City club in the Pacific Coast League, and Walter E. Cosgriff, Salt Lake City banker, have been awarded the Honolulu franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

Dewey Soriano, PCL president, confirmed a report today that the two men, officers in the Salt Lake City Bees, had won the franchise.

Cosgriff, a well known Utah philanthropist and treasurer of the Salt Lake City club, was unable to appear at yesterday's meeting of PCL officers and directors in Honolulu. Morgan was his representative.

Soriano said the proposed move to Honolulu hinged on the availability of Honolulu Stadium.

Soriano said he expected an announcement later today after PCL directors meet with a committee from the Hawaii State Senate regarding the stadium, which is owned principally by the University of Hawaii.

JAPANESE-MODERN SHANGRI-LA — Construction is starting at 25 Westwood Drive, San Rafael, on this $130,000 home, Japanese in basic concept and landscaping but with a multitude of modern architectural features. Its name will be Shangri-La. Identity of its occupant-to-be is not yet revealed. Title is held by a Chicago corporation.

FOR 'PROMINENT PERSON'

$130,000 'Japanese' Home For San Rafael

"Japanese modern" architecture will be combined with an exceptional landscape arrangement of trees, shrubbery, waterfalls and reflecting pools in a $130,000 home on which construction is starting at 25 Westwood Drive, San Rafael.

Ownership is initially held by Shoji Corp. of Chicago. But Robert Barsocchini of San Mateo, representative of Shoji Corp., said the home is being built for "a person of prominence who has asked that his identity not be revealed as yet."

Despite the name of the corporation, neither it nor anyone concerned is Japanese. Robert Barsocchini and his brother, Frank A. Barsocchini of Kentfield, formerly worked together in equipping Marin homes with coin-operated laundry installations.

E. J. Dorsey of San Rafael is general contractor. Designer was William Klein of Chicago, and architects, Samuelson and Sandquist of Chicago. Barsocchini said Shoji Corp. is soon to start construction of luxury apartments—wholly non-Oriental in character—on the Mills Estate in Burlingame.

The San Rafael house, called "Shangri La," is being built on three sloping lots. The lots already are wooded. Other trees, including some stunted varieties especially adapted to a Japanese garden, will be added.

"There will be nothing stereotyped about this house," says Barsocchini. "It will be of open free-flow type and employ much glass, driftwood stone forming both inside and outside walls, and exposed beams to provide a pollinization of eastern and western culture."

Living space will total 4,850 square feet but it is impossible to state the uses in conventional terms because much of the house, notably its large living-room, can be divided into temporary rooms by sliding walls put into use according to need. The building permit is for 14 rooms.

There will be a large master bedroom, guest room, and other customary provisions, along with a Japanese type "meditation room." The living-room has a "sitting well"—a sunken space into which access is gained by steps. Divans run around its interior facing a fireplace with weathered copper overhead hood.

All parts of the home will look out on cantilevered decks where one may stroll or take the sun.

A strikingly styled roof of "butterfly" type soars to 35-foot peaks at each end. Whereas most of the house will be single story, these high points will enclose upstairs "dens." There will be skylights and the whole roof area over the kitchen will be glassed.

Lighting will be low-voltage throughout the house and each light will have a control by which the amount of light can be varied. Special outdoor lighting will bring out special points of the largely Japanese gardening.

A main pool for swimming will be irregular in shape to seem like a Japanese mountain lake, dimensions mostly averaging 16 by 38 feet.

There will be five reflecting pools of various sizes and shapes. Water will come from under the house, and descend over rocks in a waterfall.

The whole house will be placed on a great concrete base but its wooden flooring will be three inches over the cement. Heating will be mostly forced air. Radiant heat will be used on a pool terrace.

The butterfly roof design will be repeated in a small structure for dressing for the pool. But the pool can also be entered directly from the house, by sliding doors, which are repeated around the house in such a way that entrance may be gained at almost any point.

A sloping drive will lead up to a garage space of 960 square feet, providing carport space for five automobiles.

Beside the drive will be terraced rock slabs. In time of rain, runoff from the house will be directed along this course to provide a series of temporary waterfalls.

Santa Arriving In Novato Soon

Santa will arrive on a red fire engine at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at Novato's main fire station.

Chile Student Joins Drake High School

A new American Field Service exchange student, Ricardo Szekely of Santiago, Chile, joined the Sir Francis Drake High School student body this week.

Seventeen-year-old Ricardo lives with Dr. and Mrs. Edward Boero and their three sons, Gary, 21; Roger, 20, and Mark, 16, at 707 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow. Mark is a Drake junior.

Ricardo's schedule includes United States history, English, physical education, physics, chemistry and physiology. After a tour of the United States next summer with other AFS foreign students, he plans to return to Chile to study medicine at the University of Chile at Santiago.

This is his first trip to the United States, although he has visited South American countries.

Ricardo attended the American Country Day School in Santiago until this year. He says his classes were very small; in fact, he was the only graduate last spring. Classes are conducted in both Spanish and English by American and Chilean instructors.

Although his main interests are academic, Ricardo is looking forward to attending Drake's games and dances. He thinks Drake is "a wonderful place."

Vandals Clip Horse Tail, Mane

Vandals clipped the long hair of the mane and tail off an Arabian mare in Novato, the owner complained to the sheriff.

Mrs. Lorraine C. Dowdy of 896 Sutro Avenue said her son had fed the horses Wednesday night. At that time, he noticed the mare had a shorter tail but thought someone had tied the tail.

Wednesday morning when Mrs. Dowdy went to feed the horses, she found both the tail and mane of the mare had been cut short.

Glamorous Gowns, Furs At Benefit Show

Glamorous gowns of miracle fabrics and luxurious furs were in the parade of fashions presented on Wednesday by Marin Chapter of the National Foundation (the new march of dimes). The models appeared on the runway first in evening gowns and returned later to show the furs. Mrs. William Deeths drew heavy applause when she modeled a breath of spring cerulean mink stole.

Priced at $2,655 was the stewart autumn haze mink trotter donned by Mrs. George Coburn. Styles ranged from stoles and scarfs to full length coats but the shorter styles predominated. A four row Norwegian blue fox cape was greatly admired as was a stewart autumn haze mink coat.

In addition to Mrs. Coburn and Mrs. Deeths treading the runway were Mesdames William Donohoe, Richards Evans, George Goddard, Alvin Harris, Boyd R. Lang, Ted Schuster and Les Vogel Jr.

Bill Endicott, TV and radio announcer, punctuated his lively commentary with clever asides. Mrs. Elmer Jones was the musician.

The fashion show followed the luncheon for which more than a hundred guests were seated at tables centered by gilded magnolia leaves and goblets filled with redwood sprigs accented by Christmas balls.

Mrs. Walter Johnson of San Anselmo, Marin chairman for the 1961 Mothers March, was introduced. Mrs. E. D. Lederman was chairman of the fashion show and luncheon. Assisting her were Mesdames Gunnar Anderson, Edward Sargent Jr., James Hudson, Robert Kitchak, Phillip Harris, Eugene Wilson, Bernard Stone, Nancy Downey, Deeths and members of the executive board of Marin Chapter of the National Foundation.

At 1:15 p.m. will be the special membership party. This is open to all players and is free to those who have joined the Marin unit for 1961. Memberships for 1961 may be purchased at the door. This entitles members to play free in the afternoon session.

Following the free buffet dinner, the charity tournament will start at 7 p.m.

Both the afternoon and evening tournaments are master point events.

Big, Little Touches Make Yule Table Settings Festive

CHICAGO (UPI)—It's both the big and little touches that make Christmas table settings festive.

The traditionalist who favors a lace or Belgian linen dinner cloth in white or eggshell, the translucence of fine china, the gleam of sterling and the shimmer of crystal will seek subtle decorations in keeping with her tastes.

These might include a planter centerpiece that looks like a foot-tall crystal goblet, filled with holly or pine branches, arranged around a chunky red candle.

For those who prefer the look of Christmas greens laid flat on the table, centered wtih candles, there are crystal candle holders that look like tall, slender wine glasses, smoked at the top, with clear stems. Available in 10, 12, 15½, 18 and 20-inch heights, the wineglass candle holders can be used in pairs or groups of several heights.

Low candles for the Christmas board look particularly effective glowing inside silvery-finished tumblers, with red or green metallic interiors.

Even treasured antique silver or brass candle holders or candelabras take on the look of the season when they're decked with "holiday candle trimmers." These are brass rings, rimmed with tiny Christmas balls or Christmas candy on spokes. They slip over candles and rest atop the holders.

Christmas centerpieces for less formal tables can be fashioned from punch bowls, apothecary jars, fish bowls or even huge brandy snifters, filled with multicolored glittering ornaments or Christmas scenes, made with dime store figures and cotton snow.

Splashier Christmas finery for informal table settings includes glasses and platters, painted with candles, Christmas trees and bright santas and bright red coffee mugs.

Christmas tablecloths run the gamut from solid scarlet or green to prints. There are vibrant, overall floral prints in red and green, too, that look particularly good on the round table, and simple white cloths with striped red, green and gold or holly borders, some now available in practical terrycloth.

For the most informal Christmas tables, there are place mats in the traditional colors of the season, and shaped like bells, Santas and Christmas trees.

Valley Sewing Club Sets Christmas Party

The Christmas party and luncheon of the Valley Sewing Club, an affiliate of Mill Valley's Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305, will be held on Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. in the IOOF Temple.

Following the luncheon and after the party officers will be elected at a brief business meeting.

President Mrs. Richard Bennett has appointed to be in charge of the affair Mesdames Frank Bird, Albert Borgwardt, Marguerite Carpenter and Kathryn Young.

MRS. HELEN G. WALSH of San Rafael is photographed aboard American President Lines' SS President Wilson just before the ship sailed from San Francisco recently for the Orient. She is on a six week Orient cruise.

Judge David R. Baty officiated at the nutials of Miss Diane Francis of San Rafael and Lynn Williams of San Rafael yesterday in his chambers. The bride's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Francis, was here from Ukiah for the ceremony. The newlyweds will honeymoon in Carmel and return to San Rafael, Diane to her job guiding the youngsters through the Junior Museum, and Lynn to his position as appraiser for Citizens Federal Savings and Loan. Square Dance Refresher Course To Begin

Marin County Square Dance Association is offering an opportunity to former square dancers, of attending an organized review course at the intermediate level.

This will be held in conjunction with the association classes now being taught by Jack McKay, at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo, on Wednesday evenings.

The classes now under way will have reached the half-way mark by mid-December, and will then be opened to those with previous square dance experience. The intermediate course will last 13 weeks, beginning with a free lesson on Wednesday, Dec. 21. The second lesson will be on Jan. 4, there being no class during Christmas week.

Those interested are reminded that lessons begin at 8 p.m. and end at 10 p.m. For further information, call Fred Judson or Allen Conroy.

A Gift That's On The Beam

Light promises to be shed on the mysterious contents of a woman's purse, missing keyholes, and possibly lost shoes under theater seats.

The promise is in the form of a flashlight not much bigger than a lipstick.

Other uses for the petite purse-light include reading programs or deciphering scribbled addresses in the darkness.

The diminutive light was designed to be carried in a lady's handbag with her other toiletry items.

The only catch is once she has dropped it in there, she will need another flashlight to find it again.

Winter Frolic For Dancers

Topping this year's holiday season will be an evening of fun and dancing hosted by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Schulman for all their students and guests of the Marin County House of Leon Dance Studios.

For this affair, Mr. Schulman, instructor and director of the program in Marin County, has arranged for the Flamingo Ballroom of the Bermuda Palms for the evening of Dec 29, from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The frolic will be chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. Louis Lichenstein, Messrs. and Mesdames John De La Pera, Paul Walsh, Howard Cohn, Kenneth King, John Wasilewski, E. F. Whittemore, Mrs. Bella Resak and Mrs. Edna Lucken.

Yule Party Given For Delta Thetans

Revelation of Secret Sisters for 1960 for Delta Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Theta was made at the Christmas party Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Theodore McGuire in Santa Venetia.

Two transferees, Mrs. Erwin White of Mill Valley and Mrs. David Sechler of Belvedere, were greeted by the hospitality chairman and enjoyed the holiday festivities.

The decorations were the traditional red and green with an elegant pink tree of styrofoam. Pink punch in a bowl was the centerpiece on the candle lighted table.

The Delta Theta members Mesdames Urban Blake, Leo Clausen, William Hitchcock, Louis Moraes, Donald Weaver, Warren Wells, Jack McIvor, Walt Lindman, Al Molina, Theodore McGuire and Miss Naomi King revealed their secret sisters by exchanging Christmas gifts. Names for the new year were drawn and refreshments served. The next E.S.A. meeting will be held Jan. 10.

HOLIDAY TEA FOR P.E.O. AND GUESTS

Chapter NE of P.E.O. held a delightful Christmas party and tea on Friday afternoon at the Ross home of Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald. Mrs. Earl Barndt was a co-hostess. Members came early for a brief business session and after that guests arrived.

The program carried out the holiday theme with Mrs. Ilion T. Jones reading "How Come Christmas." Christmas music with Mrs. F. E. Clinite as the organist and Mrs. John Bagshaw, pianist, was also enjoyed.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. W. D. Oberholtzer, chapter president, and Mrs. Fred Crisp. A small Christmas tree centered the table and Christmas ornaments sparkled against a background of greens.

Signatures on the guestbook were those of Mesdames Dorothy Baker, Bessie M. Baird, Lola Carter, Ora Fowler, Laura Lou Smith, Agnes W. Brown, Virginia Helpon, Catherine C. McCarthy, June Middleton, Ruth Knight, Ruth Miller and James Upshaw.

A Mechanic Invents Better Cake Slicer

A mechanic at the San Francisco maintenance base of United Air Lines has invented a better cake slicer. The aluminum device neatly slices portions of cake any size up to four inches wide, six inches long. It enables the hostess to swish a piece of cake to guests' serving plates using only one hand. The thumb lever releases the wedge of cake from the cutter. It's called the Kaplanis Cake Cutter — named for inventor James P. Kaplanis.

How Not To End Up Buying Him Ties

Many a woman who can manage office, offspring and others with enviable ease, falters at the critical shopping point. She ends up buying HIM a tie.

One way to avoid this Christmas cliche is to list specifics about the man or boy involved: interests, idiosyncrasies, what he needs at work or at school, what he likes to wear (besides ties). Then follow through in a store, checking merchandise against your listed suggestions. You'll surely find something different you know he'll like.

In shopping for clothing, be sure you have the correct size. Men are shy about exchanging gifts, and you don't want to have to do it either.

And if you have a hat in mind, you might consider a gift certificate. Men are fussy about what they put on their heads, unless they're clowning at a party with YOUR hat.

Offbeat clothes gifts are fancy vests, golf jackets, patterned shirts, raincoats and suburban coats. Dad, granddad and the youngsters would all go for these.

For the boy in high school or college there's always a bicycle, especially important now for on-campus transportation.

Cater to his hobbies, even if it means a kind of fancy drill that sets your teeth on edge. Or maybe an electric floor polisher will so intrigue him he'll do the work himself.

And if you plan to be a tiny bit selfish, there's an alarm clock with an extension that sounds only under his pillow and lets you snooze on and on.

The possibilities are unlimited. But of course, you may come back to buying a tie anyway. It may help to know that for the man who has every tie, there's still another: a button-down tie (that means a new construction idea) in 24 karat gold.

Cards Feature Work Great Poets, Artists

NEW YORK (UPI)—Works of great religious art and verses by the best poets of the past and present are reproduced on Christmas cards this year, making this perhaps the most "classic" Christmas in history.

New stylized designs and the fashionable new off-pastel colors also appear on Christmas cards. Far from the simple reds and greens of years gone by, the new colors include pinks and delicate blues, as well as rich gold and silver. Intricate cutouts and detailed embossing also are a mark of new cards this year, along with such things as three-dimensional foldouts that harken back to before the turn of the century.

The reverence and inner beauty of Christmas are perhaps best expressed in a fine arts collection being offered for the first time through the cooperation of Albert Skira of Geneva, Switzerland, world leader in the graphic arts.

The collection includes 50 masterpieces of religious art gathered in museums and private collections in Europe and the United States. Skira prepared the reproduction on his fine color presses at Geneva, and Hallmark mounted the prints on Christmas cards. It is the first time Skira prints have appeared on greeting cards, either here or abroad, and reflects the growing popularity of religious Christmas cards.

Artists represented include such masters as da Vinci, Rembrandt, El Greco, Botticelli, Fra Angelico, Giotto and Holbein, and such modernists as Renoir, Cezanne, Matisse, Monet, Rouault, Dufy, Picasso and Van Gogh.

New Horizon Girls Club Is Named

The Twilighters was the name chosen for their Horizon Club by 15 girls in their organizing meetings. They are all freshmen attending Redwood High School and most of the new Horizon Clubbers have been in the Camp Fire program through Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls and are now planning many exciting times in this new venture with Mrs. Dan Shillinger, their advisor.

Mrs. Shillinger, formerly Miss Judy Evergettis, is now a senior at San Francisco State College and will begin practice teaching in a Marin County High School after the first of the year. She also completed the Camp Fire program, served on the resident Camp Kilowana staff two years and has been advisor to another Horizon Club. With this background she will give guidance to the girls whose philosophy of life is being developed.

The charter members of the "Twilighters" are Claudia Victor, president, Linda Foster, vice president, Patricia Clark, secretary, Michele Ivani, treasurer, Frances Adams, Rae Ann Raudio, Michele Betette, Peggy Rowse, Margaret Estrada, Barbara Gustafson, Susan Williams, Joaney Southerland, Judy Campana, Barbara Evans and Joanne Olson.

The Side Look

The side-look profile in a close-to-the-face hat, adapted from the 30's, is prominent in the spring-summer collection of one hat maker. Other spring hat news: height still is prominent, but modified. Basic cloches and sailors are strong and new low bell-brim styles are expected to do well.

Garden Group Holds Annual Holiday Dinner

Jeannie's Dance Studio and a Novato accordion band furnished the program for the annual Christmas dinner given by the Garden Group of the Novato Community Club Monday evening in the Community Club House.

It was a gay and colorful affair with tables decorated with figures of the Three Wise Men made by Mrs. Fred Anderson.

Mrs. R. J. Listman was general chairman and acted as mistress of ceremonies in the absence of Mrs. James Ruhlman, president.

Others on the arrangement committee were Mrs. Harry Eide, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mrs. Earl Larsen and Mrs. W. L. Von Taggen.

The part of Santa Claus was played by Mrs. George Whitten. Mrs. James Silk led the group in the singing of Christmas carols.

Twin Cities Auxiliary Honors Two At Party

A surprise tribute to two of its members highlighted the recent business and year-end party of Twin Cities Unit 313 of the American Legion Auxiliary in Larkspur.

Mrs. Maurine Lynch of Larkspur a Gold Star mother, was singled out for her sacrifice in the loss of her son in the World War II South Pacific campaign on Guadalcanal in the Solomon Islands.

Escorted to the president's station, Mrs. Lynch was presented with a nosegay of violets and baby roses. In her response, Mrs. Lynch told of her son's last Christmas on Guadalcanal where members of his company picked jungle fronds and other foliage near their fighting area and used exploded shells for Christmas decorations. The small group of soldiers held a gift exchange of some of their more personal items, and Mrs. Lynch was to learn later that her son had given up his prized possession, rosary beads.

Honored for her services to the state organization for the past six years in preparing the monthly organ circulated to nearly 40,00 members of the California organization of the American Legion Auxiliary was Mrs. Francis Fugate of Corte Madera, editor of the California Auxiliary News.

Paying tribute to the honoree was Mrs. Bryce Florence of Larkspur who holds the office of district historian for the Auxiliary's 1961 term.

The poem, "Touching Shoulders With You," was dedicated to the honored guests by the unit president, Mrs. James Green.

Plans for delivery of food baskets, toys and gifts to needy families were completed during the unit's business meeting.

Reporting on the ward decorations in Holderman Hospital of the Veterans Home in California and recent Christmas party and gift exchange for the entire women's barracks at this facility were Mesdames Florence, Lynch and Green. Col. Stanley Dunmire, Maj. Kenneth Lawrence and other officers also attended the unit's annual entertainment for the nearly 60 women.

A gift for the Henry C. Hall Library Fund was also approved Mrs. Ruth Monoghan of Corte Madera advised members of Marin Catholic High School's desires to particiapte in the Auxiliary's competitive state scholarship program which awards scholarships in the field of nursing, teaching and therapy.

The Area Child Welfare Conference held in San Francisco representing 13 Western Departments of the American Legion Auxiliary was highlighted by Mrs. Florence. Auxiliary fields of interest in child welfare include aid to mentally retarded children, adoption of legislation for child protection, support to programs of research for birth defects, cancer, heart, and other diseases, emergency financial assistance and other objectives benefiting children.

Following the exchange of holiday gifts, Mrs. Green hosted unit members to Christmas refreshments from a buffet table decorated with holly berries and a centerpiece of candles and glittering ornaments.

Next meeting of the unit will be Jan. 10 at the American Legion Hall in Larkspur.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"Your husband's new shorts with the pink polka dots was the fascinating topic of conversation during the laundry girl's lunch hour yesterday."

Re-stuffed Toys

Before Christmas is the time to restore down-at-the-heels stuffed toys so they can be loved again by a new set of little owners.

Mend first so no stuffing will be lost during washing. If the stuffing is spongy rubber, put the toy right into the tub or washer. Otherwise it's better to brush-wash the surface with thick, "dry" soap or detergent suds. If two-tone toys "run," tint them a darker shade all over.

After the bath, replace "lost" features with fabric paint or with embroidery. Then sew on new button eyes—or use felt applique for all features. Wool yarn makes new hair for dolls, or manes and tails for animals. Bright ribbon hairbows or collars make the reclamation complete.

Senior Club Yule Party Held Tuesday

Most ambitious holiday enterprise the Mill Valley Unit of the United Voluntary Services has undertaken recently was a hot Christmas luncheon members prepared and served Tuesday to nearly 50 Senior Club members in Mill Valley's American Legion Hall.

During the luncheon, Mrs. Neville Adams played accordion music. Afterward while guests were exchanging gifts under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Hussey, senior club chairman, UVS members packed cookies and candies for the children of service men of the 666th Air Control and Warning Squadron on Mount Tamalpais.

Preparing and serving the luncheon were Mesdames Frederick Fellows, Stanley Wilson, Wayne Bingham, Jean Wegscheider, William Gande, Philip Schafer, Archer Forsyth, Charles Campomenosi, John Bogan, Howard Houchard and Forest J. Sur.

Boon To Homemaker On Laundry Day

A boon to a homemaker with large laundry loads is a folding cart which can travel up and down stairs. It has two caster-type wheels and two disc wheels, handles for easy maneuvering, and a washable duck or plastic liner with pockets for clothes pins. Use it to transport soiled clothes to your washer, wet clothes to the line, and then clean things to the ironing board or storage area.

Crusty

NEW YORK (UPI)—Here's a crunchy, rich crust for holiday pies. Mix together 1 cup of quick rolled oats, uncooked, ⅓ cup of sifted flour, ⅓ cup of brown sugar and ½ teaspoon of salt. Add ⅓ cup of melted shortening and mix until crumbly. Pack firmly into the bottom and on the sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Place a smaller pie plate on top to hold the crumbs in place. Bake in a 375-degree oven until crust is brown, about 15 minutes. Remove the small pie plate 2 minutes after the crust comes from the oven. Cool and fill with your favorite chiffon pie filling.

UNSAFE TOYS CAN DIM HOLIDAY JOY—AND EYES!

NEW YORK (UPI)—The toy you buy with the expectation of seeing your youngsters eyes light up on Christmas morn could be the cause of their being dimmed forever.

Dr. John W. Ferree, executive director of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, citing recent injuries to youthful eyes from mishandled or unsafe toys, called on parents for a twin-pronged campaign of judicious toy buying and Christmastide safety education.

"Parents have a tendency to give their children toys that are too advanced for them," Dr. Ferree said, "and most inept or inexperienced handling of the playthings leads to tragedy."

He told of the three-year-old Boston girl hit in the right eye by a playmate's arrow. Also cited was the case of the Indiana boy who lost half his seeing-power when a B-B pellet, fired by an 11-year-old playmate, lodged in one eye.

What is the proper age for such toys?

"There is no definite set year at which any child can be ruled old enough for a particular plaything," Dr. Ferree said.

"Rather than by chronological age, parents should determine the child's ability by his emotional development and past experience.

"A youngster should be mature enough to know the danger involved in a particular toy, and to understand completely the safe way to use it."

The expert warned against buying a potentially-hazardous toy for an older child if there is a danger that a younger one can at any time get his hands on it.

Other Christmas safety tips from Dr. Ferree:

—Avoid sharp edges and objects that break, leaving sharp edges.

—Watch out for flammable toys or costumes, mechanical toys with exposed springs or gears, or poorly-constructed playthings.

Mill Valley Auxiliary To Host Party

Mill Valley's auxiliary of the Muir Woods Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will give its annual Christmas party for children Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in the IOOF Temple, Mill Valley.

Plans for the party were made at a recent meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Joseph King. Mrs. Tal Childers and Mrs. Donald Comstock were in charge of buying gifts.

It was announced that the recent opportunity sale was a success and that left over items were given to Goodwill Industries. Mrs. A. J. Rometti thanked Mesdames Childers, Comstock, Paul Hughes, Carl Barber, Carlos Nelson and Edward Reichmuth for their help.

The members' own Christmas party was held in the home of Mrs. Rometti Wednesday evening when secret pals exchanged gifts and names of new ones were revealed. Mrs. Paul Hughes won the mystery package.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Reichmuth and Mrs. Rometti.

A special visitor was the unit's second president, Mrs. Edward Christian.

Girl Scouts To Be Honored At Reception At Arequipa

Invitations to a Christmas reception have been received by all Marin Junior and Senior High Girl Scout troops, to be held on Dec. 20, from 2 to 4 p.m. at Arequipa.

Troop 201, under leadership of Mrs. Kurt Helmstaedter, has been in charge of plans for the afternoon, with members of seventh and eighth grade troops furnishing refreshments and decorations.

The program has been planned to be of special interest to the older girls. Victoria Emerson, Marin's representative to the International Girl Scout and Girl Guide "Our Chalet." in Switzerland last summer, will be there to share her exciting experiences and show colored slides of her trip with four other Senior Scouts from various parts of the United States. This is the first chance Marin Scouts have had to meet with Vicki since her trip to Europe, as she is attending Skidmore College, New York, and just returned home for the Christmas holidays.

The film, "World Wide, A Mile High," about the 1960 Senior Roundup in Colorado last summer, will also be shown. Following the program, the junior high troops will serve refreshments.

Mrs. R. E. Jones has coordinated the plans for the reception.

A New Trend

A fashionable measure of a man's social status: a turnabout engagement trend whereby the gal gives her fiance a new wrist watch when he puts the diamond on her third finger. If he's under 25 and telling time from a new wrist watch, hands off, gals. He's engaged. And the Jewelry Industry Council reports most girls give watches with the underside engraved, marking the date and sentiment as well as the fact of the engagement.

Today is Friday, Dec. 16, the 351st day of the year with 15 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1770, German composer and Pianist Ludwig Van Beethoven was born.

In 1773, 50 patriots disguised as Indians boarded a British vessel at anchor in Boston Harbor and threw 342 chests of tea into the water in the so-called Boston Tea Party.

In 1775, English novelist Jane Austen was born.

In 1893 the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra offered the first performance of Anton Dvorak's "New World Symphony."

In 1944, the Germans launched a great counter-offensive in Belgium . . . the Battle of the Bulge.

A thought for today: English novelist Jane Austen said: "I do not want people to be very agreeable, as it saves me the trouble of liking them a great deal."

Here's Unprecedented Candidate Endorsement

It isn't very often that a person like Dr. John C. Siemens of Kentfield allows himself to be persuaded to seek election as a school trustee.

Siemens is a rather remarkable man who simultaneously and successfully devoted himself to more than one occupation and more than one avocation.

In the pages of the Independent-Journal he is most frequently mentioned in connection with his post as administrator of Ross General Hospital. When he took over there, Ross was reeling from the competition of Marin General which opened up bright, spacious and fresh in our community where the private hospitals had been overcrowded for years.

For several years now Ross has competed quite successfully with the bigger, grander Marin General.

Dr. Siemens' administrative know-how has been a big factor in Ross Hospital's success.

He also maintains his private practice of medicine from the Ross Valley Medical Center, which he also heads.

He is active in a wide range of community affairs including Y.M.C.A., United Crusade, Unitarian Church and Lions club. He and Mrs. Siemens have a daughter who graduated from Tam high, a son attending Redwood and a younger daughter in the grades, headed for Redwood.

As we say, it isn't very often that a person like this allows himself to be persuaded to seek election as a school trustee.

He has "nothing to gain" as the saying goes. In seeking the office and if elected he unquestionably will be subjected at times to some public criticism from some quarters. The most he can hope to get out of it is a few "well dones" from a few acquaintances plus the inner satisfaction of knowing he has done an important job well.

But our schools need more and better candidates for trustees, candidates who will state their views plainly and defend them in the election campaign if that becomes necessary. (We covered this subject in more detail here last week.)

In his announcement of candidacy, Dr. Siemens implied his willingness to state his views and defend them.

We said that debate of issues would be beneficial to our schools in the long run.

Dr. Siemens deserves to be commended for responding to this challenge.

Ordinarily it is rare for us to endorse a candidate in a school trustee election. To endorse before the filing time is closed and we can see who all is running is unprecedented for us.

But four terms expire on the Tamalpais board. No matter how many candidates file or how good they are, Dr. Siemens will be among the top four.

We are glad to endorse his candidacy right now.

We are certain his election would prove most beneficial to Tamalpais district high schools and to the people of the district.

We hope he wins election.

Christmas Roses

Flowers for Christmas are by no means a rarity in Marin. We usually have our purple heather and fragrant narcissi and other flowers blooming in time for the holidays.

But probably no flower which we can grow outdoors in this county is as identified with the Nativity holiday as the Christmas rose. These squatty, glossy-leafed, purple or white members of the Buttercup Family are natives of the Old World and could conceivably have been growing outside the manger in Bethlehem on that historic day over 1900 years ago.

Not only are the Christmas roses an attractive winter flower, they are one of our longest bloomers — sometimes starting in October and not finishing until May.

Suburbanites Worthy Of Medals For Trudging To Work In Winter

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the season of the year when the Eastern suburbanite earns his Good Conduct medal.

He emerges as America's true civilian hero, the pioneer of its last frontier.

In winter weater good old Ronald Halfacre, the typical U.S. suburbanite, could well be mistaken for Daniel Boone himself — except that he doesn't pack a squirrel gun.

It takes Ronald from two to three hours to get to the office, and after he arrives it takes him another hour to undress down to his ordinary work garb.

He looks like a walking inventory of an Army and Navy store—from his khaki muffler to his reconditioned Korean combat boots.

To protect himself during the long pilgrimage from home to work desk, he dons anything—and everything — in the closet that fits him.

Despite all this padding, Ronald enters the office blue-cheeked with cold and with a nose that resembles an overripe tomato.

"Where did you park your sled dogs?" a comfort-loving city dweller asks him.

Ronald pays no heed as, with shaking hands, he removes his top layer of Y.M.C.A. gym socks, then peels off a sweat shirt bearing the insignia, "Fort Dix Stockade," a poignant reminder of his war with the Army.

Methodically he removes his red deer hunting cap, and silently massages his frozen ears.

"HOW IS life out there in the wilderness?" the city dweller inquires.

This is an error. Nobody within hearing distance now can get any work done before lunch.

FOR RONALD launches into a saga of one man's struggle against Nature. He tells of the lonely two-mile trudge through snowdrifts, the epic wait at the rail point for a train, where shivering suburbanites set fire to their newspapers to keep warm, the ordeal of being stuck in a tunnel later . . .

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Who's Qualified To Judge Books?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Of course, John Steinbeck and company don't need any defense from me, but there's just the chance that if some of us don't speak up, a fanatical minority might have its way with our school libraries —and go on from there.

Looks like this to me: If Rev. Barkowska and I, with the help of elementary school and our churches, have done a good job of bringing up our teen-age kids, then these books won't do them any harm. If Rev. Barkowska and I have done a bad job, then the damage is already done before they get to these books. And Rev. Barkowska and I can then turn our kids over to Juvenile Court and the Probation Department and retire. (The retirement part sounds good to me anyway.)

As to what is or isn't literature, I doubt that Rev. Barkowska is any more qualified to make this decision than I am. At any rate, I don't want him making the decision for me or my family.

Such Ideas Destroy Freedom

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

RE: Book Censorship suggested by Michael Barkowska:

The ideas this man expresses are of the sort of thing that destroys freedom of learning and subsequently of thought. Even Christ never suggested such control of a human being's learning.

This "see-no-evil, hear-no-evil, do-no-evil" philosophy is the very basis of thought control. A man like this is dangerous to the survival of human reason.

I would like to be the first signer of a petition to show that his is unfit to teach Christ's basic philosophies. His ideas are fanatic — and idiotic—and incidentally, stupid.

Oddly enough, I agree with him that it is wrong to forbid the reading of the Bible in our public school classes. I think we should allow this—but I also believe that we should permit the reading of other great men's teachings including Buddha, Shinto, Mohammed, Plato, Socrates, etc.

To insist on the worship of any of these I also think would be equally wrong, I challenge him to agree to have these taught in our public schools. His ideas (as expressed publicly and given public print) sound like a man locked in a closet of narrowmindedness.

How can we expect our children to learn about—and live with all the people of this world if we do not let them know how the rest lives—including those who live without a dogma of religious belief? Undoubtedly he would also agree with the elimination of such books as that which Darwin might have penned. This whole thing is reminiscent of the "Monkey Trials" of Clarence Darrow's time.

He would have our youth turn away from reality; from the basic freedoms we're trying to sell the rest of the world.

I strongly suggest that Mr. Barkowska read all of the books—not "excerpts," or to stop reading because his tender senses are offended. He, too, might learn what Christ was trying to teach: humility, love of other human beings, understanding of their basic drives, instincts, freedoms and failures—included those who used four-letter words to express themselves.

I also suggest he read the Kinsey Report, Freud, Jung, Bertrand Russell, and a few other people, he obviously is afraid to look at because he might have found something he fears the most—HIMSELF.

If he continues to be afraid to read and to learn he will undoubtedly go on in his decerebrated condition and perhaps take a few other innocents wtih him. I send a thought to Mr. Barbowska:

The up-to-date devil which you so earnestly seek, sir, may readily be found—wearing the costume of your own mind; your unconscious.

Books Should Be Judged On Whole

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is interesting to note, upon occasion, the efforts of certain self-appointed censors who set about telling other people what they should and should not read. No different are these people from those who censure government policy and other fields which very often they know nothing about. I find it incredulous that someone can lead an attack on a literary work not having read the objectionable material in its entirety. Those who would censure books would do well to read the 1933 decision of Judge Woolsey exonerating Joyce's Ulysses of the charge of obscenity. Much of what he said then can apply to works being written and published today. The Supreme Court and The American Law Institute have stated that a work must be judged as a whole and not by certain words or phrases taken out of context. . . .

If school children seek out literary trash, then, they don't have to look for it on the school's library shelf. Any bookstore can supply their needs; any newsstand will give them what they want; even the mails can render service. Parents should supervise the reading of their children in most cases. But if their own reading is limited to The Wall Street Journal or The Watchtower I find it strange that they consider themselves competent critics of our current literature.

'Of Mice And Men' And 'Catcher In Rye' Top Yule Shopping List

A THOUSAND YEARS ago, give or take a few decades, the Chinese printed the world's first known books.

According to historians, those early volumes were rather cumbersome affairs, as compared with today's pocket editions. Although printed on paper, which the Chnese also invented, their type was made of clay. Production, it is said, was on a somewhat limited scale.

It was to be another century before Europeans entered the publishing business to any degree, although for hundreds of years mankind had attempted to record knowledge in some form or another.

For many years before Johannes Gutenberg of Mainz, Germany, first used moveable type to print the forerunner of books as we know them—his famous 42-line Bible — scholors laboriously wrote the histories of their cultures by hand, a process taking months and even years to produce a single volume.

In most of Europe they wrote on sheets of vellum or papyrus. In the civilizations of Babylon and Nineveh in Asia Minor, the vehicles for the written word were clay tablets into which symbols were pressed before baking into a permanent record.

AFTER GUTENBERG revolutionized the industry, many of the men who had worked under him went into business for themselves, training others who were to become the ancestors of today's printers.

As the written word became more commonplace, men worked to improve and beautify their handiwork — the type and the books themselves—bringing about the creations of such great designers as Caslon of England, Koch of Germany, Goudy the American, and Fournier, Troy, De Golines and the Estienne family, all of France.

Promoting the book business into what it is today was not all beer and skittles. Naturally, as has been the case with most of man's attempts to raise himself above the level of animals, there was opposition to the whole idea.

ALMOST AS SOON as the first books rolled off the presses, there was a standing line of zealots waiting to burn them.

Two of the most successful of this breed were Girolamo Savonarloa, an Italian friar who worked at being a religious reformer, denouncing the world for its wickedness with zest and enthusiasm until, in 1498, he was finally hanged; and, of course, the man whose name has become synonymous with cruelty, Thomas De Torquemada, a first-rate book-burner who, in passing, condemned an estimated 2,000 persons to death by strangulation for holding un-Spanish thoughts during his 18 years as head of the inquisition.

These two, like their predecessors and those who have followed them, had one thing in common: They have all attacked certain books on the grounds that the thoughts expressed therein did not measure up to their personal standards.

All of which reminds me there are only eight shopping days until Christmas, and I must remember to buy a couple of copies of John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" and J. B. Salinger's "Catcher in the Rye" for my teen-agers —on the off chance that the Tamalpais Union High School District trustees give in next Monday night before the current attempt to remove these two outstanding examples of American literature from the school libraries.

TREATY IGNORED

U.S., Only A Bystander Suffers Ecuador Abuse

By PHIL NEWSOM

MOBS SHOUTING "Cuba si, Yankee no," or "Russia yes, United States no," are becoming a distressingly familiar part of the Latin American scene.

Latest center in a brushfire series of violent anti-American demonstrations is Ecuador—but with a difference.

There the mob action is being stirred by the government. And the United States, while a principal target, is strictly a bystander.

Ecuador, about the size of the state of Colorado, lies on South America's west coast between Colombia and Peru. Quito, its capitol, lies in the temperate zone 10,000 feet high on the slopes of the Andes Mountains. Guayaquil, its principal port, lies in the midst of the steaming tropics.

ITS PRESENT quarrel, in reality, is with Peru and dates back 130 years.

It is over a huge triangular territory larger than Germany, Switzerland and Italy combined East of the Andes on the headwaters of the Amazon River. Its inhabitants almost exclusively are wild Indian tribes.

The two nations fought over the territory almost from the moment Ecuador was proclaimed a republic in 1830. The dispute finally appeared settled in 1942 when both nations signed a treaty in favor of Peru. Guaranteeing the treaty were the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

On Sept. 1, President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra announced in his inaugural address that Ecuador would no longer recognize the 1942 treaty.

THE STIRRINGS of discontent across the whole of Latin America have not skipped Ecuador. And in Ecuador the same basic elements are present, illiteracy and poverty. As elsewhere, there also are the added element of Castroism and the new interest of Moscow and Peiping.

The head of Ecuador's Chamber of Deputies was an ardent campaigner for Velasco and also is an outspoken admirer of Fidel Castro.

Ecuador's largest labor union, the Confederation of Ecuadorian Workers, is communist-influenced, if not communist-controlled.

Velasco was not the first to voice Ecuador's simmering discontent.

IN 1955, ECUADOR accused Peru of massing 30,000 troops for invasion of Ecuador's frontier. In 1959, she accused Peru of exaggerated rearming. The charges were not borne out but they were indicative of things to come.

In the last four years, Ecuador has been the recipient of U. S. or World Bank loans totalling around $50 million dollars, but Velasco frequently has been harshly critical of U. S. Latin American aid policies.

Last week, the United States joined with Argentina, Brazil and Chile against Ecuador's renewed demands for the disputed territory and an outlet to the Atlantic via the Amazon.

Then Velasco turned the mobs loose against the United States and, a la Castro, his foreign minister announced that if necessary:

"We will ally ourselves with Russia."

There's an amateur expert in every neighborhood. Do you recognize her?

Her only child has long since grown up. But she thinks she knows everything. She gives advice freely. She's hurt if you don't follow it.

Your little guy is a bit slow to talk. Your amateur expert knows why. She says it is because you do too much for him. Or because you talk all the time. Or maybe she says his habit of sucking his thumb interferes with his vocal cords. Do you believe her? I hope not!

Your girl takes a long time learning to walk. She tells you it is because she wore baby shoes when she was two months old. Or because you carry her too much. Or she has too many toys. Is she right? Of course not. But she is an authority. She raised a child, didn't she?

Try not to take your amateur expert seriously. If you do you'll be in trouble. Your baby is your baby, not hers. You live with him. You know him. She doesn't. She's not responsible for the mistakes she makes. But you are, if you follow her directions.

Don't ask her for advice. Turn to your doctor instead. He has had experience with many babies. He is trained and responsible. You can rely on what he says.

What should you do with your amateur expert? Listen politely, but think your own thoughts. Nod your head when she expects it. Don't argue. It's a waste of time. Just let her have her say. Then go ahead and do exactly what you and your doctor think best.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it really necessary for mothers to stay home and take care of their babies? My boy is five months old. My employer wants me back at work. A housekeeper could do what I'm doing. Must I stay with him?"

P.O.C.

(A) Stay with him until he is well launched in school, or longer. No one can take the place of a loving, intelligent mother in the life of her baby. One reason we have so much juvenile delinquency is that American mothers have been leaving their children too soon. They've lacked love and guidance in their most formative years.

Wife Sues Doctor For Divorce, Asks Support, Alimony

Dr. John F. Huffman, 50, of Corte Madera, who practices at the Stonestown Medical Building in San Francisco, was sued for divorce yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. Bettigene A. Huffman, 39, of 462 Chapman Drive, Corte Madera, says her husband earns more than $85,000 per year as radiologist and physician. She is asking for $1,250 per month for her alimony and support, $450 per month for the support of their three children, and $5,000 for her attorney fees.

They were married in 1945 and were separated last July. She charges he has been cruel and has caused her grievous mental suffering.

Among community property, she lists their $45,000 home, his office and equipment in San Francisco worth $75,000, a promissory note for $37,500 on a property in Novato which will bring $7,500 revenue per year, two cars, and a life insurance policy with $75,000 face value and $15,000 cash value.

Mrs. Huffman says her husband grosses more than $85,000 and nets more than $40,000 per year.

Mexican Budget

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—President Adolfo Lopez Mateos submitted a record 883-million-dollar budget to Congress late yesterday, with the largest appropriation earmarked for public education.

Appointments For State Jobs Due

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown is about to don a Santa Claus uniform for one of the biggest periods of favor-dispensing since he originally formed his administration in the early days of 1959.

The belated Christmas presents which Brown will be distributing to people on his list are appointments to state positions. There are something more than 100 of them up for renewal, most on Jan. 15.

The jobs range all the way from such non-paid positions as directors of county or district fairs to the $20,000 bracket of paid positions.

With or without salaries, all of the appointments are coveted. There is more competition, in fact, for some of the non-paying positions because of the prestige involved.

The two top spots for which there will be openings Jan. 15 are on the Public Utilities Commission, with a salary of $20,947 and a guarantee of steady work for at least four years.

There also are two other commissions with openings coming up after the first of the year. There will be two posts to fill on the Industrial Accident Commission, at $16,537 a year, and one on the Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board, with a $18,190 salary.

Two other positions with a similar salary of $18,190 will be open on the state Adult Authority, which sets terms, paroles and such for adult prisoners and on the California Youth Authority, which has jurisdiction over the younger offenders.

The other paid board member position available is on the state Personnel Board. This is not a full-time job and pays only $6,835 a year.

In addition to the boards and commissions, there are a number of deputy director jobs open. At present, there are no vacancies among department heads.

The choicest of the deputy jobs will be the Department of Water Resources. The post actually isn't vacant yet but the present deputy, Ralph M. Brody, has announced plans to leave by the first of the year. The job pays $20,508.

Another high-placed deputy job is open in the department of finance, paying $19,800. This was one of the 13 new deputy positions created by the 1959 legislature.

There will be a $16,860 opening for deputy director of agriculture on the first of the year when James T. Ralph advances to the directorship. Present director, William E. Warne, will become the head of the water resources department.

Also open are posts of assistant labor commissioner, at $11,400 (replacing Andrew Hatcher, who was named to President-elect John F. Kennedy's press staff) and as assistant insurance commissioner, a job paying $16,860.

Brown also has a vacancy on his own secretarial staff, which he no doubt will fill early in the legislative sessions. Regular secretaries on his staff may be paid up to $16,537 a year. In addition, the post of coordinator of economic Development is open, a position that pays about $18,000 a year.

Those are the main paid positions which can make for many a happy holiday season in California. But many of the non-paid posts will bring nearly as much joy.

Among the most coveted of non-paying jobs up for reappointment in January are two members of the California Highway Commission and two members of the State Park Commission.

Just as coveted is an opening which will come up on the five-man state Fish and Game Commission in January. Then there are two openings on the state Board of Education, for 10-year terms.

Two terms will expire on the State Athletic Commission and two on the State Board of Agriculture. One position on the State Horse Racing Board will be vacant, as will two on the Board of Forestry.

Other vacancies will occur, because of expired terms, on the Board of Public Health (three), Real Estate Commission, Recreation Commission, Small Craft Harbors Commission, and Social Welfare Board.

Last, but not least, there will be three terms expiring on the board of directors of the California State Fair. More than 100 openings will come up on local fair boards, about two for each of the 70-odd fairs in the state.

Queen's Rent Collectors Getting Tired

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth's rent collectors are tired of checking up on horseshoe nails, herring pies, sharp knives and white roses.

So, a royal source said, the crown is quietly dropping some of its more picturesque traditional rents—known as feudal tenures—for which kings and queens in the past gave away castles, mansions, lands and estates.

If any of the present-day tenants want to continue the ancient fees—some of them dating back 700 years—the crown will accept them. But no one is going to be dispossessed for forgetting.

The feudal tenure is the responsibility of the lord of the manor. This is the only British title which can be offered for sale by the holder because the title goes with possession of the lands.

Some manors have changed hands so many times over the centuries that the present occupants occasionally do not even know that they owe Queen Elizabeth such tribute as a longbow, or a pikestaff or a white stallion.

Among those who no longer need worry—if they ever did—are:

The manor of Midlington, which owes the queen a towel to wipe her hands while hunting.

The manor of Beaumanor, which owes her annually a spear, three rosebuds and a garland of flowers.

The marquis of Savernake, who must blow a horn if the Queen enters Savernake forest.

The manor of Aylesbury, which should supply the straw for the queen's bed, rushes for her bedchamber floor and three eels and two geese.

The lord mayor of London who is down for six horseshoes and nails as rents for land where a forge was set up in St. Clement's Parish in 1235.

There are many other similarly delightful echoes of the days when sovereigns ruled by "divine right." But the crown is not abandoning all its tenures.

The Dukes of Marlborough and Wellington still have to present small flags to the queen on the anniversaries of the battles won by their illustrious forebears at Blenheim in 1704 and Waterloo in 1815. These confirm the estates they hold from the crown.

And when Prince Charles pays his first official visit to Cornwall as the Duke of Cornwall, Launceston Castle will be expected to deliver the traditional tribute, namely:

Three hundred puffins (seabirds), mantles of goatskin, 100 shillings, a pound of paper, a pair of gilt spurs, a bow of alder wood, two greyhounds, a faggot of wood, a salmon spear, a pair of white gloves and a riding cloak.

The tribute was last paid in 1937 to the duke who later became King George VI.

State Building At $12 Million

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — State Architect Anson Boyd today announced the state's 1961 building program at nearly 112 million dollars, divided about equally north and south.

The architect division plans were disclosed in an outline prepared for the annual convention of the Southern California chapter of the Associated General Contractors.

The biggest single projects are a 10.9-million-dollar science building at the new Orange County State College in Fullerton and a new 10.2-million-dollar Motor Vehicles Department headquarters in Sacramento.

Abortion Law

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A grand jury here has recommended that California law be changed to allow abortions where "pregnancy results from forcible rape, incest or moral irresponsibility or in girls under the age of 14."

The state now permits abortion only where necessary to save the mother's life.

Marinwood Homes Yule Contest Prizes

Gift certificates good at three local plant nurseries will be awarded next Monday by anonymous judges after weekend tours by day and night to inspect Christmas home decorations in the Marinwood area.

This decision, recently made by directors of the Marinwood Assn., was announced to the membership at a meeting Wednesday night. Though names of winners will be made public, the judges prefer to keep their identities dark.

Both projects were expected to be put out to bids in the first quarter of 1961. An addition to the boiler plant was estimated to cost $219,300 and phase two of construction of a chapel $210,900. Both are in the current state budget.

Hastings will be returning to San Quentin after two years at Soledad. For several years prior to that he was supervisor of academic instruction at the big Marin prison under Russell.

Russell, who has been at San Quentin 10 years, will become associate superintendent of the Men's Colony in San Luis Obispo.

San Rafael Firemen Given Right To Live Outside City

San Rafael firemen will not be forced to live inside the city limits if they can give good reason for living outside, such as economic hardship, fire commissioners decided Wednesday.

Fire Chief Vance Trivett reported at least two firemen now live outside the city. He asked the commission for a policy declaration.

The fire commission, headed by Chairman Louis H. Baar, voted unanimously that each case would be judged on its own merits. They announced that any firemen living outside the city must submit written application, giving reasons why they must live outside.

The fire commissioners also graded the written examinations taken by about 20 men to fill positions of two captains and two engineers. They set another meeting for 5 p.m. today to re-check the grades and announce the top candidates.

More New Home Construction Expected In U.S. During 1961

NEW YORK (UPI) — Building of fewer homes played a big part in the failure of the nation's economy to get rolling this year, but new home construction is expected to start the economy moving in 1961.

Housing starts this year approached 1.3 million units, approximately 19 per cent below the 1959 figure of 1.6 million, and the Housing Institute looks for this figure to jump to 1,375,000 in the new year.

The institute said there are many favorable factors for an upturn in housing starts, although it may not come until sometime during the second quarter. The concensus among economists is for the economy to start picking up at mid-year.

Among the favorable factors are:

1. Disposable personal income should increase by about 12 billion dollars next year, providing a higher level for home purchases.

2. Consumers will start the ney year with record liquid assets and a very favorable financial position, despite the large short-term debt.

3. A continued increase in population to more than 181 million should result in increased demands for new homes.

4. The number of families in the middle income group—a big home buying category — continues to expand.

5. Vacany rates, which showed a substantial gain in 1960, indicate that buyers are becoming more selective, and that the supply of new apartments is greater than demand. The institute said the home building industry is in a position to capture some of the market since high rents provide an incentive to the purchase of a home.

Settlement Made On Sewer Line

A. H. Ruoff of 836 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, agreed yesterday to a $150 settlement of a sewer line encroachment problem with the San Rafael Sanitation District.

The district line from the Glenwood subdivision encroaches on his property. The district offered $150 for a five-foot wide easement, 125 feet long. Ruoff accepted the offer.

The sanitation commission discussed connection fees for a subdivision planned by Equitec Corp. at McNear Beach on the bay side of San Pedro Road. Commissioners notified Equitec that connection fees will be $500 per lot.

Production per acre on western cropland has increased 31 per cent since 1940.

Stanley Dollar Estate Valued At $833,000

Former San Rafael shipping magnate R. Stanley Dollar left an estate valued at $833,000 in an inventory filed in Alameda County Superior Court.

Stock in the Dollar companies real estate, savings accounts, and oil holdings that comprise the estate were left in trust to his two children, Mrs. Diana D. Hickingbotham of 1408 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, and R. Stanley Dollar, Jr. of Walnut Creek.

A provision in the will made Jan. 2, 1958, leaves his wife, Esther of Piedmont, the income from the trust until her death at which time it is to be divided between young Dollar and Mrs. Hickingbotham.

The widow and children were named executors for the estate.

Dollar left his household and personal effects to his wife stating that "I intentionally make no other bequests to my wife, not because of any lack of love or affection, but because she and I believe she is already adequately provided for."

Dollar's father, Capt. Robert Dollar, founder of the Dollar Steamship Co., settled his family in San Rafael in the 1880s. Mrs. Hickingbotham now lives in the old family home.

Marinite Gets Nod For U.S. Treasurer Job

Elizabeth Smith Accepts Kennedy Appointment

BY CHAPIN A. DAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Rudel (Libby) Smith of Kent Woodlands has accepted appointment as treasurer of the United States in the Kennedy administration, the Independent-Journal learned today.

Although Mrs. Smith today maintained the protocol position of "no comment" on the appointment, she accepted the $17,500-per-year post after President-elect John F. Kennedy telephoned her personally and urged her to take the job, it was learned. It was expected the official announcement would be made in Washington, D.C., later today.

The 49-year-old California national Democratic committeewoman, who lives with her son, Dan, 17, at 21 Rancheria Road, had been approached earlier with the suggestion that she consider such an appointment. She had rejected the idea, saying she preferred to remain in California at least until Dan is graduated next June from Redwood High School.

Late yesterday, however, Kennedy phoned her and asked her to reconsider.

Kennedy Appoints Brother, Dillon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today named his brother, Robert F. Kennedy, attorney general in his administration, and chose Douglas Dillon to be secretary of the Treasury Department.

Robert Kennedy, 35, was the president-elect's campaign manager. He was counsel of the Senate rackets investigating committee.

This is the first time in U.S. history that a president, or president-elect, has chosen a brother to be in his cabinet.

Kennedy also announced the appointment of Byron (Whizzer) White, Denver, Colo., attorney, to be deputy attorney general.

White, a former All-America football player, will serve under Kennedy's brother in the Justice Department.

Dillon, 51, is now undersecretary of state, and is a Republican. His appointment is one the financial community will likely view as assurance there will be no radical fiscal experiments in the Kennedy administration.

With these appointments, Kennedy completed the selection of his cabinet except for postmaster general. There were reports that this job would go to J. Edward Day, a Los Angeles insurance executive.

Jet, Prop Airliners Collide, Crash In New York; At Least 127 Dead

Big Fire Sweeps Residential Area

NEW YORK (AP) — Two huge airliners, groping through snow-shrouded skies for landings, collided and crashed into the city today with fiery devastation. At least 127 were killed.

The disaster was one of the worst in American aviation history.

It unleashed flames and havoc, turning an entire square block of Brooklyn into an arena of terror. Residents fled apartments screaming as walls caved in and fires broke out in a dozen buildings.

So far, however, only one person on the ground was known killed.

Of the 127 persons aboard the two planes, one lived, a young boy.

An army of emergency workers fought through the fires and wreckage, with possibly other casualties still to be found.

One plane, a United Air Lines DC-8 jet with 83 aboard, struck in heavily populated Brooklyn, hurling debris like bomb fragments, and setting 10 apartment buildings on fire. A church—ironically named "Pillar of Fire"—was demolished. A funeral parlor was in flames.

It was the first crash in this country of a pure jet carrying passengers.

The other plane, a Trans World Airlines Constellation carrying 44, raked over the Miller Field section of Staten Island, and came to rest in harbor water. It also started fires in the area, but they were quickly controlled.

Heavy snow was falling when the crash came about 10:40 a.m.

The disaster recalled a plane collision over the Grand Canyon on June 30, 1956, when 128 were killed. It also was between TWA and United airliners.

Today's TWA flight 266 was from Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, coming in for a landing at La Guardia field. The United airliner, out of Chicago, was stabbing through the murk for Idlewild International Airport.

The fields are about 10 miles apart, on opposite shores of Long Island in Queens. Normally plane approaching the fields are assigned to different altitudes, and different approach timing.

"Obviously something went wrong, but we don't know what," an Idlewild field communications spokesman said.

The DC-8 jet fell like a flaming rocket into an area on Flatbush Avenue, setting off an inferno. Every available piece of fire and emergency equipment was rushed to the scene.

Street side morgues were set up, and ambulances formed a screaming cavalcade heading to hospitals.

The lone passenger to survive was identified as Stephen Baltz, 11, of Chicago's suburban Wilmette. He was on his way to join his mother, who was visiting relatives in New York.

Killed on the ground in the flames was Charles Cooper, a sanitation department employee who was shoveling snow.

Dense smoke and flames fingered among the buildings, and formed a black cloud above the roofs.

"I heard screaming in there in the smoke and flames," said Nick Ligelis, a flower shop operator. "It's a horrible thing."

Mayor Robert Wagner issued an appeal for New Yorkers to stay away from the disaster area.

Although only one victim on the ground had been found by early afternoon, Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanaugh Jr. said firemen still had mountains of wreckage and rubble to search.

At one point, the whole block was aflame, but within four hours, a massive force of firemen, police crews, Air Force and Coast Guard squads had stemmed most of the fire's spread.

The Feberal Bureau of Investigation sent a seven-man disaster squad from Washington to aid in identifying victims. E. R. Quesada, Federal Aviation Agency administrator, also flew here to head an investigation.

Laos Reds Holding 5 Yanks Hostage; U.S. Forces Alerted

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Prince Boun Oum and victorious pro-Western Gen. Phoumi Nosavan drove into Vientiane at dusk today and announced liberation of this shattered Laotian administrative capital from pro-Communist forces.

COMBINED AP & UPI

VIENTIANE, Laos—Retreating pro-Communist forces of paratroop Capt. Kong Le were reported today to have seized five American hostages in this wrecked and burning city where fires sent a column of smoke spiraling a mile into the air.

The right-wing forces of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan appeared to be driving the Soviet-supported paratroopers back toward the vital airport on the outskirts.

Meanwhile, U.S. Marine and naval forces patrolled the South China Sea ready to back up America's pledge to protect the pro-Western government of Laos against any aggression by its Communist neighbors.

REBELS OVERTHROWN?

Triumph For Selassie Claimed In Broadcast

LONDON (AP) — A broadcast over the Addis Ababa radio claimed today the rebel government set up in opposition to Emperor Haile Selassie has been overthrown.

The broadcast, heard in Nairobi, Kenya, said the announcement was made on orders of Maj. Gen. Merid Mengesha, who had been described as a traitor yesterday by a rebel-controlled station.

The exact situation in Addis Ababa still was obscure. Resident correspondents had been unable to get news out.

But Haile Selassie himself, ready to fight for his throne and blaming "irresponsible persons" for the rebellion, apparently was in or near Addis Ababa, his capital.

A loyalist "Voice of Ethiopia" broadcast reported him back. A similar broadcast earlier from Mengesha, then transmitting over a clandestine station, had reported the "Lion of Judah" back in Ethiopia.

In nearby French Somaliland French News Agency monitors heard the "Voice of Ethiopia" say army units faithful to the emperor had routed the insurgents.

The Ethiopian Embassy in London said the emperor, hurrying home from a state visit to Brazil, had left Khartoum, in the Sudan, adjacent to Ethiopia.

Before leaving Liberia to continue his flight homeward, Selassie expressed confidence peace will soon return to his northeast African country.

"The confused situation in Addis Ababa," he said in a statement, "is something that will soon pass. Such confusion is caused always by irresponsi-

Quentin Site Suggested As S.F. Airport

The tidelands near Point San Quentin, considered and rejected for a Marin County Airport, may be in the running for location of a second major airport for San Francisco—but whether they will be considered depends on the report of a Burlingame aeronautical consulting firm.

Harold S. Messersmith, superintendent of San Francisco International Airport, said today discussion of location of a second airport for the Golden Gate metropolis is awaiting a report from the firm of Leigh Fischer and Associates, which is expected within 30 days.

He refused to speculate on whether the Marin County site would be among those recommended for consideration. It was proposed to the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission, which ordered the survey, by Carroll Snyker, executive vice president of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

WEATHER MAN SEES CLOUDY BUT DRY SKIES

A cloudy but dry weekend was forecast today for Marin County by the Weather Man.

Mill Valley and Tamalpais Valley both registered .08 of rain last night. Woodacre had .05 and Belvedere trailed at .04.

San Rafael Bank Gets Another Purchase Offer

Southern California interests entered the bidding yesterday for the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael, with an offer that appeared more lucrative for stockholders than merger terms proposed by Crocker-Anglo National Bank.

As directors were discussing the Crocker-Anglo offer, a telegram arrived from a Southern Californian representing unnamed financiers, offering to buy the entire stockholdings at $96 per share.

Crocker-Anglo had offered a two-for-one exchange of shares to acquire the Marin County banking firm. Crocker-Anglo shares are now selling at $38.

Thus, the new offer would give stockholders about $20 more for each share—and in cash instead of stock. The additional $20 would more than cover the capital gains tax on sale of the stock.

Negotiations with Crocker-Anglo are continuing while the new offer is being investigated, chairman W. P. Murray reported today.

Directors met yesterday in hope all details of the Crocker-Anglo proposal had been worked out for presentation to stockholders. This proved not to be the case, however.

Further action was postponed to a special meeting of the direcors, to be called when details of the Crocker-Anglo offer are completed and more information on the telegraphic offer from Southern California is received.

Minnesota Governor Named Secretary Of Agriculture

WASHINGTON (AP)—Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman is in John F. Kennedy's cabinet as secretary of agriculture, and AFL-CIO lawyer Arthur J. Goldberg as secretary of labor.

The posts of attorney general, secretary of the treasury and postmaster general today were the only cabinet posts—of a total of 10—still to be filled by Kennedy.

The president-elect last night picked Freeman, who also lost out in his quest for another term as Minnesota's governor, for the politically explosive job of heading the Agriculture Department.

Three hours earlier Kennedy tapped Goldberg—special counsel to the AFL-CIO—for the labor position, a potential hot spot for a union man in dealing with management along with labor.

Freeman, 42, and Goldberg, 52, are Democrats. They stood with Kennedy at the door of his Georgetown home as he announced the appointments.

After Freeman had been named he stepped aside and was replaced next to Kennedy by Rep. George McGovern (D-S. D.), who ran unsuccessfully for a U. S. Senate seat in November. Kennedy said he had chosen McGovern to serve as director of the new administration's food-for-peace program—a plan for buiding good will abroad through distribution of American surplus farm commodities.

Kennedy said yesterday he had offered the job of postmaster general to Negro Rep. William L. Dawson, (D-Ill.) but that Dawson had turned it down. Kennedy said Dawson, 74, took the position he could be of greater service to the new administration by remaining in the House.

NEW CHOICE SOON

Kennedy promised to make a new choice soon.

In naming Freeman to be secretary of agriculture, Kennedy spoke of him as "the best man we could get to take over this responsibility. He added that Freeman, a Lutheran who is a lawyer, had dealt with Minnesota farm problems which are similar to those facing the entire country.

The governor called the task ahead a real challenge and a great opportunity.

"No one knows all the answers," he said, "but the answers can, must, and will be found."

Goldberg, a gray-haired man who said he will work to end bitterness between labor and management, was hailed by Kennedy as perhaps the most competent American in the labor relations field.

JEWISH FAITH

The new secretary of labor is the second man of Jewish faith to be picked for the Kennedy cabinet. The other is Connecticut Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff, chosen to be secretary of health, education and welfare.

With a view to possible criticism of appointment of a union man, Goldberg—who also is general counsel to the United Steelworkers Union—pledged to enforce the labor laws with impartiality and vigor.

As for promotion of labor-management peace, Goldberg said: "This is an objective toward which I am wholeheartedly dedicated, for which I have worked in the past, and for which I will work unceasingly in the years ahead."

BLACKFACES AND BOOS

New Orleans Whites Hold Mass Meeting

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The White Citizens Council held a mass meeting last night in its battle to halt the integration of public schools in New Orleans.

The meeting was interrupted repeatedly by shouts of "kill the niggers," "feed 'em hay," and "send 'em back to Africa."

One of the evening's attractions was the trooping of seven grade-school-age children on stage. Three girls and one boy wore exaggerated blackfaces while two boys and one girl wore no makeup.

The children hugged each other and made loud smacking noises, switching partners so that each "Negro" smooched with a white.

"Is that what you want?" council president Dr. Emmett Erwin asked, pointing to the children.

The hall became a bedlam of boos.

A man wearing a vest made of a Confederate flag waved a sign reading: "Integration means race mongrelization."

Concessionaires patroled the aisles hawking Confederate flags and rebel army caps.

Pamphlets on "God gave the law of segregation—as well as the 10 commandants—to Moses on Mount Sinai," and "race mixing a religious fraud" were distributed.

State superintendent of education Shelby Jackson told the crowd to "stand up and fight . . . and you will have freedom."

Frank Voelker, chairman of the state sovereignty commission, called for President Eisenhower or President-elect John F. Kennedy to suspend the integration decisions which have resulted in four Negro girls' attendance at two previously white-only public schools here.

Retiring Phone Worker Honored

Miss Adeline Manning of 15 Treanor Street, San Rafael, was honored by her co-workers at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. on her completion of 35 years Bell System service.

The occasion was observed at a luncheon at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito, where she was presented with a corsage and company service emblem by D. R. Horton, telephone company district manager.

The business office force at 1800 Second Street, where Miss Manning is a stenographer, honored her further with a coffee party.

Miss Manning, who moved to San Rafael from San Francisco shortly after the 1906 fire, has worked here most of her 35-year career.

Herter Warns New Drive For Summit Coming

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter warned the Western allies today to be wary of an expected campaign by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for renewal of East-West negotiations.

Herter told the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization that Khrushchev apparently has won the consent of other Communist countries for more negotiations with the West. But he said Khrushchev is on the horns of a dilemma: How to avoid nuclear war and at the same time speed communism toward world domination.

OPENING SESSION

Herter was speaking at the opening session of a regular meeting of NATO foreign and defense ministers.

President Eisenhower, in a farewell message to NATO, called for "an even greater unity of thought and action" in the alliance.

Herter read the message from the outgoing American president, who is regarded as one of the founding figures of the NATO alliance. He served as the alliance's first supreme commander and gave the NATO program strong support in eight years as head of the American government.

IMMENSE PROGRESS

Eisenhower said in his message that he was greatly encouraged by "the immense progress made by the Atlantic alliance during the last decade."

Referring to the recent Moscow summit meeting of Communist powers, Herter remarked that Khrushchev has since been more belligerent.

Herter particularly pointed out the scathing attacks by Khrushchev on U.S. policy after the Moscow Communist summit. While the Reds called for peaceful co-existence in their final communique, the document was sprinkled with bitter attacks on the West.

DECISIONS FOR WEST

The purpose of the annual top-level NATO session is to conduct a formal probe of Communist intentions and decide what the West will do to counter Red moves.

Herter's view that the world condition has generally worsened since the NATO meeting last December was understood to be generally supported by most of the NATO powers, specifically including Britain, France and West Germany.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Prohibition Figure Dies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Funeral services will be held today for federal agent Moe Smith, member of the Prohibition era team of "Izzy and Moe" who were responsible for arresting thousands of bootleggers, bartenders and speakeasy patrons.

Smith, 73, died Wednesday at Sydenham Hospital. His partner, Izzy Epstein, died in 1938.

Izzy and Moe gained national fame for their comic antics and the disguises they used in running down booze peddlers during the early years of prohibition. They posed as grave diggers, conductors and politicians in their zeal to trap violators.

Vessel Searched

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—French naval vessels, ignoring official Bonn protests, stopped and searched another West German ship in international waters off the North African coast, the Assn. of German Shipowners said today.

The association said the 4,185-ton freighter Archsum was stopped about 54 miles from Gibraltar by an unidentified French warship and searched for arms consigned to Algerian rebels.

Disc Jockey Stabbed

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—A disc jockey was severely stabbed yesterday by an irate listener who hates rock 'n' roll music.

Ron Irvin of radio station KAIR said he had just put a record on the turntable when he saw a stranger in the studio. As he started escorting the man out, the stranger screamed:

"I hate that music. I hate rock 'n' roll."

Irvin was slashed across the back with a knife or beer can opener.

Baby Is 'Weapon'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An Italian ex-wrestler facing arrest for deportation as an undesirable alien clutched his curly-haired baby son so closely last night that officers were afraid to arrest him for fear he might crush the child.

Raimondo Bracchetti stood off federal immigration officers and police in his apartment for 90 minutes, refusing to release his son, 21-month-old John.

Officers left after getting a promise from the 6-foot-2, 240-pound man to appear for a hearing today.

French Mail Strike

PARIS (AP)—Postmen struck throughout France today and few people got their Christmas mail.

The strike, due to end at midnight, caused many post offices to close. Officials at the Finance Ministry also decided to stop work for two hours this afternoon. Both groups are dissatisfied with present wage scales.

Prettiest Stamp

MONACO (AP)—A British stamp representing Windsor Castle and the queen has been selected out of 5,200 entries as the most beautiful stamp in Europe and the world.

The one-pound — $2.80 — stamp was chosen yesterday by a 15-man jury which included representatives of Britain, France, Sweden and German stamp societies. There were entries from 110 countries.

Hoffa Pleads Innocent

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—Teamster Union boss James Hoffa pleaded innocent today when arraigned on fraud charges before a federal judge.

Two of Hoffa's associates also pleaded innocent to 12-count federal indictments charging them with misusing a half million dollars in Teamsters funds in a grandiose Florida land development which never developed very far.

Nixon Margin Cut

HONOLULU (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's popular vote margin over President-elect John F. Kennedy in Hawaii was reduced to 61 yesterday.

A recount of 34 of Hawaii's 240 precincts shaved the edge from 141, the figure which gave Hawaii to Nixon a month ago when the vote was certified. Democrats here are expected to try for a total recount, although the electoral college meets Monday.

Honeymoon In Spain

CORDOBA, Spain (AP)—King Baudouin and his Spanish bride spent the first night of their honeymoon in a magnificent manor house attached to a 16th-century monastery high in the Cordobese Sierra.

The royal newlyweds arrived late last night by plane at Sevilla's San Pablo Airport.

U.S. Cutback Of Dependents Is Reduced

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American servicemen's wives and children had a partial reprieve today from the Pentagon order sharply reducing the number of dependents abroad to save U.S. dollars and gold.

Revised instructions from Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. will permit at least an additional 65,000 wives and children to remain overseas. The new order also will slow the rate of their return to the United States.

OKINAWA EXEMPTION

The new directive, announced yesterday, also exempted from the dependents cut military families stationed in Okinawa, the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba and installations in the Azores, Mexico, Canada and Panama. There are 30,549 American military dependents in these areas.

President Eisenhower ordered the restriction on servicemen's families overseas four weeks ago as part of his program to stem the nearly four-billion-dollar annual drain of American gold and dollars.

MANY COMPLAINTS

This brought complaints from military leaders and congressional defense experts that the limit of servicemen's wives and children overseas would shatter morale and might cause mass resignations.

Instead of cutting the 484,000 overseas dependents to 200,000 as Eisenhower directed, the new orders allow the services to reduce to about 265,000.

In addition, instead of being required to reduce at a rate of 15,000 a month beginning in January, the services will be allowed to set their own rate for the return.

American Named 1 Of 4 Cardinals

ARCHBISHOP RITTER
New cardinal

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named four new cardinals, including Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis, Mo.

Two South Americans and an Italian were the others elevated by the pontiff.

The Italian prelate is Msgr. Giuseppe Ferretto, a member of the Vatican Curia.

The new Latin-American cardinals are Most Rev. Luis Concha Cordoba, archbishop of Bogota, and Most Rev. Jose Umberto Quintero, archbishop of Caracas.

They will be elevated at a secret consistory at the Vatican Jan. 16.

Creation of the four new cardinals will bring the membership of the Sacred College of the Roman Catholic Church to an all-time record of 86.

There was no indication today that the pope would make public at the Jan. 16 consistory the names of the three cardinals he designated "in pectore" (in his heart) on March 28, 1960. At that time the pope named seven new cardinals which brought the college to a total of 85, plus the three "in pectore."

Elevation of Archbishop Ritter brings U.S. representation to six. The others are Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago, James Francis L. Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston and Aloisius Cardinal Muench, former bishop of Fargo, N.D., and now a member of the Vatican Curia.

John Cardinal O'Hara, archbishop of Philadelphia, died last August.

Man Arrested For Planning Bomb Threat Against Kennedy

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 73-year-old man was held in $100,000 bond today on a charge that he intended to turn himself into a human bomb aimed at the life of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Richard Paul Pavlick, retired postal worker from Belmont, N.H., was given a hearing before U.S. Commissioner George L. Pink last night. Pink said the bond was one of the highest ever set in this city.

Pavlick was arrested yesterday in Palm Beach and officers said they seized several sticks of dynamite, blasting caps, wiring and other paraphernalia in his automobile and motel room.

Assistant U.S. Dist. Atty. Robert Rust of Miami requested the $100,000 bond.

ible and we believe that this is the case in Addis Ababa."

The emperor's representatives in Asmara, capital of Eritrea, have proclaimed that former Italian colony remains loyal to Selassie.

The radio at Addis Ababa, where Selassie's opponents named the emperor's son king, remained silent 24 hours after it announced that fighting had broken out there.

The emperor's defense minister, Mengesha, in a broadcast over what appeared to be a secret radio station, reported the emperor had returned but did not say where.

The Ethiopian consul-general in Nairobi said he had a report from Addis Ababa that soldiers loyal to the emperor surrounded the city and called on the rebels to surrender to avoid bloodshed.

Violent gun battles raged yesterday in the narrow streets of Addis Ababa, and the Ethiopian radio said several civilians had been killed or wounded in an "inhuman massacre."

Ike Cuts Off Cuban Sugar For 3 Months

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, accusing Fidel Castro of "deliberate hostility toward the United States," today barred any Cuban sugar imports during the first three months of 1961.

By presidential order, Eisenhower fixed the Cuban sugar quota "at zero" for the first quarter of the coming year. This was a sharp follow up to his action last year when he reduced Cuba's sugar imports by about 700,000 short tons.

Unless Cuba can sell its sugar elsewhere, the new action was a 40-million-dollar economic blow to the Castro regime.

In normal times, Cuba supplied about one-third of the nine million tons of sugar used annually by this country.

Eisenhower stressed Castro's animosity toward the United States and the Cuban leader's pro-Communist tendencies.

He said the Castro government "has continued to follow a policy of deliberate hostility toward the United States and to commit steadily increasing amounts of its sugar crop to Communist countries."

president himself asks you to serve?" she asked.

To accept, however, Mrs. Smith needed approval of her new boss — Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who appointed her only two weeks ago as deputy chief of the state Division of Labor Law Enforcement. Brown was in Southern California and she had difficulty reaching him. Eventually she got through to the governor. He "seemed very pleased," accepted her resignation as of early in January, and wished her good luck.

She will go to Washington just before the Jan. 20 inauguration. She will take over the post of treasurer from Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest of Utah.

As the treasurer of the United States she will be under Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, whose selection for the cabinet was announced today by the president-elect.

The job itself is purely an accounting one. The treasurer receives and accounts for all public moneys that may be deposited in the treasury at Washington, in the Federal Reserve banks and other designated depositories. It includes no policy decisions.

Best known activity of a U.S. treasurer is the counter-signing, with the secretary of the treasury, of all paper money issued by the government.

In practice, however, there is an added duty. The treasurer, particularly in recent administrations when a woman has been appointed to the job, has a busy public speaking assignment. She has represented the administration at numerous public meetings around the country, particularly at meetings of women's organizations. An informal chore at these meetings is autographing dollar bills, a thing many people appear to cherish.

In the East, Mrs. Smith will be near the rest of her family. Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Gunn, live in Bedford Village, N.Y., with their two children.

Mrs. Smith and her husband, Fred H. Smith IV, a San Francisco office equipment executive, were divorced a year and a half ago.

Born in Montreal, Canada, of American parents, Mrs. Smith has lived in Marin County since 1945. She attended Smith College in Massachusetts, being graduated in 1937 with a B.A. in Oriental civilization. She had planned a career in museum work, but found it "a closed field."

She became a teacher, then got interested in politics in the first unsuccessful congressional campaign in 1948 of her Kent Woodlands neighbor, Roger Kent, now Democratic State Central Committee chairman.

She worked for the Independent-Journal in 1949-51 as reporter, feature writer and editor of the Marin Magazine section. Then she became an intern in the Coro Foundation in San Francisco, a political training organization, and served a year on the staff of the foundation.

She was elected national committeewoman from California in 1956 and has been working at politics almost full time since then.

Wreckage also was scattered widely in the Staten Island crash.

A control tower spokesman at La Guardia field said the TWA plane was being watched on radarscope as it came in, when the image suddenly disappeared from view, apparently when the planes collided and fell.

tillery and ammunition to the pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas and the paratroopers of Kong Le.

The Navy announced yesterday that two aircraft carriers, 1,400 Marines and several destroyers are deployed in the South China Sea.)

Names of the five hostage Americans were not known immediately. They were reported to have been seized by the leftist forces in their homes in the western section of the city. The area is some distance from the center of the city where the U.S. Embassy and major buildings were smoke-blackened ruins.

The five men were members of the U.S. International Cooperation Administration unit here which dispenses foreign aid, dealing generally in economic assistance to underdeveloped nations.

More than 300 foreigners, including 135 Americans, arrived in Bangkok, Thailand, after a flight from the embattled Laotian capital across the northern Thai border. The refugees ran a gauntlet of shellbursts and sniper fire to cross the Mekong River into Thailand. The group included several American women.

American informants claimed Russians or Communist North Vietnamese were serving the leftist artillery, laying precision fire across the center of the city.

"I have helped train Laotian artillerymen and have never seen them shoot like this before," one American said.

Police Chief Warns On Theft Of Mail

Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt issued a warning today that his department is keeping a sharp watch against theft of mail from mailboxes.

This came after what Goerndt called a "rash" of Christmas card stealing in the hill area. Yesterday officer Theodore Zink "staked out" for four hours at Glen Drive and Currey Avenue, caught a 10-year-old Marin City boy taking Christmas cards from three mail boxes on Currey Avenue. The boy said he took them "because he liked to look at the pictures."

Two weeks ago, police said, two 7-year-old Sausalito boys were found taking mail from mail boxes in the Currey and Platt Avenues area.

Cards had been found lying opened, on the hillside, police said, but mail other than Christmas cards has not been bothered. About 40 cards had been taken in the two-week period.

Musician Lands Auto In Bay

Richard Crabtree, 26-year-old nightclub musician of 5 Tomales Street, Sausalito, drove his car into the bay at Bridgeway and Richardson Street in Sausalito at 2:55 a.m. today.

The car broke through two sections of pipe railing and dropped 12 feet into the mud at low tide, reported Sausalito police.

Crabtree told police he was on his way home from his job at the Hungry I in San Francisco. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on his right hand and bruises on his forehead.

Novato Club Stage Destroyed By Vandal

Someone chopped up the wooden stage platform at the Novato Community Clubhouse, sheriff's deputies reported today.

The platform, about eight by four feet, is behind the clubhouse, at Machin and DeLong Avenues. Mrs. Ernest Barnwell, vice president of the club, discovered the damage yesterday.

NEW SALES GIMMICK

Auto Company Offers Rebate In U. S. Bonds

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—The auto industry today studied without official comment George Romney's newest gimmick to sell more American Motors cars by offering buyers rebates of government savings bonds.

Romney announced the plan yesterday with a flourish in a news conference in a plush New York hotel. He called it sharing progress with the nelected customer and invited the rest of the auto companies to join him.

Apparently there will be no mad rush to do so.

Privately, various auto men expressed the opinion that Romney's plan will create considerable interest and probably help his sales.

Romney is highly regarded by his competitors, both personally and as a shrewd business man. He is credited with singlehandedly selling the American public on the idea of a compact car—the size which currently is accounting for at least 30 per cent of all automobile sales.

Basically the program calls for a rebate of one $25 bond to each customer for each 10 per cent increase over last year's sales which American Motors accomplishes in the four months dating back to Dec. 1.

If sales increase 10 per cent, every buyer gets one $25 bond. If the increase is 20 per cent, $50 in bonds; 30 per cent means $75 in bonds; 40 per cent means $100 in bonds and 50 per cent or more means $125 in bonds.

The plan applies equally to buyers whether they purchase the tiny imported Metropolitan or the much larger Ambassador V8. But there are certain restrictions.

These include: Delivery must be made between Dec. 1 and March 31. The maximum payment is $125 in bonds. The program applies only in the United States. The rebate is not applied to cars bought by the government.

DOLORES MARTIN
Mass slayer?

Detroit Police Search For Killer Of Four

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit police pressed a city and state-wide search today for a woman who apparently slew her son, her sister-in-law and two infant nieces after leaving a suicide note written on a 15-foot roll of shelf paper.

Mrs. Dolores Martin, 26, disappeared after leaving the note in her home here yesterday. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Wilkes, 55, called police when she couldn't find her daughter or Mrs. Martin's 3-year-old son, Daran.

Two policemen searched through the home, but found nothing amiss and left. Mrs. Wilkes then walked to the district station and asked that the police search again.

A second squad came to the house and opened a cedar chest which Mrs. Wilkes told them "feels heavy." Inside was the body of Daran, suffocated by a pillow.

A search of the house also uncovered the note, in which Mrs. Martin threatened suicide and the lives of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Virginia Martin, and her two daughters.

Police rushed to Virginia Martin's house, broke down the front door and discovered three bodies in a pool of blood on the living room floor.

The victims were Virginia Martin, 23, and her two daughters, Wanda, 2, and Toni Rene, 1. All had been stabbed repeatedly.

SOME DRIVERS ARE PRONE TO ACCIDENTS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Are you an accident-prone driver? Dr. Donald Schuster, psychologist at the University of Southern California, says a chronic violator has these characteristics:

He is physically and psychologically active.

He "drives" himself to get ahead.

Despite aggressiveness, he probably relies on others.

He is unwilling to conform culturally.

He lacks aesthetic appreciation.

He is willing to take chances.

Schuster said he has tested 2,000 drivers since 1958.

Top Drug Makers Expected At Legislative Hearing

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Seven of the state's top drug manufacturers, subpoenaed in an effort to reach agreement on lower prices for drugs bought by the state government, are expected to be represented at an Assembly committee hearing in San Francisco next Thursday.

Chairman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco) of the Social Welfare Committee said it would be the first time representatives of the state, druggists, manufacturers and wholesalers discussed the question together.

Burton said he hopes the participants can develop a method to reduce government drug costs because of its heavy volume buying.

"Despite the state expenditure of some 36 million dollars for drugs in the public assistance program over the past three years, we have not received the benefit of any wholesale discounts which would normally accrue to such a large purchaser," the chairman added.

Burton said the manufacturers had been invited to earlier hearings on the same subject, but had failed to appear. He said the other representatives had answered his invitations.

Inverness Water Labeled Unsafe

Inverness Park water is unsafe for drinking and should be boiled five to 10 minutes, the Marin County Health Department warned today.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, said laboratory tests have shown water of the Inverness Park water system to have a consistently "low bacteriological quality."

The system's owner, J. J. Downey, has been repeatedly warned about his water, Dr. Albrecht said. The health department notified him yesterday that if the water condition is not corrected immediately, his permit to operate will be revoked.

If Downey continues to sell water after he loses his permit, Dr. Albrecht said, the case will be turned over to the district attorney's office. It is a misdemeanor to operate without a permit, she said.

Land Swap Proposed For Sausalito Park

The Sausalito Recreation Commission will renew its request for city purchase of nine acres of underwater Napa-Litho Streets property Jan. 3 with a proposal that a land swap may reduce the cost to the city.

The commission is eager to have the city acquire the property for an aquatic park, and has already designated it "Sausalito Marina" on a long-range recreational development plan which was presented at last night's commission meeting, reported John R. Minton, chairman.

Minton said a survey had shown that the city has five acres of underwater streets in the area—including portions of Litho, Bee and Donohue Streets and Railroad and Humboldt Avenues. Some of this land might be exchanged to Sausalito Properties, Inc., for part of the Napa-Litho property, he suggested.

It was reported that the January, 1959, appraised value of the nine acres of Sausalito Properties Inc. is $80,000. A sale price of $175,000 was quoted to the commission earlier.

The commission also:

1. Asked City Manager Charles A. Brown to call for new bids on the project to widen the Turney Street launching ramp to accommodate two boats.

2. Sent to the city manager its approval of a 10-year lease of Bayside Park.

Felon Faces Murder Count Next Monday

A 27-year-old San Quentin Prison life-termer will be arraigned on a murder charge in Marin Superior Court Monday for the fatal stabbing of a fellow inmate last Oct. 11.

Farrell H. Fenton, who is serving a life term for burglaries, forgery and robbery in Alameda County, was indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury last night. He is charged with stabbing Edward Ybarra, a narcotics violator from Los Angeles, who was watching the World Series in the prison gymnasium.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, who headed an investigation, said Ybarra was called out of the gym into an adjoining weight lifting room where he died with a deep stab wound in the back and several wounds in front.

The death weapon, believed to be a knife, has not been found.

Fenton faces the gas chamber if convicted.

3 Cases Of Beer Stolen At Eatery

Three cases of beer disappeared from a storeroom behind the Oak Tree Restaurant at Ignacio, the manager reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Steve Grenowich of 5359 Redwood Highway, said he has kept beer and peanut oil in a garage to the rear of the restaurant under lock and key. The other half of the garage is used by a newspaper distributor, who works there early in the morning.

Investigators said a partial wall divides the two sections, but a person could climb over the wall from one side to the other.

SUPERVISORS AIR VIEWS

Firm Denies Letter To Planner A Threat

Ralph T. Walters and architect Lloyd Flood joined today in voicing hope that their "towers apartment" project for Strawberry Point will be decided by the Marin County Board of Supervisors Tuesday on its merits rather than because of yesterday's radio-squabble.

They denied that a letter from Walters to City Planning Director Mary Summers had constituted a "threat," though it gave notice that if she took part in a KTIM radio panel discussion of tower apartments, the firm of Walter-Flood, Inc., would ask for her dismissal.

In a joint statement they said:

"It will be extremely unfortunate if this passing incident causes anyone to lose sight of the fact that we have an extremely fine project which should be considered beneficial to all, and gladly accepted.

"Surely it (Walter's letter) was not in our opinion any personal threat whatever, though we feel strongly that it is improper for a paid public employee to discuss on a radio program a matter still up for decision.

"It would make no difference whether the employee were in favor of or against any particular project. This is a moral issue."

Chairman Walter R. Castro of the board of supervisors disclosed Mrs. Summers had telephoned him about the letter Wednesday night.

"Personally I have no objection to any department head going on the air," he said. "I asked the county counsel and he said there was no legal issue."

However, Supervisor William D. Fusselman said: "We sit in a quasi-judicial capacity. An attache of a court wouldn't go out and discuss a matter still under consideration, so I consider it an impropriety for a county official to do so.

"But I wouldn't have told Mrs. Summers not to speak. It's notorious that I'm a believer in free speech."

Supervisor James Marshall, declaring 'I' still haven't made up my mind how I'm going to vote next Tuesday" declared, "It was okay with me for Mary to go on the air. I was in favor of it.

"I feel that the letter was very inappropriate, and if it wasn't a threat what was it?" said Supervisor Vera Schultz.

Supervisor William Gnoss was away on a trip to Ukiah today.

State Psychiatrists Find Killer Of Patrolman Sane

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two state psychiatrists have found that Erwin W. Walker, sentenced to death 14 years ago for killing a highway patrolman, is sane and should be returned to prison.

The finding reported by the State Mental Hygiene Department today means that Walker, 42, of Glendale, will go before the Marin County Superior Court for a new sanity hearing.

A hearing date will be set as soon as the report of Dr. Louis Nash of Atascadero State Hospital and Dr. Walter Rappaport of Agnews State Hospital is forwarded to the court. The doctors went to the State Medical Facility at Vacaville to see Walker Wednesday.

Walker has been undergoing treatment in state institutions ever since he was found insane just a half hour before his scheduled execution April 15, 1949. He had attempted suicide the day before.

He was convicted of the 1946 slaying of Patrolman Loren Roosevelt, who stopped Walker to question him about a burglary.

Should the Marin court agree with the doctors' findings, it would be up to the Los Angeles County Superior Court, which convicted him originally to set a new execution date.

Cadets Attend Yule Service

The unfinished auditorium on the San Rafael Military Academy was used for the first time today as columns of cadets, dressed in full service uniform, filed inside to participate in Christmas services conducted by Rev. John D. Riley, school chaplain and rector of St. Paul's Church.

Temporary seating arrangements were provided for the students on the auditorium floor. The building will be dedicated next May 7 at an Alumni Day ceremony.

A Hammond electric organ donated to the school by Ralph A. Millard of 62 Rafael Drive, San Rafael, was played at the service by Millard's grandson, Cadet Bruce Lindsay of Ignacio.

Moslem Terrorists Sought In Algeria

ALGIERS (UPI)—French paratroopers today searched the casbahs for Moslem terrorists on a rampage of murder and pillage in the native quarters of Algeria's major cities.

Moslem rebels shouting "independent Algeria" and "long live Abbas" eluded paratroopers on the alert for terrorists roaming through the casbahs of Algiers, Oran, Constantine and Bone. Ferhat Abbas is the premier of the Algerian rebel "government."

The death toll of the riots stemming from President Charles de Gaulle's recent trip to Algeria climbed to 131 yesterday with the discovery of five murder victims.

Deputy press chief Jean Louis Guillaud said Moslems had ransacked a synagogue in the Casbah in Algiers and had terrorized Jewish residents in the native quarter. But the government spokesman said there were no reports of any Jews being killed.

Leaflets were scattered late yesterday by army helicopters over the casbah with an appeal to Algerian Moslems to return to work and put faith in de Gaulle who is determined to win semi-independence for Algeria.

The leaflets were dropped on the teeming Arab quarters during wild demonstrations for Algerian independence.

Although an uneasy calm settled over most of Algeria, riots were touched off in the port of Bone by funerals of Moslems shot down by French security forces during the recent demonstrations. Other groups of Moslems staged small funeral processions without incident.

The French government is moving swiftly to crush the last vestiges of Algerian violence and punish the ringleaders of the riots in advance of the Jan. 8 referendum on the Algerian question.

French Premier Michel Debre was expected to appear before the national assembly in Paris today and read a statement on de Gaulle's plan for an "Algerian Algeria" policy.

Nine Bay Area Counties Due Millions More

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Bay Area's nine counties, now populated by 3,638,852, will have more than four million before 1970, nearly six million by 1980 and nearly seven and one-half millions by 1990, predicts an economic survey by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The survey was published today by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

It noted:

"This area comprises only 4.5 per cent of California's area but accounts for 23 per cent of the population, 31 per cent of the wholesale sales, 54 per cent of the water-borne commerce and 36 per cent of bank debits."

HITS RIGHTISTS, REDS

Nepal King Presses Government Shakeup

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — King Mahendra today pressed his purge of politicians in taking over strong-man powers with reports of widespread arrests including right wingers as well as Communists.

The monarch, 39, declared his primitive Himalayan Hindu kingdom, sandwiched between India and Communist-occupied Tibet, would maintain a policy of strict neutrality in world affairs.

Gurkha troops guarded the royal palace and government buildings, including the government radio station.

The capital was outwardly calm. But all Katmandu daily newspapers, except one, suspended publication today to protest the king's coup in arresting popular Premier B. P. Koirala and 10 of his 11 cabinet ministers and suspending the constitution.

The young monarch's blow ending the experiment in parliamentary democracy he launched himself 18 months ago came with such suddenness that both the Nepalese and foreign diplomats were stunned. Nepal has a population of about eight million.

He charged the Koirala government with "failure to maintain law and order" and "harboring undesirable activity"—but did not spell out the charges.

There were reports that Communist leader Pushpalal and Bharat Shamsher of the right-wing Gorka Parishad party had been rounded up along with other leaders of the ruling Nepali Congress Party.

In Washington, U.S. State Department officials said the king's seizure of power appeared to be due to purely domestic issues.

In New Delhi, Nepalese Ambassador S. J. B. Daman told reporters the king was forced to act because of popular discontent against the Koirala government. Daman said there had been popular resentment against taxes and land takeovers imposed by the Koirala government.

Episcopal Diocese Against Book Ban

The Episcopal Diocese of California today aligned itself, through its department of education, against "irresponsible or hasty censorship" of books on Tamalpais Union High School District's recommended reading list.

Rev. Canon Trevoy A. Hoy, director of education for the diocese, which includes some 150 Episcopal churches, wrote the Tamalpais district board expressing concern over attempts by Rev. Michael Barkowska of Calvary Baptist Church and several other clergymen to have "Of Mice and Men" and "Catcher in the Rye" removed from high school library shelves and the reading list.

The Episcopal diocese will have a representative present at the Tam board meeting next Monday night at Redwood High School, Canon Hoy said.

His letter to the board declared:

"A number of our clergy are concerned about the efforts that have been made by a group of ministers in Marin County to criticize the use of certain books in your school. Specifically mentioned have been 'Catcher in the Rye' and 'Of Mice and Men.'

"While we recognize it is the duty of the school administration to assign books which are appropriate to the experience and age level of children and teen-agers, we wish to let you know that the grounds upon which these selections are being attacked are not shared by many Christians.

"In the first place, 'Catcher in the Rye' has been found a most helpful description of our contemporary culture. It may, indeed, have real value in bringing college students and adults to grasp some of the religious issues of the day.

"Moreover, we are not fearful of books which speak unfavorably of the church or depict people using God's name in vain . . ."

The letter expressed hope "that no undue pressure will be brought to bear upon your board that will encourage irresponsible or hasty censorship." It closed with, "trusting you will let us know if there is some further way in which we can support you at any time in preserving our civil liberties."

Rev. D. Murray Hammond, rector of the Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley and dean of the Convocation of Marin, which includes all Episcopal churches in Marin County, said he shares Rev. Hoy's views, and added:

"The principle criteria of that which our high school students read must be a perfection of the writing and the truth that is set forth, not one or more of the 10 Commandments. Indeed, were the criteria of the 10 Commandments applied to such a book as the Holy Bible, there would be very little of the Old Testament left. I trust that the democratic process will not allow the misguided scruples of a few to become the standard of teaching in our public schools."

AS SEASON OPENS

Price Dispute, Weather Hold Up Eureka Crab

The northern California crab season opened yesterday, but bad weather and a last-minute price dispute delayed arrival of "Eureka crabs" which are expected to lower prices in fresh crabmeat in Marin.

First, placement of pots in the water was held up one day by a price dispute. So the pots went in only yesterday, after the season opened, second, it was so rough and windy only a few boats went out.

Reports today were that poor weather still prevailed but boats were out to collect from the pots. How good the catch will prove was still unknown.

With presumably increasing supplies next week from areas north of Point Arena, closed by law until Dec. 15, high Marin prices should come down.

The "boat price" at Eureka is 16 cents a pound, one cent over last year.

U.S. Personal Income Stays Steady

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department reports that, despite a growing work force, personal income—one of the key yardsticks of the nation's prosperity — remained steady in November, neither rising or falling.

Wage and salary payments dropped as manufacturing payrolls shrank for the sixth consecutive month, the department reported yesterday. The over-all personal income total held steady, however, because of an offsetting increase in payment of unemployment insurance.

The November stalemate, the second this year, left personal income at the record yearly rate reached in October of 409.5 billion dollars. But for the first 11 months of the year, it was at an annual rate of 404.1 billion dollars, making it appear doubtful the final 12-month total would reach the 405 billion officially forecast by the department.

With the work force growing by more than one million persons a year, personal income usually rises each month unless there are unfavorable economic developments.

Included in the personal income total are wages, salaries, rents, dividends, interest, government benefit payments and the earnings of proprietors, farmers and professional persons.

The department said manufacturing payrolls fell by 700 million dollars at annual rates last month "as both employment and average hours worked in November declined more than seasonally."

Drunk Driver Gets 15 Days

Claude J. Rich, 34, of 778 Rendon Lane, Novato, drew 15 days in county jail for his first drunken driving offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday. Rich has already served more than 15 days, for which he gets credit. However, he is still being held in jail for Nevada authorities, who want to extradite him on a charge of obtaining property under false pretenses in Carson City.

Rich was caught driving while drunk on Harbor Drive in Black Point on Nev. 11.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Czechoslovak Cooking Winning Friends Out In Far West Marin

"A repository of many basic values in life—something for the mind, something for the heart, something for the palate . . ."

So wrote Shirley Temple in the guest book of Inverness Lodge after a recent visit with her family to the quaint West Marin hostelry which in spite of all improvements by the Prokupeks during the past five years still retains all those old-world virtues that first attracted this Czechoslovakian family to settle here.

CLUB MAN — Bar manager Ted Huber at the Peacock Golf and Country Club, San Rafael is a liquor dispenser by incidence. His real training has been in club management. Huber is a Petaluma resident but has worked in Marin County for several years.

Guest pages at the lodge are filled with similar sentiments from other visitors who have come here to get away from the touch-and-go pace of the outside world, for this is primarily a place of peace and quiet. Many find the off-season more enjoyable than the summer months for this very reason.

The time between Christmas and New Year's will see the cabins at Inverness Lodge well booked — I understand that many of them have already been reserved. If the thought of a quiet holiday season in Marin but away from home appeals to you, here's the place to go, but I'd advise you to make arrangements now.

Actually there are two faces to the Prokupek's interests in Inverness — the one described above and a captivatingly different one at Drake's Arms in the heart of town. As with Inverness Lodge, it is operated by Milan and Manka Prokupek and their son-in-law and daughter Vladimir and Alena Nevl. Milan Jr. is still too young to get in on the managerial end of the business but he is already showing considerable talent in cooking at the Lodge.

Drake's Arms was designed by Gladys and Adolph Oko with a distinct British pub atmosphere. Another attraction from a dining standpoint is the price range which is less than that at the Lodge and runs under $3.00 for good American fare. This may seem odd—a British pub run by Czechoslovakians serving American food and Danish beer, but it loses nothing because of its international structure.

Personally, I like its solid four-to-one martinis, its hot roast beef sandwiches with German fried potatoes—a bit of cheesecake imported from the Lodge.

Strangely enough, I've talked to many Marin residents who have never found their way out to Inverness — doubly strange because a constant stream of outsiders know and treasure its charm.

NEW CHEF at San Rafael Joe's is Valdo Michetti, an old school chum of Hector Rubini —they both came from Tuscany and went through the Americanization school in San Francisco together. This is Valdo's first appointment in Marin County, however. All should now be harmony in the kitchen, since Hector's partner, Guido Farina, is also a Tuscan.

Hector himself is all wrapped up in promoting his Red Rock Marina project in Richmond on the city ferry pier. Fishing is good, he says, and plans are being drawn for 1,000 berths, ready sometime next year. By next summer, look also for bar and sandwich faciilties here—with a full restaurant to follow later.

San Rafael Joe's will be closed over the Christmas holiday—both Sunday and Monday.

SMALL though it is, Bill Deaver's coffee shop at Fourth and B Streets is a popular drop-in for just about everyone in San Rafael. It's a daytime hang-out—only breakfasts, lunches and mid-day snacks are served here but favor runs high for Bill's special pancakes, ham and eggs and other heartier fare.

You'll rub shoulders (and we mean this literally) with execs, clerks and sporting world characters from most anyplace in or out of the county.

ONE THING about the course at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club—only nine holes are laid out for playing.

This is a boon for duffers like myself and I'd like to suggest my own scoring method—one card for the score you claim to have made, and another for the strokes you didn't count.

Added together, they make a respectable showing for 18 holes and the whole thing only takes about half the time.

Incidentally, Ted Huber, now bar manager of Peacock Gap is known to most Marinites as a mixologist rather than as a club man, though he's more of the latter by training and experience.

It was his study at the University of Washington; he was manager of the Minocqua Country Club, Minocqua, Wis., which once hosted the Eisenhower family, and he has other country club associations to his credit.

Here're Final Figures On Propositions

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's 1.75-billion-dollar water bond issue won by a margin of 163,444 out of nearly six million votes cast in final figures released yesterday by Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

The Senate reapportionment measure, Proposition 15, was defeated by 1,531,905 votes—a margin of nearly two to one.

The final vote on the big water bond issue, Proposition 1, was Yes 3,008,328, No 2,834,384.

The vote on Proposition 15 was Yes 1,876,185, No 3,408,185.

NO GAIN FOR L.A.

The reapportionment measure would have resuffled the 40-member State Senate on a sectional-population basis instead of the present geographical alignment. Los Angeles County would have gotten seven seats.

Proposition 1 is designed to pay for a vast water transportation system to haul surplus Northern California water to the arid south.

The legislature lost on two measures: Proposition 2 to increase assemblymen's terms from two to four years and Proposition 5 to boost all lawmaker's pay from $500 to $750 a month. Both were defeated by margins of close to 3 to 2.

BIG MARGIN

Proposition 6, giving nonprofit golf courses a break on property taxes was approved by a margin of a little better than 3 to 2.

The final count on all 15 ballot propositions:

1. Water bonds: Yes 3,008,328, No 2,834,384.

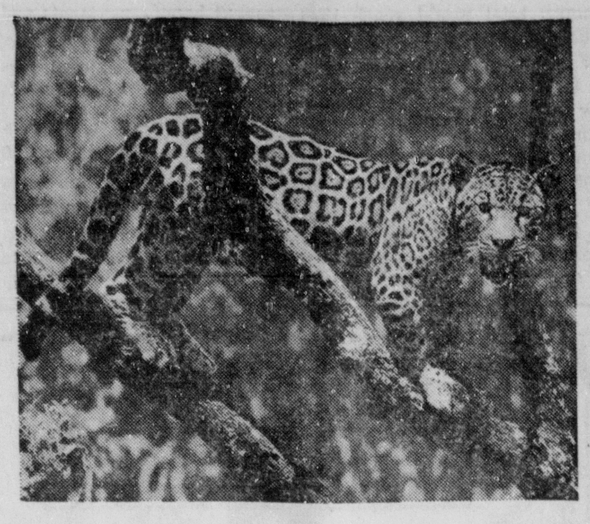
Hams To Elect

Members of the Tamalpais Amateur Radio Operators Club will elect new officers at a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall on Machin Street in Novato.



LORD OF JUNGLE—This jaguar is a hero of Walt Disney's true-life adventure "Jungle Cat," a color film on wildlife in the Amazon basin of Brazil. The film is showing at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo.

MARIN MOVIE FARE

Film Tells How Men Conquered River

By LES DARD

Herewith the weekend filmfare:

RAFAEL THEATER

In the middle of the 19th Century, a party of Americans under Maj. John Wesley Powell set out to traverse the perilous Colorado River rapids.

It is his story which is told in "Ten Who Dared" (color), which comes to the Rafael screen on Sunday in San Rafael.

Nine men accompanied the one-armed Powell (John Beal), among them William Dunn (Brian Keith), who actually has the meatiest part. The others include a Union army veteran, a youngster and an ex-felon.

Besides the problems posed by the treacherous river, the party faces up to numerous internal conflicts and the usual problems of exploration.

The film was made under Walt Disney auspices and doubtless will appeal to Disney fans.

LARK THEATER

"Carry On, Nurse" is a British comedy which establishes that the male animal cuts a pretty sad figure when bereft of his pants.

A hospital serves as the setting for this romp, which follows the day and night activities of the patients, old and new.

Wilfred Hyde White is the best known name in the cast of this long-running film in Larkspur.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Two features and a featurette designed for family viewing are now on the San Anselmo screen. They're "The Wizard of Baghdad," a new fantasy-adventure so new I haven't even been able to preview it, and a Walt Disney combination:

"Jungle Cat," latest of the True-Life Adventure series, which traces the birth and growth of that most dangerous jungle creatures, the jaguar, and

"The Hound Who Thought He Was a Raccoon," a delightful short.

All three are in color.

MOTOR MOVIES

"The Lost World" (CinemaScope, color), now showing, is a big budget monster movie based on the book by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

The idea is that there's a huge, isolated plateau in the South American jungle, where prehistoric monsters still wander.

Scientist Claude Rains, all done up in a red wig, and accompanied by Jill St. John, Michael Rennie, Richard Haydn and David Hedison, among others, takes a 'copter into this remote area. They find the monsters as well as some they never knew existed, and very inhospitable aborigines.

Estimate: Fantasy, Hollywood-style.

Probation Office Staffer Resigns

Fritz Nitschke, probation officer who has been handling juveniles picked up during weekends, has resigned from his job, Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher disclosed yesterday.

Nitschke, who came to work for the Marin Probation Office on Jan. 1 this year, quit effective Dec. 9. Busher said Nitschke gave no reason for his resignation and did not say where he was going.

Other staff members will be alternately taking over weekend duty on an overtime basis until next month, when Busher hopes to select a successor. He is interviewing applicants now.

STICKY PROBLEM

Machine Can't Lick Ills Of Post Office

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — "The best laid schemes o'mice and men gang aft a-gley," wrote Poet Robert Burns.

And so it goes for the world's first fully-automated post office here.

Ever since the gadget-loaded 20-million-dollar plant was opened at the West River Industrial Park Oct. 20, numerous vexing problems have cropped up.

First, postal officials discovered that the high-speed electronic facer-cancelers were completely baffled by Christmas seals on the face of letter mail. The complicated machinery, apparently bewildered by the presence of more than one stamp on the face of letters, shunted mail into the reject slot, necessitating hand-canceling.

Next came a report that the mail-sorting equipment chewed up between 30 and 40 letters a day. The damage was caused, according to engineers, when letter mail being processed by electronic sorters was not removed quickly enough from sorting bins. The result was that mail backed up and was shoved into conveyor mechanisms. Chains and wheels in the conveyors chewed up letters before they were dropped out or were spotted.

Then followed an announcement that caused several veteran postmen to give the horse laugh to modern design: Old-fashioned manual equipment had been trucked into the mechanized post office to assist the machines in handling the Christmas rush mail. However, officials were quick to explain that the use of manual equipment to help in the holiday crush had been contemplated from the start.

Finally, a Providence newspaper set out to prove that the new post office is not only automated but unprejudiced. It was discovered in test mailings that letters carrying foreign stamps passed through canceling machines, by the eyes of postal clerks, and were delivered. The U.S. Post Office Department ordered an investigation into reported "illegal mailings."

"Of course there are some bugs," said Edward O. Campbell, project manager for Intelex which built the project. "But these are gradually being cleaned up. This is nothing serious. As far as the post office and Intelex is concerned, the new post office is operating perfectly."

The Christmas party for Homestead children will be held Dec. 23 at Brown's Hall with Mel Henriod as master of ceremonies. No time has been set for the party.

Russ Demand Dag Removal From U.N. Congo Command

COMBINED (UPI) & (AP)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—Russia demanded today that Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold be stripped of his authority over the forces of the U.N. command in the Congo.

The announced intention of the United Arab Republic, Guinea, Ceylon, Morocco and Indonesia to withdraw their contingents from the Congo "is tantamount to a vote of no confidence in the secretary-general and the U.N. command," Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin said at the outset of the General Assembly's urgently resumed debate on the Congo situation.

"One must have an inexhaustible fund of optimism to deny the utter collapse of the military and civilian operations of the United Nations in the Congo and the personal activities of the secretary-general . . ."

Attacking Hammarskjold, Zorin asked, "Is it not time to remove the secretary-general from command of the U.N. force and to give the command to those people who will enjoy the confidence of the Congolese people?"

The Soviets returned to the offensive against Hammarskjold as Russia reopened its campaign to restore ousted Premier Patrice Lumumba to power in the Congo.

India and Yugoslavia moved to break the Congo deadlock with a plan that would place Congolese troops under U.N. command and free Patrice Lumumba. The scheme was given little chance of winning support from East or West.

The Indian-Yugoslav proposal closely resembled the peace plan which Ceylon and Tunisia tried to put through the Security Council earlier this week but pulled back when they failed to muster support from either side.

One new feature in the current resolution is the recommendation to place Congolese troops under the United Nations.

The plan would also:

1. Take immediate steps for release of all political prisoners, including Lumumba, deposed Congo premier.

2. Take immediate steps to reconvene the Congo Parliament. The United States has insisted that it is only a rump parliament and that many of the deputies won't come out of hiding because they have been terrorized.

Teacher Pay Request Discussed In Novato

Teachers and trustees of the Novato Unified School District last night continued discussion on the relation of district finances to teacher requested pay hikes.

Trustees noted that it may take some time to increase from the present top district salary of $7,960 to the $9,150 which is the trustee aim. The present low salary of $4,600 would rise to $4,760, trustees have agreed.

The hikes at each end of the pay scale generally conform to requests from the Novato Teachers Assn. But trustees and teachers still must agree on the salary steps between.

The pupil load per teacher is expected to rise next year from the present 31-plus per class in elementary grades to an average 33. In the high school, classes will climb from an average 19 students to 21, Supt. W. J. J. Smith reported.

The rising teacher load follows the recommendation of financial expert Oscar Anderson, who has been advising teachers and trustees.

Negotiation on the teacher salary requests will continue, perhaps at the next scheduled board meeting, Jan. 10. Last night's meeting was a special one limited to salary discussion.

Iron ore is classified into 27 different grades, and often is mixed to produce the right grade.

Tape recordings of the speeches were played for the judging.

Kathy will receive a trip to Washington, D. C., where she will compete for a $1,500 scholarship awarded nationally on or about Washington's Birthday, reported Rev. Bernard Cummins, her speech instructor.

Frye Offered New Contract At Lagunitas

Lagunitas School District trustees last night offered a contract for 1961-1962 to Supt. Clifford L. Frye.

Frye has until May 20 to accept or refuse the contract, reported trustee Winifred S. Frederick.

The trustees voted to immediately increase the district's insurance by $49,500 to bring coverage to full replacement value of the school. Insurance Co. by North America handles the district's insurance.

Superintendent Frye told the trustees that 378 students are now enrolled in the district.

Frye also reported that the Marin County Planning Commission had approved the addition of 3.3 acres to the existing school site for the new addition and that the State Bureau of School Planning had given preliminary approval to plans submitted by architects Callister and Rosse of San Francisco.

The board will meet next on Jan. 6 at 8 p.m. in the school.

NEW CAR FOR SLOGAN — Mrs. Harold E. O'Brien of Larkspur receives keys to new Austin-Healey Sprite, first prize in radio KFRC's United Crusade slogan contest, from William Sweeney, the station's promotion manager. Standing beside Sweeney is Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon, president of the Marin United Crusade.

Marin Woman Wins Car For Fund Slogan

Mrs. Harold E. O'Brien of Larkspur, a former San Francisco school teacher, is winner of an Austin-Healey Sprite automobile for first place in radio KFRC's United Crusade slogan contest.

Although KFRC staged the contest to garner possible slogans for next year's Crusade drive, the 1960 "big give" campaign is still going on.

"We have not made our goal of $11,250,000 and are still accepting contributions," W Parmer Fuller III, Crusade campaign chairman, reminded today.

Mrs. O'Brien, the first prize winner, formerly taught at Lowell and Balboa High Schools. Her husband is still a Balboa High instructor. They live at 909 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur.

Their new, fully equipped automobile was among thousands of dollars worth of prizes donated by business firms to call attention to the Crusade. The first prize auto was donated by British Motor Cars of San Francisco.

KFRC received more than 3,500 entries in the contest, which ran from Nov. 7 to Dec. 4. Because of this response, the station plans to hold Crusade slogan contests every year, said R. E. Nason, KFRC general manager.

Fort Land Offered At Half Its Value

The federal government yesterday offered 291 acres of land at Forts Baker and Cronkhite to the state at half its value.

General Services Administration offered 130 acres at Fort Baker and 161 acres at Fort Cronkhite within the proposed Golden Gate Headlands State Park project to the state. Value was placed at $615,000, price to the state would be $307,500.

The offer was reported by Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera).

GSA's decision to give the state first crack at the purchase of the land that adjoins the city of Sausalito and straddles Highway 101 over and directly south of Waldo tunnel is a victory for the State Division of Beaches and Parks and Miller who have been fighting to save it for recreational purposes since last February.

GSA originally wanted to sell the Baker land to private interests for commercial development.

Miller introduced a bill providing for conveyance of the property to the state under the terms of the Surplus Property Act. The bill was co-sponsored in the Senate by Senators Clair Engle and Thomas H. Kuchel.

GSA next took the position that the state should pay the full market value for the land. A section of the Surplus Property Act permits a state or local public agency to buy surplus federal lands for park and recreation use at 50 per cent of market value.

Commuters Club To Name Officers

The Mill Valley Commuters Club will meet at 8:15 p.m., Tuesday in the city hall to elect officers and directors for 1961.

The nominating committee will propose the names of Edward E. Mitchell, Salem J. Rice, Rodric L. Robinson, Robert E. Swingley and Louis Wayers for the board of directors.

Incumbent directors who will be nominated for additional terms are James A. Bollier, Arch H. Caldwell Jr., John W. Clow, Muriel Pearce, Peter Rhodes, Arthur K. Smart, Stewart G. Wilson and Edward J. Boessenecker.

NEW DIET PILL KILLS APPETITE FOR 12 HOURS

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)— The William S. Merrell Co., a pharmaceutical firm, yesterday introduced a one-a-day diet pill it claims will kill the appetite for 12 hours.

It's called tenuate dospan and is a combination of an appetite suppressant and a new and improved delaying agent, according to Dr. John B. Chewning, a company official.

He said the pill melts gradually through moisture and normal muscle action in the intestines, releasing the hunger-killing drug over a day-long period.

The pill will be available soon by prescription only, Chewning said.

California's food packing and processing industry handles one-third of the U.S. total.

Man Taken From Phone Booth, Jailed

Howard B. Dunlap Jr., 38-year-old transient, was arrested on charges of drunkenness and resisting arrest today after San Rafael police said he tried to fight them off when they dragged him from a public telephone booth in the 800 block of B Street.

Police Officer James Carlton was kicked in the knee. Dunlap was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for cuts.

Officers Carlton and Eugene Frederick said they saw Dunlap lying inside the phone booth at 12:50 a.m. today. When they tried to pull him out, he swung out with his fists and kicked with his feet, they said.

He was jailed in lieu of $577.50 bail, to be arraigned at 1:30 p.m. today.

Master Plan For Marinship Discussed Without Quorum

Lack of a quorum prevented the Sausalito City Council from official action last night on the Marinship Master Plan, but it didn't prevent a public discussion.

Two council members were present: Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. and Councilman Marjorie Brady.

Ten Marinship property owners were present who took strong stands on these allegations:

1. The importance of light industry was minimized in planning consultant Frederick H. Allen's plan.

2. All of the light industry should be placed in a certain area and not be "checkerboarded" with apartments in Marinship's 141 acres.

3. The 32-foot height maximum should be eliminated.

Mayor Ehrlich asked the property owners to keep up a constant effort to put circulation and zoning plans into effect by keeping a "push" on the city planning commission and council.

He suggested it would be helpful if the property owners would provide some kind of explanation of the economic growth and development of the Marinship area and a map showing location of plants.

Cecil Muller of the Hercules Glue Co. said it would be helpful to property owners "if the council would come and see Marinship." Ehrlich at once set a visit for Jan. 7 at 9 a.m., to begin at the industrial center building.

Planning Commissioner Paul Micou asked owners for data to prove that small industry was really "going" in Marinship. This was after E. N. Kettenhofen, owner of the industrial center building, had said, "if I had three industrial center buildings, I could fill all three in six months."

Adolph A. Tiscornia, owner of the Federal Ornamental Iron and Bronze Co., said he receives many offers to buy his property for industrial use.

Alan H. Scurfield said: "Look back five years. In five years time it is amazing the growth that has taken place."

Commented Ehrlich, "to scramble within a key area apartments, a glue factory and a printer—this isn't the way sound planning is done."

Kettenhofen said: "There's a tremendous growth in Marinship . . . and you are indirectly shutting it off by checkerboarding apartments through it."

Scurfield suggested an industrial park and got applause from other property owners.

Drivers Shaken Up In Sideswipe Collision

Two drivers who changed lanes almost simultaneously were shaken up in a sideswipe collision just after midnight on Highway 101 south of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Drivers were John Francis Johnson of 228 Miramar Avenue, San Rafael, and Anatol Vladimir Braschnik of San Francisco, both southbound. Both told the California Highway Patrol they would see their own doctors.

Green Bay Won't Gamble Against Rams' Great Defensive Backfield

HANLEY

With the kind of hard running game Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung provide the Packers, Green Bay is not likely to gamble on passes in the Los Angeles Coliseum tomorrow against a vastly improved Ram air defense.

Even a tie would assure the Packers of the NFL Western Division title, so why take unnecessary risks? Packers Coach Vince Lombardi ordered his team to stay on the ground last Saturday against the 49ers because of the slushy field in Kezar Stadium. He undoubtedly will allow some passes against the Rams, but only enough to keep their defense honest.

In their role of spoilers during the second half of the season, the Rams have been trafficking in grand theft. Virtually all of their 23 pass interceptions this year came in their last seven games. Three were run back for touchdowns; seven others directly led to TDs and two were transformed into field goals. That accounts for one-third of the team's scoring.

IMPROVED DEFENSE

Pass protection is the most improved department in the Ram bag of tricks this fall. Last year, when Los Angeles won only two games, its season total of interceptions was a measly seven for an even more meager 5 yard return total. This year's 23 interceptions were run back for a total of 362 yards.

Jim David, the Rams' rookie defensive backfield coach, is chiefly responsible for the vastly improved records. The Rams' head man, Bob Waterfield, acknowledges this but also attributes it to "a better rush and a better attitude on the part of the whole defensive unit."

David, a former ace Detroit pass defender, believes most interceptions result "from a great individual effort" and not necessarily from a line rush on the passer. Nevertheless, he concedes that a determined rush is most helpful.

LEADING THIEVES

Charlie Britt, a rookie from Georgia, and Eddie Meador, now in his sophomore year as a pro, are the Ram backfield defensive stars. Together they have accounted for almost half of the interceptions.

"Eddie is the best natural defensive man in Ram history," says defensive assistant Don Paul. "It is impossible to go overboard on this guy."

"He's a great team man," says David. "Meador not only is the fastest man on the squad, he makes the all-out effort on every play. Eddie is the best corner man in the league."

The 49ers, Colts and Lions—all pulling for a Ram upset—hope Meador and Britt have their best day of the year tomorrow against the Packers.

If he plays the percentage, Lombardi will deny them that opportunity.

Big Trade Gives Braves 'Best Infield'

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves today advertised the "best infield in baseball" following their second major trade within 10 days in which they obtained slick-fielding shortstop Roy McMillan from the Cincinnati Reds in a three-team deal.

To get McMillan, the National League's top defensive shortstop of the past few seasons, the Braves let loose pitchers Joey Jay and Juan Pizarro, who promised much and never delivered.

The Reds then shuffled Pizarro and Cal McLish to the Chicago White Sox for third baseman Gene Freese. The Braves also got a minor league player from Cincinnati, to be named later.

Everyone seemed happy, particularly Milwaukee, which is in its briskest trading mood since moving here from Boston in 1953. A week ago Monday in St. Louis the Braves gave up four players, including outfielder Billy Bruton, for second baseman Frank Bolling of the Detroit Tigers.

This gives them an infield of Joe Adcock at first, Bolling and McMillan and Eddie Mathews at third.

"We didn't feel we could win a pennant without a better shortstop," said a jubilant John McHale, general manager of the Braves. This meant the shelving of Johnny Logan after nine seasons for use as a utility infielder or as bait in negotiations for a relief pitcher.

Logan, 33, had his worst season in the field and at bat last season, and had been on the block for some time.

Vice President Bill DeWitt of the Reds said in Cincinnati "we hated to part with McMillan," but the club felt it had to because "we needed more hitting and feel Freese can furnish it."

Freese, who previously played with the Pirates and Phillies, batted .273 with the White Sox last season, hitting 17 homers and driving in 79 runs in 127 games, after an early season slump.

White Sox President Bill Veeck said the multiple trade gives Chicago a "tremendous" boost in the 1961 pennant race.

"We led the league in hitting," Veeck said, "but finished third in pitching. So we went after pitching." He said J. H. Martin "can do the job" at third in hitting and fielding.

McMillan, 30, is known as a scrapper who fields better than he hits. He topped National League shortstops in fielding in 1957 and 1958. Hobbled by injuries in 1959, he came back to bat only .236 last year. His high mark was .272 in 1957.

NFL SHOWDOWN

Packers Vs. Rams On TV Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Coach Bob Waterfield hoped today to be able to patch up his injury-ridden squad to present a strong defense to the Green Bay Packers tomorrow in a game which means practically nothing to the Rams but everything to the division-leading Packers.

The game will be nationally-televised by CBS at 1:30 p.m.

With a victory, the Packers (7-4) will have a clear title to first place in the Western Conference of the National Football League and a championship playoff with the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Rams (4-6-1) upset the Baltimore Colts 10-3 last Sunday mainly with a great defensive effort, but they had half a dozen men racked up.

Defense may be the key to victory or defeat in tomorrow's game since the Packers have two of the top running backs in the NFL. Left halfback Paul Hornung, the leading point-maker, and fullback Jim Taylor, are among the league's top six ground-gainers.

INJURED RAMS

Injured Rams who, though ailing, may play include: Fullback Joe Marconi, defensive tackle John Baker, linebacker Jack Pardee and Gene Brito, defensive end. Lou Michaels, who can fill in at defensive end or tackle, also has a bad foot.

Definitely out of the Packer game are: Offensive end Del Shofner, quarterback Frank Ryan, and tackle John Kenerson.

The Rams will still have their new defensive secondary entry—Ollie Matson, who was a star in the Colt upset. Matson, supplanted at fullback by Marconi, had not played defensive in eight years, but he seemed to like it. He may go both ways if Marconi is idle. The Rams also have hard-running Tom Wilson to use as a fullback.

Coach Waterfield, eyeing the Packer roster, obviously expected the Packers to concentrate on their strong running game.

Injured Colts May Cook Up Surprises For 49ers Sunday

Johnny Unitas, the finest quarterback in professional football, gets a chance to show what he can do with his top receivers ailing Sunday.

Coach Weeb Eubank won't say whether Raymond Berry, Jim Mutscheller and Jerry Richardson will be ready to play against the San Francisco 49ers.

But 49er Coach Red Hickey figures they'll be in uniform and in action along with Lennie Moore, the Colt halfback who sprints downfield for the long touchdown passes.

COLTS FAVORED

Even though the Colts are beset with injuries and have lost their last three games, the world champions are 5½ point favorites over the host 49ers.

Eubanks looks mysterious when he's asked whether the Colts are cooking up something special for the 49ers.

"I expect we'll have a surprise or two," the chunky coach says.

Hickey and the 49ers are working on a surprise or two of their own. And the 49ers have their injury list finally clear.

One potential weapon the 49ers haven't utilized this year is Ray Norton, rookie speedster from San Jose State.

The Olympic sprinter has appeared in less than half a dozen plays all year.

With the Colts' defense realigned because of injuries, Hickey might look for the spot to gamble on Norton.

If Green Bay beats or ties the Rams in Los Angeles Saturday, Sunday's game here will be for second place money. If the Rams win, then the game here will be for the right to meet the Packers in a playoff for the National Football League's Western Division championship.

But either way, there's no next week for the loser.

OLYMPICS CHAMPION

Bill Nieder Retires Due To Knee Injury

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shot putter Bill Nieder, the world record holder and Olympic champion, must retire from the sport because of an ailing knee.

Nieder said yesterday that doctors at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he is stationed as an Army lieutenant, told him continuation of shot putting might result in a permanently stiff right knee.

The 6-3¾ athlete suffered his knee injury originally in 1954 while playing football at the University of Kansas. He reinjured it last spring while shot putting.

Army doctors diagnosed the ailment as a form of arthritis.

Nieder said "I figure I've accomplished everything I can in amateur sports in being the record holder and Olympic Games champion. I always felt that if I could hold the world record for just one day my dreams would come true."

Nieder said he has been talking with movie producer Pierre DeBeaumont about the possible part of Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight boxing champion, in a planned motion picture.

Nieder's knee was in a heavy brace when he threw 64 feet 6¾ inches on his fifth round toss to beat arch rival Parry O'Brien and set an Olympic record.

PRO, COLLEGE CONTESTS ON TV TOMORROW

Football dominates the spotlight for Bay Area television fans tomorrow with the Liberty Bowl game and the National Football League's Green Bay Packers-Los Angeles Rams getting the national video treatment.

The Liberty Bowl, featuring University of Oregon against Penn State, will be televised from Philadelphia by NBC (Channel 4) at 9:45 a.m. and the Green Bay-Los Angeles game will be shown by CBS (Channel 5) at 1:30 p.m. from Los Angeles.

Other sports features on TV tomorrow are the fight of the week between welterweights Luis Rodriguez and Emile Griffith (ABC, Channel 7, 7 p.m.) and the USF-Stanford basketball game (KTVU, Channel 2, 8 p.m.).

Prep Hoopsters Play At Tam, Drake Tonight

Four Marin County Athletic League basketball teams go to the post today and tonight after three local schools suffered setbacks yesterday at the hands of non-Marin opponents.

In afternoon action today Marin Catholic traveled to San Carlos High School and Novato invaded Sonoma High. Local fans have a pair of cage programs to choose from tonight as Tamalpais hosts Montgomery of Santa Rosa and Drake's Pirates entertain Vallejo in San Anselmo. The Tam program starts at 6 o'clock with a Class B preliminary followed at 7:30 by the varsity engagement. At Drake, the Bs start at 7 and the varsities at 8:30.

Meanwhile, the College of Marin Tars trekked to Redding today where they will open the Golden Valley Conference Tournament tonight. The tourney continues tomorrow.

In yesterday's high school action Marin Catholic was clouted by Emeryville 43-25, Galileo of San Francisco downed Redwood 44-29 and Lowell edged San Rafael 46-42.

Marin Catholic Coach Bernie Schnieder experimented yesterday and discovered his reserves need more work. With the second string playing the entire first half, Marin fell behind 27-10. The first team took over in the third stanza and closed the gap to 34-25, but early deficit was too much to overhaul. Jim Soden and Ed O'Connell each scored seven points for Marin.

Emeryville also won the Class B game 40-38 in spite of Ron O'Connell's great 25-point performance for Marin.

One of the bright spots in the otherwise dismal game for Redwood was the performance of Mike Kavanaugh, 6-foot-4 center who is "starting to come into his own," according to Coach Dick Hart.

Big Mike tallied 13 points and snared seven rebounds to show he will help the Giants in the league compaign next month.

Galileo nipped Redwood in the lightweight duel, 40-39. Joe Weiss and Grant Stephenson each tallied 10 for Redwood.

Rich Robertson with 13 points was San Rafael's top scorer in its loss to Lowell. Chris Yaeger and Rich Curry each added 9 to the Bulldog total.

Lowell also won the B game 43-36.

Mighty Mite Jones Leads Oregon In Liberty Bowl

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—You've heard about the youngster who does everything for his team but carry the water bucket. The Oregon Webfoots have such a lad on their football team.

The situation is sometimes confused since this Jack-of-all-phases of football offense looks more like the water boy than the water boy himself.

Cleveland Jones is his name. He's 143 pounds dripping wet, and stands 5 feet, 3 inches tall. Oregon Coach Len Casanova refers to him as the "biggest little man in football."

Asst. Coach Jack Roche comments that you have to see Jones to believe it. Roche, without the trace of a smile or hint he is joking, says the pros would do well to look twice at the small halfback.

Listing just a few of his accomplishments in helping the Webfoots to a 7-2-1 record and a spot in tomorrow's nationally-televised (NBC) Liberty Bowl game against Penn State at Philadelphia Stadium disclose the following:

1. He led the team in scoring with 5 touchdowns, a pair of two point conversions and 12 for 20 placement conversions for a total of 46 points.

2. He was tops in punt returns with an average of 8.7 yards.

3. He was the No. 1 kickoff returner with 12 for 241 yards, an average of 20.1.

4. He led the pass receivers, 25 caught for 402 yards and 4 touchdowns.

5. He was second in rushing, 80 carries for 539 yards, an average of 6.4.

6. He completed 3 of 7 passes for 33 yards and 2 touchdowns.

Jones says he isn't bothered by his size, no inferiority complex. He hopes the pros won't be bothered by it either. He'd like an opportunity to play for pay.

"I hope they remember another little fellow by the name of Buddy Young when they hold that pro draft and start 'weighing' whether I'm worth a chance," says the diminutive halfback. "I'm asking only what I've had to ask all my athletic life, a chance."

Casanova is hopeful he'll get big things from his small package against favored State Saturday.

Ray's Wife Files Separation Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—Former boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson, 40, who was reconciled with his wife last spring after a six-months estrangement, has been named defendant in a separation suit.

Notice of the suit was filed yesterday in State Supreme Court by the attorney for Robinson's wife, Edna Mae. She seeks $500 weekly temporary alimony plus $5,000 counsel fees.

Explanation of the charges will be filed at a later date.

The Robinsons were married in 1943. The Negro fighter has held both the middleweight and welterweight boxing crowns.

Chisox Set Record For Advance Ticket Sales

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have passed the $2 million mark in advance ticket sales—a new high for the club for this time of the year. Total advance sales by opening day last season was $1.3 million.

Eagles To Scout Packers Vs. L.A.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles, Eastern Conference champions in the National Football League, have sent Asst. Coach Charlie Gauer to Los Angeles to scout Green Bay against the Rams tomorrow.

Green Bay needs only a victory or a tie to win the Western Conference and the right to play the Eagles Dec. 26 for the NFL title.

If the Packers lose, Gauer will go to San Francisco Sunday to watch the 49ers and Baltimore Colts battle. A Packer loss would throw the Western Conference into a tie and give San Francisco, Baltimore and Detroit a chance at the division title. This would mean playoffs and moving the title game ahead to another date.

Aussies Needling U.S. Tennis Stars

SYDNEY (AP) — The U. S. Davis Cup team is still getting a ribbing in Australian newspapers for its recent racket-tossing antics.

The editorial page cartoon in the Sydney Mirror today showed a bespectacled American captain debarking at the airport with four individuals holding smashed rackets.

"Meet our 1961 team," the captain is telling a newsman. "Chuck, Hurl, Fling and Pelt."

Rose Bowl-Bound Gophers Arrive In L.A. Tomorrow

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—National champion Minnesota, 100 per cent fit and brimming with eagerness, flies to California tomorrow for its Jan. 2 Rose Bowl battle with Washington.

The Gophers are wreathed in post-season honors, the reward for one of college football's most eventful comebacks ever.

A Rose Bowl defeat could ruin it all, but the Gophers are willing to let their reputation and their right to the national crown ride on the outcome of their maiden bowl appearance.

Minutes before they leave the Gophers will accept the award they said means the ultimate for them, The Associated Press trophy symbolizing their No. 1 rank in the annual poll.

"Aside from Tom Robbins, who might do some punting for us, we're in top shape," said Coach Murray Warmath. "We couldn't ask for better squad condition."

Robbins was waylaid by a knee injury in his first play of the opening game and thus has to be figured as a net gain for the Gophers Jan. 2 if he plays at all.

The AP trophy will be presented to Warmath by George Moses, AP chief of bureau in Minneapolis.

Minnesota Guard Brown Named MVP

CHICAGO (AP) — All-America guard Tom Brown of Rose Bowl-bound Minnesota has been named the Big 10's most valuable football player of the 1960 season.

Brown, a 243-pounder who won the Football Writers of America award as the season's outstanding tackle or guard, dominated the "most valuable" poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune.

Dick Bass' Wife Sues For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of Dick Bass, rookie halfback of the Los Angeles Rams, is seeking a divorce.

Mrs. Nina J. Bass charged cruelty in a suit filed yesterday and asked for custody of the couple's one-year-old son, Ricki.

Bass, 23, formerly starred in football at College of the Pacific. Mrs. Bass' suit said they wed in October of 1958 and separated last Dec. 1.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

It Cost Challanger $900 To Fight For Title—And Take A Beating

When former lightweight champion Ike Williams told Senate investigators the other day that his manager took every cent of his purses for two fights, it recalled a conversation we had with Rocky Castellani six and a half years ago.

Rocky, staying in San Rafael, had just lost his challenge for Bobo Olson's world middleweight title at the Cow Palace and the subject of finances came up.

One listener, Mrs. Carmel Booth, then of San Anselmo, asked Rocky how much his share of the title fight gate would be. He smiled rather weakly, "Nothing, not a red cent," he replied.

Mrs. Booth and other listeners were further startled when Rocky continued, "In fact, Mrs. Booth, I'm in debt $900 from the fight."

BILLY THOMAS

He then elaborated: "You see, my contract with my manager (Alvin Naiman) is a 50-50 proposition. He takes half of everything I make. Well, Al guaranteed Olson $125,000 for this fight in exchange for 60 per cent of the gate and television receipts, which we would split—half for Al, half for me." The 60 per cent share Naiman and Rocky were to split amounted to $123,200. However, subtracted from Olson's guarantee, it left a debt of $1,800. Naiman was to pay half, and Rocky, who had fought 15 round and trained months, was to pay the other half.

And your boy wants to grow up to be a fighter?

AND SPEAKING of such things, little Billy Thomas, former Tam High athlete, is a good little featherweight fighter. Monday night, in fact, he belabored the bejabbers out of Sacramento's Georgie Page in Kezar Pavilion and ring experts say some day he just may be among the top feathers in the world.

Getting there, however, is a tough road. Little Billy does gruelling roadwork every morning, then hustles off to work as an odd-jobs man at a San Rafael auto firm, and after work goes to San Francisco to do gym work. This adds up to a long, long day and not much pay.

Monday night's card drew a gate of $1,353. With all expenses, pay for all the fighters, etc., there's not much left, even for a main-eventer like Billy Thomas.

After he gives his manager the usual one-third cut, Billy must wonder if all the work and the belts on the whiskers are really worth it.

However, he keept going on his dreams of world recognition and I hope the 25-year-old Marinite makes it. He's a devoted father (two children) and a hard worker.

THE NEW YORK Yankees, who have more money than they know what to do with, picked up a cool $55,000 profit the other day in the player pool when they sold Dale Long for the pool price of $75,000. Long is the man the Yanks had bought from the San Francisco Giants for the waiver price of $20,000.

INCIDENTALLY, someone expressed surprise that the Yankees' Joe DeMaestri wasn't drafted by either of the new American League clubs.

It wasn't possible, because the Yankees listed Joe as an "untouchable" under the terms he dictated. Joe told the Yanks he'd retire if they tried to trade or sell him.

And, since Gil McDougald has retired, DeMaestri's presence on the N.Y. squad as utility infielder is more and more valuable.

TELEVIEWERS of tomorrow's Liberty Bowl game between Oregon and Penn State should pay special attention when the name Ron Snidow is mentioned. Snidow, an Oregon tackle, is a former San Rafael High star.

REDWOOD HIGH'S varsity basketball squad, including coaches, managers and 16 players, will be treated to tonight's USF-Cal basketball game, compliments of the school's Benchwarmers Club. The evening will be finished off with a fish feast at Spenger's in Berkeley after the game.

CONTENTED FISHERMAN

FALSE CAPE, Va. (UPI)—Several years ago when fish started leaving the Chesapeake Bay area for the winter, John Hoke followed them south along the beach — and has never come back. Today, he and three companions live in a beach fishing camp near the Virginia-North Carolina line.

Hoke is a graduate of the University of Virginia, was a football letterman, a Naval officer and a B-17 pilot in World War II.

PERSISTENT FISH

GUNNISON, Colo. (AP)—Loyal Frizzell hooked a scrapping rainbow trout. The fish took his bait, leader and part of the line.

Frizzell tried his luck again the next day at the same place. He hooked and landed the same trout and retrieved his original gear.

Dons Threaten Cal Victory Skein Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

California lays a 25-game home winning streak on the line tonight against surprising sophomores of USF.

It will be the last home game in three weeks for California and isn't being taken lightly. Until Wednesday night the Dons were not considered a threat. Then USF outplayed highly rated Providence College but lost in overtime.

Last night Santa Barbara smothered Westmont College 88-56 to win the Winter Classic Basketball Tournament. College of the Pacific captured third place in the Santa Barbara tournament, downing Chapman College 61-56.

Big Tom Meschery's 31 points led St. Mary's to a 79-69 triumph over Evansville in Indiana, San Francisco State rallied in the second half and whipped Valparaiso 78-70, and Xavier of Cincinnati beat Loyola of Los Angeles 75-62.

ROAD GAMES

Most of northern California's major cage quintets play road games tonight.

San Jose State is at Utah, Santa Clara faces host Portland, Ore., in the Tournament of Roses, San Francisco State takes on Washington University at St. Louis, Mo., the Cal Aggies host U.C. Riverside, and Humboldt State goes against Willamette in Salem, Ore.

In a double-header at Los Angeles, Butler plays Southern California and Notre Dame meets UCLA.

Meschery's performance for St. Mary's was his best of the season. The 6-foot-6 senior hit 8 of 12 field goals and seven of eight free throws. It was the Gaels' fifth win in six starts.

Pacing San Francisco State to its first victory in five games were Richie Williams with 29 points and Jim Caranica with 20.

Maris Wins A.L. Slugging Title

BOSTON (AP)—New York's Roger Maris beat out teammate Mickey Mantle for the American League's 1960 slugging championship, official league statistics show.

The records, released today, give Maris a .581 slugging percentage and his first title in that department. He had 290 total bases on 77 singles, 18 doubles, seven triples and 39 homers.

Slugging percentage is figured by dividing times at bat into total bases.

Mantle had a .558 slugging mark. Chicago's Roy Sievers and Harmon Killebrew of Washington tied for third with .534.

COLTS PREPARE FOR 'SHOTGUN'

The big question for Coach Weeb Ewbank (left) and his Baltimore Colts seems to be setting up a defense against the San Francisco 49ers' so-called "shotgun offense." Olympic Overspending To Be Repaid, Official Says

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Charges that Olympic Winter Games officials spent more than authorized by law on the 10-day event are based on "technicalities," says the state's No. 2 finance officer.

T. H. Mugford, deputy finance director, made the comment yesterday after a state auditor said $401,000 too much was spent from a $1 million emergency fund appropriated by the legislature for the games this year.

Mugford's department transferred the entire fund to the Olympic Organizing Committee. But after the games it was found that according to its budget the committee should have spent only $600,000 of it.

"This is very much a technicality," Mugford said. "The fund was to supplement the committee's budget if revenues didn't come up to estimates, and they didn't.

"We didn't make a final allocation, we advanced the money on a loan basis; it's to be repaid."

H. D. Thoreau, former executive director of the organizing committee, said not only that the fund probably will be repaid, but that the games may even show a profit.

The state allocated a total $8.9 million of the $20 million spent to stage the games this February in Squaw Valley, where Thoreau said the state got an $11 million state park for its $8.9 million investment.

The Yankees hit successive home runs 13 times last season. In six of the games, Roger Maris was involved with a four bagger.

Raiders Fight To Escape AFL Cellar

Oakland's Raiders, the final team formed in the new American Football League, adopted the slogan "don't be last" and they'll be fighting tomorrow for just that.

In the season finale at San Francisco's Candlestick Park with a 1:30 p.m. kickoff, the Raiders tackle the Denver Broncos with a victory needed to keep Oakland out of the Western Division cellar.

Denver resides there now with a 4-8-1 record while the Raiders are 5-8.

When they met in Denver, the Broncos took a decisive 31-14 victory, but have slumped since. Still they have quarterback Frank Tripucka, the league's No. 2 passer.

Oakland met No. 1 two weeks ago when Jack Kemp passed the Los Angeles Chargers to victory at Candlestick and No. 3, Al Dorow of New York, proved the big gun last Sunday as the Titans grabbed a 31-28 thriller.

RAIDERS HEALTHY

Coach Eddie Erdelatz has all his Raiders hands available for the wrapup. Defensive end Charley Powell and flanker back Alan Goldstein both were ailing earlier, but should be ready to face the Broncos.

Again the quarterback choice goes to Tom Flores who threw three touchdown strikes Sunday.

Flores has completed 177 passes for 1,593 yards while Tripucka, the ex-Notre Dame star, has hit 234 of 449 for 2,905.

Denver also boasts the league's top scorer in Gene Mingo who has tallied 119 points on 6 touchdowns, 32 conversions and 17 field goals.

English Booters To Strike Jan. 14

LONDON (AP) — Representatives of the Professional Footballers' Assn.—the players' union—have voted overwhelmingly to strike Jan. 14 unless they get more pay and better contracts.

The delegates, representing 2,700 English soccer players, voted 690-18 to strike. The players are asking a guaranteed minimum wage of $42 a week and abolition of the maximum wage of $56 a week among other things.

The current minimum is $22.40 a week which the club officials have offered to increase without being specific.

DARK LIKES SOUTHPAWS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don't be surprised if Manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants places himself on the playing roster next season. After looking at his batting marks he may decide to pinch hit against southpaws. With Milwaukee last season, Alvin batted .375 against southpaws. He hit only .247 against right-handers.

Panel Truck with double doors on both sides

Can your truck pass this test?

The real test of a truck is not how much it can carry, but how little —and still show a profit.

The curious thing about Volkswagen Trucks is that they not only make large loads practical, they make small loads profitable.

A VW does its job at half the cost of standard half-tons. Half the gas, half the oil, half the tire wear. Even the smallest delivery makes sense. Yet it delivers 830 pounds more than your present half-ton.

If you wouldn't mind paying less for more payload, let's talk.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

There was weeping and wailing and the gnashing of teeth on the part of many nimrods who hunted the Grizzly co-op for ducks. But there were broad grins on the faces of others who were content to get a half to two-thirds the legal limit.

Among the grinners were the William Cuneos, Sr. and Jr., according to Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia Slough. Sunday the Cuneos picked up six nice fat pintails (sprigs to most of us) along with some fast flying bluebills.

Anent the piscatorial activity out of Joe's Launching, it seems the cold weather has dampened the ambition of many skiff-fishing Marinites. Only four boats launched at Santa Venetia Slough on Sunday, but those four boats must have had a ball. Mainly because the occupants of the four skiffs had the savvy to try for flounders along with bass. Nerviani informed me that only 10 bass (nice fresh run stripers in the five pound class) came in but he counted 52 exceptionally nice large flounders.

WE CONGRATULATE Clyde Bickle and friend for the four bass and 25 flounders; William Dahl and friend for four bass and 16 flounders; Charles Rose for his two bass and six flounders and Wilbert Moungovan and wife for their six fine fat flounders.

Reports have it that there are plenty of bass around that area, but they take some skill in catching. "They barely touch the bait and then go bye bye," said one of the less successful anglers. I know what he means. When stripers, especially fresh runners, hit very lightly, it's quite a chore to set the hook quick enough. But it can be done. I suggest the use of very small hooks and rather small pieces of bait. Try it next trip out.

THE OVER-ALL picture of back country fishing for stripers is not exactly encouraging. Could be only a lull before the storm, but about the best that can be said of the area above Antioch—Big Break, Frank's Tract, Sherman Island Lake and the Flats of the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers—is that it has been spotty for the past three days. One day the action is from fair to good and the following day is a washout.

Not so in the local waters. On the Contra Costa side of the bay the action has been surprisingly good. Carl Bennet of the Rodeo Marina called me to report Saturday's fishing good and Sunday's fishing better. Actually the break came on last Thursday and fishing improved steadily until Tuesday night. For example, the party boat Sunfish, with Skipper Patton at the helm, netted 14 limits of bass by 2 p.m. and most of those fish were caught in a driving rain. The Kathie M docked with eight limits from 6 to 8 pounds and (on Saturday) the Two Dores, a half day boat, brought in 10 limits by 11 a.m. Practically no skiffs could take the inclement weather conditions on Saturday, but some got out on Sunday and most of them limited out. Oddly, no flounders were reported. I wonder if they have all come over to the Marin side?

LARGEST FISH we heard about from the Crockett-Rodeo region was taken from the bank—an 18 pound beauty on bullhead bait. The catcher was Ted Voges.

My barometer is dropping a little. May presage rain, but if it is wrong expect some good weekend fishing.

Final Drag Races At Cotati Sunday; Stoke To Compete

The final drag race event of the year is scheduled at the Cotati dragstrip Sunday.

On hand for the event will be the team of Allred-Belknap-Capuro-Noren with Noren to be at the wheel of the team's super-charged 160-m.p.h. Class "B" De Soto dragster. Also competing for awards will be San Rafael's Fred Stoke and his super-charged Chevrolet dragster.

Awards will be made in all classes according to directors and a large turnout of competitors from the Bay Area is expected.

Time trials start at 8:30, eliminations begin at 1 p.m. at Cotati's strip. Pit privileges are available to the general public. Admission is $1 with children under 12 free.

Dodgers May Sell McDevitt, Lillis Before Midnight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers may sell southpaw pitcher Danny McDevitt and shortstop Bob Lillis.

Dodger Manager Buzzie Bavasi says several clubs are seeking both players. The Yankees, Athletics and Senators want McDevitt, a 27-year-old pitcher with worlds of stuff, Bavasi said, and Detroit and Cleveland want Lillis, who isn't the Dodger regular shortstop solely because Maury Wills developed quickly into a star.

"I don't have any trades in mind, but I may sell McDevitt before the deadline at midnight," said Bavasi today. Bavasi said he isn't going to sell to the Los Angeles Angels and he scoffed at a report that the Dodgers might peddle Lillis and third baseman Jim Gilliam to the Angels for Bob Cerv.

Honolulu's PCL Franchise Awarded To Salt Lake Men

HONOLULU (AP)—Nick Morgan Jr., president of the Salt Lake City club in the Pacific Coast League, and Walter E. Cosgriff, Salt Lake City banker, have been awarded the Honolulu franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

Dewey Soriano, PCL president, confirmed a report today that the two men, officers in the Salt Lake City Bees, had won the franchise.

Cosgriff, a well known Utah philanthropist and treasurer of the Salt Lake City club, was unable to appear at yesterday's meeting of PCL officers and directors in Honolulu. Morgan was his representative.

Soriano said the proposed move to Honolulu hinged on the availability of Honolulu Stadium.

Soriano said he expected an announcement later today after PCL directors meet with a committee from the Hawaii State Senate regarding the stadium, which is owned principally by the University of Hawaii.

JAPANESE-MODERN SHANGRI-LA — Construction is starting at 25 Westwood Drive, San Rafael, on this $130,000 home, Japanese in basic concept and landscaping but with a multitude of modern architectural features. Its name will be Shangri-La. Identity of its occupant-to-be is not yet revealed. Title is held by a Chicago corporation.

FOR 'PROMINENT PERSON'

$130,000 'Japanese' Home For San Rafael

"Japanese modern" architecture will be combined with an exceptional landscape arrangement of trees, shrubbery, waterfalls and reflecting pools in a $130,000 home on which construction is starting at 25 Westwood Drive, San Rafael.

Ownership is initially held by Shoji Corp. of Chicago. But Robert Barsocchini of San Mateo, representative of Shoji Corp., said the home is being built for "a person of prominence who has asked that his identity not be revealed as yet."

Despite the name of the corporation, neither it nor anyone concerned is Japanese. Robert Barsocchini and his brother, Frank A. Barsocchini of Kentfield, formerly worked together in equipping Marin homes with coin-operated laundry installations.

E. J. Dorsey of San Rafael is general contractor. Designer was William Klein of Chicago, and architects, Samuelson and Sandquist of Chicago. Barsocchini said Shoji Corp. is soon to start construction of luxury apartments—wholly non-Oriental in character—on the Mills Estate in Burlingame.

The San Rafael house, called "Shangri La," is being built on three sloping lots. The lots already are wooded. Other trees, including some stunted varieties especially adapted to a Japanese garden, will be added.

"There will be nothing stereotyped about this house," says Barsocchini. "It will be of open free-flow type and employ much glass, driftwood stone forming both inside and outside walls, and exposed beams to provide a pollinization of eastern and western culture."

Living space will total 4,850 square feet but it is impossible to state the uses in conventional terms because much of the house, notably its large living-room, can be divided into temporary rooms by sliding walls put into use according to need. The building permit is for 14 rooms.

There will be a large master bedroom, guest room, and other customary provisions, along with a Japanese type "meditation room." The living-room has a "sitting well"—a sunken space into which access is gained by steps. Divans run around its interior facing a fireplace with weathered copper overhead hood.

All parts of the home will look out on cantilevered decks where one may stroll or take the sun.

A strikingly styled roof of "butterfly" type soars to 35-foot peaks at each end. Whereas most of the house will be single story, these high points will enclose upstairs "dens." There will be skylights and the whole roof area over the kitchen will be glassed.

Lighting will be low-voltage throughout the house and each light will have a control by which the amount of light can be varied. Special outdoor lighting will bring out special points of the largely Japanese gardening.

A main pool for swimming will be irregular in shape to seem like a Japanese mountain lake, dimensions mostly averaging 16 by 38 feet.

There will be five reflecting pools of various sizes and shapes. Water will come from under the house, and descend over rocks in a waterfall.

The whole house will be placed on a great concrete base but its wooden flooring will be three inches over the cement. Heating will be mostly forced air. Radiant heat will be used on a pool terrace.

The butterfly roof design will be repeated in a small structure for dressing for the pool. But the pool can also be entered directly from the house, by sliding doors, which are repeated around the house in such a way that entrance may be gained at almost any point.

A sloping drive will lead up to a garage space of 960 square feet, providing carport space for five automobiles.

Beside the drive will be terraced rock slabs. In time of rain, runoff from the house will be directed along this course to provide a series of temporary waterfalls.

Chile Student Joins Drake High School

A new American Field Service exchange student, Ricardo Szekely of Santiago, Chile, joined the Sir Francis Drake High School student body this week.

Seventeen-year-old Ricardo lives with Dr. and Mrs. Edward Boero and their three sons, Gary, 21; Roger, 20, and Mark, 16, at 707 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow. Mark is a Drake junior.

Ricardo's schedule includes United States history, English, physical education, physics, chemistry and physiology. After a tour of the United States next summer with other AFS foreign students, he plans to return to Chile to study medicine at the University of Chile at Santiago.

This is his first trip to the United States, although he has visited South American countries.

Ricardo attended the American Country Day School in Santiago until this year. He says his classes were very small; in fact, he was the only graduate last spring. Classes are conducted in both Spanish and English by American and Chilean instructors.

Although his main interests are academic, Ricardo is looking forward to attending Drake's games and dances. He thinks Drake is "a wonderful place."

RICARDO SZEKELY
From Chile to Marin

Ricardo is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Szekely, and has an 11-year-old sister, Judith. His father owns a manufacturing plant in Santiago.

November Good Month For Building Permits

More than four million dollars worth of building permits were issued in Marin County during November, reported the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, chalking up the highest amount ever recorded for that month since the foundation started taking tab six years ago.

The total of $4,598,379 was 45.7 per cent higher than last year at the same time.

Over a quarter of the total was tallied in San Rafael where $1,536,925 worth of permits were issued including one for a $130,000 home and two apartment projects totaling 58 units.

Permits for 39 Eichler homes to go up in Terra Linda were also issued.

Boat Bids Asked

Bids for making the annual repairs and alterations on the Government-owned debris boat Hanson, operating out of Sausalito, will be opened next Wednesday at 180 New Montogmery Street, Col. John A. Morrison, San Francisco District army engineer, said today. The successful bidder will have 10 days to complete the work.

Vandals Clip Horse Tail, Mane

Vandals clipped the long hair of the mane and tail off an Arabian mare in Novato, the owner complained to the sheriff.

Mrs. Lorraine C. Dowdy of 896 Sutro Avenue said her son had fed the horses Wednesday night. At that time, he noticed the mare had a shorter tail but thought someone had tied the tail.

Wednesday morning when Mrs. Dowdy went to feed the horses, she found both the tail and mane of the mare had been cut short.

Glamorous Gowns, Furs At Benefit Show

Glamorous gowns of miracle fabrics and luxurious furs were in the parade of fashions presented on Wednesday by Marin Chapter of the National Foundation (the new march of dimes). The models appeared on the runway first in evening gowns and returned later to show the furs. Mrs. William Deeths drew heavy applause when she modeled a breath of spring cerulean mink stole.

Priced at $2,655 was the stewart autumn haze mink trotter donned by Mrs. George Coburn. Styles ranged from stoles and scarfs to full length coats but the shorter styles predominated. A four row Norwegian blue fox cape was greatly admired as was a stewart autumn haze mink coat.

In addition to Mrs. Coburn and Mrs. Deeths treading the runway were Mesdames William Donohoe, Richards Evans, George Goddard, Alvin Harris, Boyd R. Lang, Ted Schuster and Les Vogel Jr.

Bill Endicott, TV and radio announcer, punctuated his lively commentary with clever asides. Mrs. Elmer Jones was the musician.

The fashion show followed the luncheon for which more than a hundred guests were seated at tables centered by gilded magnolia leaves and goblets filled with redwood sprigs accented by Christmas balls.

Mrs. Walter Johnson of San Anselmo, Marin chairman for the 1961 Mothers March, was introduced. Mrs. E. D. Lederman was chairman of the fashion show and luncheon. Assisting her were Mesdames Gunnar Anderson, Edward Sargent Jr., James Hudson, Robert Kitchak, Phillip Harris, Eugene Wilson, Bernard Stone, Nancy Downey, Deeths and members of the executive board of Marin Chapter of the National Foundation.

Bridge Group Slates Charity Tournament

Marin County bridge players and guests from the Bay Area are invited to the annual charity bridge tournament, to be held Sunday at the Marin Jewish Center in San Rafael.

Proceeds from the tournament will be used to help needy Marin youngsters attend summer camp next season.

A double-header, with a free afternoon session and free buffet dinner has been planned by the Marin County bridge unit, headed by the president, Severt Gaustad of Marinwood.

At 1:15 p.m. will be the special membership party. This is open to all players and is free to those who have joined the Marin unit for 1961. Memberships for 1961 may be purchased at the door. This entitles members to play free in the afternoon session.

Following the free buffet dinner, the charity tournament will start at 7 p.m.

Both the afternoon and evening tournaments are master point events.

Big, Little Touches Make Yule Table Settings Festive

CHICAGO (UPI)—It's both the big and little touches that make Christmas table settings festive.

The traditionalist who favors a lace or Belgian linen dinner cloth in white or eggshell, the translucence of fine china, the gleam of sterling and the shimmer of crystal will seek subtle decorations in keeping with her tastes.

These might include a planter centerpiece that looks like a foot-tall crystal goblet, filled with holly or pine branches, arranged around a chunky red candle.

For those who prefer the look of Christmas greens laid flat on the table, centered wtih candles, there are crystal candle holders that look like tall, slender wine glasses, smoked at the top, with clear stems. Available in 10, 12, 15½, 18 and 20-inch heights, the wineglass candle holders can be used in pairs or groups of several heights.

Low candles for the Christmas board look particularly effective glowing inside silvery-finished tumblers, with red or green metallic interiors.

Even treasured antique silver or brass candle holders or candelabras take on the look of the season when they're decked with "holiday candle trimmers." These are brass rings, rimmed with tiny Christmas balls or Christmas candy on spokes. They slip over candles and rest atop the holders.

Christmas centerpieces for less formal tables can be fashioned from punch bowls, apothecary jars, fish bowls or even huge brandy snifters, filled with multicolored glittering ornaments or Christmas scenes, made with dime store figures and cotton snow.

Splashier Christmas finery for informal table settings includes glasses and platters, painted with candles, Christmas trees and bright santas and bright red coffee mugs.

Christmas tablecloths run the gamut from solid scarlet or green to prints. There are vibrant, overall floral prints in red and green, too, that look particularly good on the round table, and simple white cloths with striped red, green and gold or holly borders, some now available in practical terrycloth.

For the most informal Christmas tables, there are place mats in the traditional colors of the season, and shaped like bells, Santas and Christmas trees.

Valley Sewing Club Sets Christmas Party

The Christmas party and luncheon of the Valley Sewing Club, an affiliate of Mill Valley's Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305, will be held on Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. in the IOOF Temple.

Following the luncheon and after the party officers will be elected at a brief business meeting.

President Mrs. Richard Bennett has appointed to be in charge of the affair Mesdames Frank Bird, Albert Borgwardt, Marguerite Carpenter and Kathryn Young.

MRS. HELEN G. WALSH of San Rafael is photographed aboard American President Lines' SS President Wilson just before the ship sailed from San Francisco recently for the Orient. She is on a six week Orient cruise.

DIANE FRANCIS MARRIED TO LYNN WILLIAMS FRIDAY

Judge David R. Baty officiated at the nutials of Miss Diane Francis of San Rafael and Lynn Williams of San Rafael yesterday in his chambers. The bride's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Francis, was here from Ukiah for the ceremony. Sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. John Veness and their daughter, Doris Ann Bledsaw, as well as Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards attended the ceremony.

The newlyweds will honeymoon in Carmel and return to San Rafael, Diane to her job guiding the youngsters through the Junior Museum, and Lynn to his position as appraiser for Citizens Federal Savings and Loan. The new Mrs. Williams received her education at Marin Catholic High School and College of Marin and is a native of California. Mr. Williams was born in Warwick, N. D., and came to the Bay Area 15 years ago. He received a degree at the University of California.

Square Dance Refresher Course To Begin

Marin County Square Dance Association is offering an opportunity to former square dancers, of attending an organized review course at the intermediate level.

This will be held in conjunction with the association classes now being taught by Jack McKay, at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo, on Wednesday evenings.

The classes now under way will have reached the half-way mark by mid-December, and will then be opened to those with previous square dance experience. The intermediate course will last 13 weeks, beginning with a free lesson on Wednesday, Dec. 21. The second lesson will be on Jan. 4, there being no class during Christmas week.

Those interested are reminded that lessons begin at 8 p.m. and end at 10 p.m. For further information, call Fred Judson or Allen Conroy.

A Gift That's On The Beam

Light promises to be shed on the mysterious contents of a woman's purse, missing keyholes, and possibly lost shoes under theater seats.

The promise is in the form of a flashlight not much bigger than a lipstick.

Other uses for the petite purse-light include reading programs or deciphering scribbled addresses in the darkness.

The diminutive light was designed to be carried in a lady's handbag with her other toiletry items.

The only catch is once she has dropped it in there, she will need another flashlight to find it again.

Winter Frolic For Dancers

Topping this year's holiday season will be an evening of fun and dancing hosted by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Schulman for all their students and guests of the Marin County House of Leon Dance Studios.

For this affair, Mr. Schulman, instructor and director of the program in Marin County, has arranged for the Flamingo Ballroom of the Bermuda Palms for the evening of Dec 29, from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The frolic will be chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. Louis Lichenstein, Messrs. and Mesdames John De La Pera, Paul Walsh, Howard Cohn, Kenneth King, John Wasilewski, E. F. Whittemore, Mrs. Bella Resak and Mrs. Edna Lucken.

Yule Party Given For Delta Thetans

Revelation of Secret Sisters for 1960 for Delta Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Theta was made at the Christmas party Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Theodore McGuire in Santa Venetia.

Two transferees, Mrs. Erwin White of Mill Valley and Mrs. David Sechler of Belvedere, were greeted by the hospitality chairman and enjoyed the holiday festivities.

The decorations were the traditional red and green with an elegant pink tree of styrofoam. Pink punch in a bowl was the centerpiece on the candle lighted table.

The Delta Theta members Mesdames Urban Blake, Leo Clausen, William Hitchcock, Louis Moraes, Donald Weaver, Warren Wells, Jack McIvor, Walt Lindman, Al Molina, Theodore McGuire and Miss Naomi King revealed their secret sisters by exchanging Christmas gifts. Names for the new year were drawn and refreshments served. The next E.S.A. meeting will be held Jan. 10.

Square Dance Party

A beginners square dance party will be held tomorrow night at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo commencing at 8:30. The party is sponsored by the Marin County Square Dance Association.

HOLIDAY TEA FOR P.E.O. AND GUESTS

Chapter NE of P.E.O. held a delightful Christmas party and tea on Friday afternoon at the Ross home of Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald. Mrs. Earl Barndt was a co-hostess. Members came early for a brief business session and after that guests arrived.

The program carried out the holiday theme with Mrs. Ilion T. Jones reading "How Come Christmas." Christmas music with Mrs. F. E. Clinite as the organist and Mrs. John Bagshaw, pianist, was also enjoyed.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. W. D. Oberholtzer, chapter president, and Mrs. Fred Crisp. A small Christmas tree centered the table and Christmas ornaments sparkled against a background of greens.

Signatures on the guestbook were those of Mesdames Dorothy Baker, Bessie M. Baird, Lola Carter, Ora Fowler, Laura Lou Smith, Agnes W. Brown, Virginia Helpon, Catherine C. McCarthy, June Middleton, Ruth Knight, Ruth Miller and James Upshaw.

A Mechanic Invents Better Cake Slicer

A mechanic at the San Francisco maintenance base of United Air Lines has invented a better cake slicer. The aluminum device neatly slices portions of cake any size up to four inches wide, six inches long. It enables the hostess to swish a piece of cake to guests' serving plates using only one hand. The thumb lever releases the wedge of cake from the cutter. It's called the Kaplanis Cake Cutter — named for inventor James P. Kaplanis.

How Not To End Up Buying Him Ties

Many a woman who can manage office, offspring and others with enviable ease, falters at the critical shopping point. She ends up buying HIM a tie.

One way to avoid this Christmas cliche is to list specifics about the man or boy involved: interests, idiosyncrasies, what he needs at work or at school, what he likes to wear (besides ties). Then follow through in a store, checking merchandise against your listed suggestions. You'll surely find something different you know he'll like.

In shopping for clothing, be sure you have the correct size. Men are shy about exchanging gifts, and you don't want to have to do it either.

And if you have a hat in mind, you might consider a gift certificate. Men are fussy about what they put on their heads, unless they're clowning at a party with YOUR hat.

Offbeat clothes gifts are fancy vests, golf jackets, patterned shirts, raincoats and suburban coats. Dad, granddad and the youngsters would all go for these.

For the boy in high school or college there's always a bicycle, especially important now for on-campus transportation.

Cater to his hobbies, even if it means a kind of fancy drill that sets your teeth on edge. Or maybe an electric floor polisher will so intrigue him he'll do the work himself.

And if you plan to be a tiny bit selfish, there's an alarm clock with an extension that sounds only under his pillow and lets you snooze on and on.

The possibilities are unlimited. But of course, you may come back to buying a tie anyway. It may help to know that for the man who has every tie, there's still another: a button-down tie (that means a new construction idea) in 24 karat gold.

New Horizon Girls Club Is Named

The Twilighters was the name chosen for their Horizon Club by 15 girls in their organizing meetings. They are all freshmen attending Redwood High School and most of the new Horizon Clubbers have been in the Camp Fire program through Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls and are now planning many exciting times in this new venture with Mrs. Dan Shillinger, their advisor.

Mrs. Shillinger, formerly Miss Judy Evergettis, is now a senior at San Francisco State College and will begin practice teaching in a Marin County High School after the first of the year. She also completed the Camp Fire program, served on the resident Camp Kilowana staff two years and has been advisor to another Horizon Club. With this background she will give guidance to the girls whose philosophy of life is being developed.

The charter members of the "Twilighters" are Claudia Victor, president, Linda Foster, vice president, Patricia Clark, secretary, Michele Ivani, treasurer, Frances Adams, Rae Ann Raudio, Michele Betette, Peggy Rowse, Margaret Estrada, Barbara Gustafson, Susan Williams, Joaney Southerland, Judy Campana, Barbara Evans and Joanne Olson.

Cards Feature Work Great Poets, Artists

NEW YORK (UPI)—Works of great religious art and verses by the best poets of the past and present are reproduced on Christmas cards this year, making this perhaps the most "classic" Christmas in history.

New stylized designs and the fashionable new off-pastel colors also appear on Christmas cards. Far from the simple reds and greens of years gone by, the new colors include pinks and delicate blues, as well as rich gold and silver. Intricate cutouts and detailed embossing also are a mark of new cards this year, along with such things as three-dimensional foldouts that harken back to before the turn of the century.

The reverence and inner beauty of Christmas are perhaps best expressed in a fine arts collection being offered for the first time through the cooperation of Albert Skira of Geneva, Switzerland, world leader in the graphic arts.

The collection includes 50 masterpieces of religious art gathered in museums and private collections in Europe and the United States. Skira prepared the reproduction on his fine color presses at Geneva, and Hallmark mounted the prints on Christmas cards. It is the first time Skira prints have appeared on greeting cards, either here or abroad, and reflects the growing popularity of religious Christmas cards.

Artists represented include such masters as da Vinci, Rembrandt, El Greco, Botticelli, Fra Angelico, Giotto and Holbein, and such modernists as Renoir, Cezanne, Matisse, Monet, Rouault, Dufy, Picasso and Van Gogh.

The Side Look

The side-look profile in a close-to-the-face hat, adapted from the 30's, is prominent in the spring-summer collection of one hat maker. Other spring hat news: height still is prominent, but modified. Basic cloches and sailors are strong and new low bell-brim styles are expected to do well.

Garden Group Holds Annual Holiday Dinner

Jeannie's Dance Studio and a Novato accordion band furnished the program for the annual Christmas dinner given by the Garden Group of the Novato Community Club Monday evening in the Community Club House.

It was a gay and colorful affair with tables decorated with figures of the Three Wise Men made by Mrs. Fred Anderson.

Mrs. R. J. Listman was general chairman and acted as mistress of ceremonies in the absence of Mrs. James Ruhlman, president.

Others on the arrangement committee were Mrs. Harry Eide, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mrs. Earl Larsen and Mrs. W. L. Von Taggen.

The part of Santa Claus was played by Mrs. George Whitten. Mrs. James Silk led the group in the singing of Christmas carols.

Twin Cities Auxiliary Honors Two At Party

A surprise tribute to two of its members highlighted the recent business and year-end party of Twin Cities Unit 313 of the American Legion Auxiliary in Larkspur.

Mrs. Maurine Lynch of Larkspur a Gold Star mother, was singled out for her sacrifice in the loss of her son in the World War II South Pacific campaign on Guadalcanal in the Solomon Islands.

Escorted to the president's station, Mrs. Lynch was presented with a nosegay of violets and baby roses. In her response, Mrs. Lynch told of her son's last Christmas on Guadalcanal where members of his company picked jungle fronds and other foliage near their fighting area and used exploded shells for Christmas decorations. The small group of soldiers held a gift exchange of some of their more personal items, and Mrs. Lynch was to learn later that her son had given up his prized possession, rosary beads.

Honored for her services to the state organization for the past six years in preparing the monthly organ circulated to nearly 40,00 members of the California organization of the American Legion Auxiliary was Mrs. Francis Fugate of Corte Madera, editor of the California Auxiliary News.

Paying tribute to the honoree was Mrs. Bryce Florence of Larkspur who holds the office of district historian for the Auxiliary's 1961 term.

The poem, "Touching Shoulders With You," was dedicated to the honored guests by the unit president, Mrs. James Green.

Plans for delivery of food baskets, toys and gifts to needy families were completed during the unit's business meeting.

Reporting on the ward decorations in Holderman Hospital of the Veterans Home in California and recent Christmas party and gift exchange for the entire women's barracks at this facility were Mesdames Florence, Lynch and Green. Col. Stanley Dunmire, Maj. Kenneth Lawrence and other officers also attended the unit's annual entertainment for the nearly 60 women.

A gift for the Henry C. Hall Library Fund was also approved. Mrs. Ruth Monoghan of Corte Madera advised members of Marin Catholic High School's desires to particiapte in the Auxiliary's competitive state scholarship program which awards scholarships in the field of nursing, teaching and therapy.

The Area Child Welfare Conference held in San Francisco representing 13 Western Departments of the American Legion Auxiliary was highlighted by Mrs. Florence. Auxiliary fields of interest in child welfare include aid to mentally retarded children, adoption of legislation for child protection, support to programs of research for birth defects, cancer, heart, and other diseases, emergency financial assistance and other objectives benefiting children.

Following the exchange of holiday gifts, Mrs. Green hosted unit members to Christmas refreshments from a buffet table decorated with holly berries and a centerpiece of candles and glittering ornaments.

Next meeting of the unit will be Jan. 10 at the American Legion Hall in Larkspur.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"Your husband's new shorts with the pink polka dots was the fascinating topic of conversation during the laundry girl's lunch hour yesterday."

Re-stuffed Toys

Before Christmas is the time to restore down-at-the-heels stuffed toys so they can be loved again by a new set of little owners.

Mend first so no stuffing will be lost during washing. If the stuffing is spongy rubber, put the toy right into the tub or washer. Otherwise it's better to brush-wash the surface with thick, "dry" soap or detergent suds. If two-tone toys "run," tint them a darker shade all over.

After the bath, replace "lost" features with fabric paint or with embroidery. Then sew on new button eyes—or use felt applique for all features. Wool yarn makes new hair for dolls, or manes and tails for animals. Bright ribbon hairbows or collars make the reclamation complete.

Spray-On Snow Flame Resistant

NEW YORK (UPI)—Now you can spray on those holiday snowflakes. One paint manufacturer makes the spray-on snow which is flame resistant and can be used indoors or out. Use the snow, packaged in 16-ounce containers, to spray evergreens, pine cones, gift wrappings, mirrors or windows. The snow can be brushed off furniture or rugs with a vacuum cleaner. To remove from glass, wipe with a damp cloth. (Martin-Senour Co., 2500 S. Senour Ave., Chicago.)

Senior Club Yule Party Held Tuesday

Most ambitious holiday enterprise the Mill Valley Unit of the United Voluntary Services has undertaken recently was a hot Christmas luncheon members prepared and served Tuesday to nearly 50 Senior Club members in Mill Valley's American Legion Hall.

During the luncheon, Mrs. Neville Adams played accordion music. Afterward while guests were exchanging gifts under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Hussey, senior club chairman, UVS members packed cookies and candies for the children of service men of the 666th Air Control and Warning Squadron on Mount Tamalpais.

Preparing and serving the luncheon were Mesdames Frederick Fellows, Stanley Wilson, Wayne Bingham, Jean Wegscheider, William Gande, Philip Schafer, Archer Forsyth, Charles Campomenosi, John Bogan, Howard Houchard and Forest J. Sur.

Boon To Homemaker On Laundry Day

A boon to a homemaker with large laundry loads is a folding cart which can travel up and down stairs. It has two caster-type wheels and two disc wheels, handles for easy maneuvering, and a washable duck or plastic liner with pockets for clothes pins. Use it to transport soiled clothes to your washer, wet clothes to the line, and then clean things to the ironing board or storage area.

Crusty

NEW YORK (UPI)—Here's a crunchy, rich crust for holiday pies. Mix together 1 cup of quick rolled oats, uncooked, ⅓ cup of sifted flour, ⅓ cup of brown sugar and ½ teaspoon of salt. Add ⅓ cup of melted shortening and mix until crumbly. Pack firmly into the bottom and on the sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Place a smaller pie plate on top to hold the crumbs in place. Bake in a 375-degree oven until crust is brown, about 15 minutes. Remove the small pie plate 2 minutes after the crust comes from the oven. Cool and fill with your favorite chiffon pie filling.

UNSAFE TOYS CAN DIM HOLIDAY JOY—AND EYES!

NEW YORK (UPI)—The toy you buy with the expectation of seeing your youngsters eyes light up on Christmas morn could be the cause of their being dimmed forever.

Dr. John W. Ferree, executive director of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, citing recent injuries to youthful eyes from mishandled or unsafe toys, called on parents for a twin-pronged campaign of judicious toy buying and Christmastide safety education.

"Parents have a tendency to give their children toys that are too advanced for them," Dr. Ferree said, "and most inept or inexperienced handling of the playthings leads to tragedy."

He told of the three-year-old Boston girl hit in the right eye by a playmate's arrow. Also cited was the case of the Indiana boy who lost half his seeing-power when a B-B pellet, fired by an 11-year-old playmate, lodged in one eye.

What is the proper age for such toys?

"There is no definite set year at which any child can be ruled old enough for a particular plaything," Dr. Ferree said.

"Rather than by chronological age, parents should determine the child's ability by his emotional development and past experience.

"A youngster should be mature enough to know the danger involved in a particular toy, and to understand completely the safe way to use it."

The expert warned against buying a potentially-hazardous toy for an older child if there is a danger that a younger one can at any time get his hands on it.

Other Christmas safety tips from Dr. Ferree:

—Avoid sharp edges and objects that break, leaving sharp edges.

—Watch out for flammable toys or costumes, mechanical toys with exposed springs or gears, or poorly-constructed playthings.

Mill Valley Auxiliary To Host Party

Mill Valley's auxiliary of the Muir Woods Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will give its annual Christmas party for children Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in the IOOF Temple, Mill Valley.

Plans for the party were made at a recent meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Joseph King. Mrs. Tal Childers and Mrs. Donald Comstock were in charge of buying gifts.

It was announced that the recent opportunity sale was a success and that left over items were given to Goodwill Industries. Mrs. A. J. Rometti thanked Mesdames Childers, Comstock, Paul Hughes, Carl Barber, Carlos Nelson and Edward Reichmuth for their help.

The members' own Christmas party was held in the home of Mrs. Rometti Wednesday evening when secret pals exchanged gifts and names of new ones were revealed. Mrs. Paul Hughes won the mystery package.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Reichmuth and Mrs. Rometti.

A special visitor was the unit's second president, Mrs. Edward Christian.

Girl Scouts To Be Honored At Reception At Arequipa

Invitations to a Christmas reception have been received by all Marin Junior and Senior High Girl Scout troops, to be held on Dec. 20, from 2 to 4 p.m. at Arequipa.

Troop 201, under leadership of Mrs. Kurt Helmstaedter, has been in charge of plans for the afternoon, with members of seventh and eighth grade troops furnishing refreshments and decorations.

The program has been planned to be of special interest to the older girls. Victoria Emerson, Marin's representative to the International Girl Scout and Girl Guide "Our Chalet." in Switzerland last summer, will be there to share her exciting experiences and show colored slides of her trip with four other Senior Scouts from various parts of the United States. This is the first chance Marin Scouts have had to meet with Vicki since her trip to Europe, as she is attending Skidmore College, New York, and just returned home for the Christmas holidays.

The film, "World Wide, A Mile High," about the 1960 Senior Roundup in Colorado last summer, will also be shown. Following the program, the junior high troops will serve refreshments.

Mrs. R. E. Jones has coordinated the plans for the reception.

A New Trend

A fashionable measure of a man's social status: a turnabout engagement trend whereby the gal gives her fiance a new wrist watch when he puts the diamond on her third finger. If he's under 25 and telling time from a new wrist watch, hands off, gals. He's engaged. And the Jewelry Industry Council reports most girls give watches with the underside engraved, marking the date and sentiment as well as the fact of the engagement.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Dec. 16, the 351st day of the year with 15 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1770, German composer and pianist Ludwig Van Beethoven was born.

In 1773, 50 patriots disguised as Indians boarded a British vessel at anchor in Boston Harbor and threw 342 chests of tea into the water in the so-called Boston Tea Party.

In 1775, English novelist Jane Austen was born.

In 1893 the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra offered the first performance of Anton Dvorak's "New World Symphony."

In 1944, the Germans launched a great counter-offensive in Belgium . . . the Battle of the Bulge.

A thought for today: English novelist Jane Austen said: "I do not want people to be very agreeable, as it saves me the trouble of liking them a great deal."

Here's Unprecedented Candidate Endorsement

It isn't very often that a person like Dr. John C. Siemens of Kentfield allows himself to be persuaded to seek election as a school trustee.

Siemens is a rather remarkable man who simultaneously and successfully devoted himself to more than one occupation and more than one avocation.

In the pages of the Independent-Journal he is most frequently mentioned in connection with his post as administrator of Ross General Hospital. When he took over there, Ross was reeling from the competition of Marin General which opened up bright, spacious and fresh in our community where the private hospitals had been overcrowded for years.

For several years now Ross has competed quite successfully with the bigger, grander Marin General.

Dr. Siemens' administrative know-how has been a big factor in Ross Hospital's success.

He also maintains his private practice of medicine from the Ross Valley Medical Center, which he also heads.

He is active in a wide range of community affairs including Y.M.C.A., United Crusade, Unitarian Church and Lions club. He and Mrs. Siemens have a daughter who graduated from Tam high, a son attending Redwood and a younger daughter in the grades, headed for Redwood.

As we say, it isn't very often that a person like this allows himself to be persuaded to seek election as a school trustee.

He has "nothing to gain" as the saying goes. In seeking the office and if elected he unquestionably will be subjected at times to some public criticism from some quarters. The most he can hope to get out of it is a few "well dones" from a few acquaintances plus the inner satisfaction of knowing he has done an important job well.

But our schools need more and better candidates for trustees, candidates who will state their views plainly and defend them in the election campaign if that becomes necessary. (We covered this subject in more detail here last week.)

In his announcement of candidacy, Dr. Siemens implied his willingness to state his views and defend them.

We said that debate of issues would be beneficial to our schools in the long run.

Dr. Siemens deserves to be commended for responding to this challenge.

Ordinarily it is rare for us to endorse a candidate in a school trustee election. To endorse before the filing time is closed and we can see who all is running is unprecedented for us.

But four terms expire on the Tamalpais board. No matter how many candidates file or how good they are, Dr. Siemens will be among the top four.

We are glad to endorse his candidacy right now.

We are certain his election would prove most beneficial to Tamalpais district high schools and to the people of the district.

We hope he wins election.

Christmas Roses

Flowers for Christmas are by no means a rarity in Marin. We usually have our purple heather and fragrant narcissi and other flowers blooming in time for the holidays.

But probably no flower which we can grow outdoors in this county is as identified with the Nativity holiday as the Christmas rose. These squatty, glossy-leafed, purple or white members of the Buttercup Family are natives of the Old World and could conceivably have been growing outside the manger in Bethlehem on that historic day over 1900 years ago.

Not only are the Christmas roses an attractive winter flower, they are one of our longest bloomers — sometimes starting in October and not finishing until May.

Suburbanites Worthy Of Medals For Trudging To Work In Winter

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the season of the year when the Eastern suburbanite earns his Good Conduct medal.

He emerges as America's true civilian hero, the pioneer of its last frontier.

In winter weater good old Ronald Halfacre, the typical U.S. suburbanite, could well be mistaken for Daniel Boone himself — except that he doesn't pack a squirrel gun.

It takes Ronald from two to three hours to get to the office, and after he arrives it takes him another hour to undress down to his ordinary work garb.

He looks like a walking inventory of an Army and Navy store—from his khaki muffler to his reconditioned Korean combat boots.

To protect himself during the long pilgrimage from home to work desk, he dons anything—and everything — in the closet that fits him.

Despite all this padding, Ronald enters the office blue-cheeked with cold and with a nose that resembles an over-ripe tomato.

"Where did you park your sled dogs?" a comfort-loving city dweller asks him.

Ronald pays no heed as, with shaking hands, he removes his top layer of Y.M.C.A. gym socks, then peels off a sweat shirt bearing the insignia, "Fort Dix Stockade," a poignant reminder of his war with the Army.

Methodically he removes his red deer hunting cap, and silently massages his frozen ears.

"HOW IS life out there in the wilderness?" the city dweller inquires.

This is an error. Nobody within hearing distance now can get any work done before lunch.

FOR RONALD launches into a saga of one man's struggle against Nature. He tells of the lonely two-mile trudge through snowdrifts, the epic wait at the rail point for a train, where shivering suburbanites set fire to their newspapers to keep warm, the ordeal of being stuck in a tunnel later . . .

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Who's Qualified To Judge Books?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Of course, John Steinbeck and company don't need any defense from me, but there's just the chance that if some of us don't speak up, a fanatical minority might have its way with our school libraries —and go on from there.

Looks like this to me: If Rev. Barkowska and I, with the help of elementary school and our churches, have done a good job of bringing up our teen-age kids, then these books won't do them any harm. If Rev. Barkowska and I have done a bad job, then the damage is already done before they get to these books. And Rev. Barkowska and I can then turn our kids over to Juvenile Court and the Probation Department and retire. (The retirement part sounds good to me anyway.)

As to what is or isn't literature, I doubt that Rev. Barkowska is any more qualified to make this decision than I am. At any rate, I don't want him making the decision for me or my family.

Such Ideas Destroy Freedom

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

RE: Book Censorship suggested by Michael Barkowska:

The ideas this man expresses are of the sort of thing that destroys freedom of learning and subsequently of thought. Even Christ never suggested such control of a human being's learning.

This "see-no-evil, hear-no-evil, do-no-evil" philosophy is the very basis of thought control. A man like this is dangerous to the survival of human reason.

I would like to be the first signer of a petition to show that his is unfit to teach Christ's basic philosophies. His ideas are fanatic — and idiotic—and incidentally, stupid.

Oddly enough, I agree with him that it is wrong to forbid the reading of the Bible in our public school classes. I think we should allow this—but I also believe that we should permit the reading of other great men's teachings including Buddha, Shinto, Mohammed, Plato, Socrates, etc.

To insist on the worship of any of these I also think would be equally wrong, I challenge him to agree to have these taught in our public schools. His ideas (as expressed publicly and given public print) sound like a man locked in a closet of narrowmindedness.

How can we expect our children to learn about—and live with all the people of this world if we do not let them know how the rest lives—including those who live without a dogma of religious belief? Undoubtedly he would also agree with the elimination of such books as that which Darwin might have penned. This whole thing is reminiscent of the "Monkey Trials" of Clarence Darrow's time.

He would have our youth turn away from reality; from the basic freedoms we're trying to sell the rest of the world.

I strongly suggest that Mr. Barkowska read all of the books—not "excerpts," or to stop reading because his tender senses are offended. He, too, might learn what Christ was trying to teach: humility, love of other human beings, understanding of their basic drives, instincts, freedoms and failures—included those who used four-letter words to express themselves.

I also suggest he read the Kinsey Report, Freud, Jung, Bertrand Russell, and a few other people, he obviously is afraid to look at because he might have found something he fears the most—HIMSELF.

If he continues to be afraid to read and to learn he will undoubtedly go on in his decerebrated condition and perhaps take a few other innocents wtih him. I send a thought to Mr. Barbowska:

The up-to-date devil which you so earnestly seek, sir, may readily be found—wearing the costume of your own mind; your unconscious.

Books Should Be Judged On Whole

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is interesting to note, upon occasion, the efforts of certain self-appointed censors who set about telling other people what they should and should not read. No different are these people from those who censure government policy and other fields which very often they know nothing about. I find it incredulous that someone can lead an attack on a literary work not having read the objectionable material in its entirety. Those who would censure books would do well to read the 1933 decision of Judge Woolsey exonerating Joyce's Ulysses of the charge of obscenity. Much of what he said then can apply to works being written and published today. The Supreme Court and The American Law Institute have stated that a work must be judged as a whole and not by certain words or phrases taken out of context. . . .

If school children seek out literary trash, then, they don't have to look for it on the school's library shelf. Any bookstore can supply their needs; any newsstand will give them what they want; even the mails can render service. Parents should supervise the reading of their children in most cases. But if their own reading is limited to The Wall Street Journal or The Watchtower I find it strange that they consider themselves competent critics of our current literature.

'Of Mice And Men' And 'Catcher In Rye' Top Yule Shopping List

A THOUSAND YEARS ago, give or take a few decades, the Chinese printed the world's first known books.

According to historians, those early volumes were rather cumbersome affairs, as compared with today's pocket editions. Although printed on paper, which the Chnese also invented, their type was made of clay. Production, it is said, was on a somewhat limited scale.

It was to be another century before Europeans entered the publishing business to any degree, although for hundreds of years mankind had attempted to record knowledge in some form or another.

For many years before Johannes Gutenberg of Mainz, Germany, first used moveable type to print the forerunner of books as we know them—his famous 42-line Bible — scholors laboriously wrote the histories of their cultures by hand, a process taking months and even years to produce a single volume.

In most of Europe they wrote on sheets of vellum or papyrus. In the civilizations of Babylon and Nineveh in Asia Minor, the vehicles for the written word were clay tablets into which symbols were pressed before baking into a permanent record.

AFTER GUTENBERG revolutionized the industry, many of the men who had worked under him went into business for themselves, training others who were to become the ancestors of today's printers.

As the written word became more commonplace, men worked to improve and beautify their handiwork — the type and the books themselves—bringing about the creations of such great designers as Caslon of England, Koch of Germany, Goudy the American, and Fournier, Troy, De Golines and the Estienne family, all of France.

Promoting the book business into what it is today was not all beer and skittles. Naturally, as has been the case with most of man's attempts to raise himself above the level of animals, there was opposition to the whole idea.

ALMOST AS SOON as the first books rolled off the presses, there was a standing line of zealots waiting to burn them.

Two of the most successful of this breed were Girolamo Savonarloa, an Italian friar who worked at being a religious reformer, denouncing the world for its wickedness with zest and enthusiasm until, in 1498, he was finally hanged; and, of course, the man whose name has become synonymous with cruelty, Thomas De Torquemada, a first-rate book-burner who, in passing, condemned an estimated 2,000 persons to death by strangulation for holding un-Spanish thoughts during his 18 years as head of the inquisition.

These two, like their predecessors and those who have followed them, had one thing in common: They have all attacked certain books on the grounds that the thoughts expressed therein did not measure up to their personal standards.

All of which reminds me there are only eight shopping days until Christmas, and I must remember to buy a couple of copies of John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" and J. B. Salinger's "Catcher in the Rye" for my teen-agers —on the off chance that the Tamalpais Union High School District trustees give in next Monday night before the current attempt to remove these two outstanding examples of American literature from the school libraries.

TREATY IGNORED

U.S., Only A Bystander Suffers Ecuador Abuse

By PHIL NEWSOM

MOBS SHOUTING "Cuba si, Yankee no," or "Russia yes, United States no," are becoming a distressingly familiar part of the Latin American scene.

Latest center in a brushfire series of violent anti-American demonstrations is Ecuador—but with a difference.

There the mob action is being stirred by the government. And the United States, while a principal target, is strictly a bystander.

Ecuador, about the size of the state of Colorado, lies on South America's west coast between Colombia and Peru. Quito, its capitol, lies in the temperate zone 10,000 feet high on the slopes of the Andes Mountains. Guayaquil, its principal port, lies in the midst of the steaming tropics.

ITS PRESENT quarrel, in reality, is with Peru and dates back 130 years.

It is over a huge triangular territory larger than Germany, Switzerland and Italy combined East of the Andes on the headwaters of the Amazon River. Its inhabitants almost exclusively are wild Indian tribes.

The two nations fought over the territory almost from the moment Ecuador was proclaimed a republic in 1830. The dispute finally appeared settled in 1942 when both nations signed a treaty in favor of Peru. Guaranteeing the treaty were the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

On Sept. 1, President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra announced in his inaugural address that Ecuador would no longer recognize the 1942 treaty.

THE STIRRINGS of discontent across the whole of Latin America have not skipped Ecuador. And in Ecuador the same basic elements are present, illiteracy and poverty. As elsewhere, there also are the added element of Castroism and the new interest of Moscow and Peiping.

The head of Ecuador's Chamber of Deputies was an ardent campaigner for Velasco and also is an outspoken admirer of Fidel Castro.

Ecuador's largest labor union, the Confederation of Ecuadorian Workers, is communist-influenced, if not communist-controlled.

Velasco was not the first to voice Ecuador's simmering discontent.

IN 1955, ECUADOR accused Peru of massing 30,000 troops for invasion of Ecuador's frontier. In 1959, she accused Peru of exaggerated rearming. The charges were not borne out but they were indicative of things to come.

In the last four years, Ecuador has been the recipient of U. S. or World Bank loans totalling around $50 million dollars, but Velasco frequently has been harshly critical of U. S. Latin American aid policies.

Last week, the United States joined with Argentina, Brazil and Chile against Ecuador's renewed demands for the disputed territory and an outlet to the Atlantic via the Amazon.

Then Velasco turned the mobs loose against the United States and, a la Castro, his foreign minister announced that if necessary:

"We will ally ourselves with Russia."

Don't Let Eager Amateur Expert Guide You On Raising Your Child

There's an amateur expert in every neighborhood. Do you recognize her?

Her only child has long since grown up. But she thinks she knows everything. She gives advice freely. She's hurt if you don't follow it.

Your little guy is a bit slow to talk. Your amateur expert knows why. She says it is because you do too much for him. Or because you talk all the time. Or maybe she says his habit of sucking his thumb interferes with his vocal cords. Do you believe her? I hope not!

Your girl takes a long time learning to walk. She tells you it is because she wore baby shoes when she was two months old. Or because you carry her too much. Or she has too many toys. Is she right? Of course not. But she is an authority. She raised a child, didn't she?

Try not to take your amateur expert seriously. If you do you'll be in trouble. Your baby is your baby, not hers. You live with him. You know him. She doesn't. She's not responsible for the mistakes she makes. But you are, if you follow her directions.

Don't ask her for advice. Turn to your doctor instead. He has had experience with many babies. He is trained and responsible. You can rely on what he says.

What should you do with your amateur expert? Listen politely, but think your own thoughts. Nod your head when she expects it. Don't argue. It's a waste of time. Just let her have her say. Then go ahead and do exactly what you and your doctor think best.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it really necessary for mothers to stay home and take care of their babies? My boy is five months old. My employer wants me back at work. A housekeeper could do what I'm doing. Must I stay with him?"

P.O.C.

(A) Stay with him until he is well launched in school, or longer. No one can take the place of a loving, intelligent mother in the life of her baby. One reason we have so much juvenile delinquency is that American mothers have been leaving their children too soon. They've lacked love and guidance in their most formative years.

Wife Sues Doctor For Divorce, Asks Support, Alimony

Dr. John F. Huffman, 50, of Corte Madera, who practices at the Stonestown Medical Building in San Francisco, was sued for divorce yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. Bettigene A. Huffman, 39, of 462 Chapman Drive, Corte Madera, says her husband earns more than $85,000 per year as radiologist and physician. She is asking for $1,250 per month for her alimony and support, $450 per month for the support of their three children, and $5,000 for her attorney fees.

They were married in 1945 and were separated last July. She charges he has been cruel and has caused her grievous mental suffering.

Among community property, she lists their $45,000 home, his office and equipment in San Francisco worth $75,000, a promissory note for $37,500 on a property in Novato which will bring $7,500 revenue per year, two cars, and a life insurance policy with $75,000 face value and $15,000 cash value.

Mrs. Huffman says her husband grosses more than $85,000 and nets more than $40,000 per year.

Appointments For State Jobs Due

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown is about to don a Santa Claus uniform for one of the biggest periods of favor-dispensing since he originally formed his administration in the early days of 1959.

The belated Christmas presents which Brown will be distributing to people on his list are appointments to state positions. There are something more than 100 of them up for renewal, most on Jan. 15.

The jobs range all the way from such non-paid positions as directors of county or district fairs to the $20,000 bracket of paid positions.

With or without salaries, all of the appointments are coveted. There is more competition, in fact, for some of the non-paying positions because of the prestige involved.

The two top spots for which there will be openings Jan. 15 are on the Public Utilities Commission, with a salary of $20,947 and a guarantee of steady work for at least four years.

There also are two other commissions with openings coming up after the first of the year. There will be two posts to fill on the Industrial Accident Commission, at $16,537 a year, and one on the Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board, with a $18,190 salary.

Two other positions with a similar salary of $18,190 will be open on the state Adult Authority, which sets terms, paroles and such for adult prisoners and on the California Youth Authority, which has jurisdiction over the younger offenders.

The other paid board member position available is on the state Personnel Board. This is not a full-time job and pays only $6,835 a year.

In addition to the boards and commissions, there are a number of deputy director jobs open. At present, there are no vacancies among department heads.

The choicest of the deputy jobs will be the Department of Water Resources. The post actually isn't vacant yet but the present deputy, Ralph M. Brody, has announced plans to leave by the first of the year. The job pays $20,508.

Another high-placed deputy job is open in the department of finance, paying $19,800. This was one of the 13 new deputy positions created by the 1959 legislature.

There will be a $16,860 opening for deputy director of agriculture on the first of the year when James T. Ralph advances to the directorship. Present director, William E. Warne, will become the head of the water resources department.

Also open are posts of assistant labor commissioner, at $11,400 (replacing Andrew Hatcher, who was named to President-elect John F. Kennedy's press staff) and as assistant insurance commissioner, a job paying $16,860.

Brown also has a vacancy on his own secretarial staff, which he no doubt will fill early in the legislative sessions. Regular secretaries on his staff may be paid up to $16,537 a year. In addition, the post of coordinator of economic Development is open, a position that pays about $18,000 a year.

Those are the main paid positions which can make for many a happy holiday season in California. But many of the non-paid posts will bring nearly as much joy.

Among the most coveted of non-paying jobs up for reappointment in January are two members of the California Highway Commission and two members of the State Park Commission.

Just as coveted is an opening which will come up on the five-man state Fish and Game Commission in January. Then there are two openings on the state Board of Education, for 10-year terms.

Two terms will expire on the State Athletic Commission and two on the State Board of Agriculture. One position on the State Horse Racing Board will be vacant, as will two on the Board of Forestry.

Other vacancies will occur, because of expired terms, on the Board of Public Health (three), Real Estate Commission, Recreation Commission, Small Craft Harbors Commission, and Social Welfare Board.

Last, but not least, there will be three terms expiring on the board of directors of the California State Fair. More than 100 openings will come up on local fair boards, about two for each of the 70-odd fairs in the state.

Queen's Rent Collectors Getting Tired

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth's rent collectors are tired of checking up on horseshoe nails, herring pies, sharp knives and white roses.

So, a royal source said, the crown is quietly dropping some of its more picturesque traditional rents—known as feudal tenures—for which kings and queens in the past gave away castles, mansions, lands and estates.

If any of the present-day tenants want to continue the ancient fees—some of them dating back 700 years—the crown will accept them. But no one is going to be dispossessed for forgetting.

The feudal tenure is the responsibility of the lord of the manor. This is the only British title which can be offered for sale by the holder because the title goes with possession of the lands.

Some manors have changed hands so many times over the centuries that the present occupants occasionally do not even know that they owe Queen Elizabeth such tribute as a longbow, or a pikestaff or a white stallion.

Among those who no longer need worry—if they ever did—are:

The manor of Midlington, which owes the queen a towel to wipe her hands while hunting.

The manor of Beaumanor, which owes her annually a spear, three rosebuds and a garland of flowers.

The marquis of Savernake, who must blow a horn if the Queen enters Savernake forest.

The manor of Aylesbury, which should supply the straw for the queen's bed, rushes for her bedchamber floor and three eels and two geese.

The lord mayor of London who is down for six horseshoes and nails as rents for land where a forge was set up in St. Clement's Parish in 1235.

There are many other similarly delightful echoes of the days when sovereigns ruled by "divine right." But the crown is not abandoning all its tenures.

The Dukes of Marlborough and Wellington still have to present small flags to the queen on the anniversaries of the battles won by their illustrious forebears at Blenheim in 1704 and Waterloo in 1815. These confirm the estates they hold from the crown.

And when Prince Charles pays his first official visit to Cornwall as the Duke of Cornwall, Launceston Castle will be expected to deliver the traditional tribute, namely:

Three hundred puffins (seabirds), mantles of goatskin, 100 shillings, a pound of paper, a pair of gilt spurs, a bow of alder wood, two greyhounds, a faggot of wood, a salmon spear, a pair of white gloves and a riding cloak.

The tribute was last paid in 1937 to the duke who later became King George VI.

State Building At $12 Million

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — State Architect Anson Boyd today announced the state's 1961 building program at nearly 112 million dollars, divided about equally north and south.

The architect division plans were disclosed in an outline prepared for the annual convention of the Southern California chapter of the Associated General Contractors.

The biggest single projects are a 10.9-million-dollar science building at the new Orange County State College in Fullerton and a new 10.2-million-dollar Motor Vehicles Department headquarters in Sacramento.

Abortion Law

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A grand jury here has recommended that California law be changed to allow abortions where "pregnancy results from forcible rape, incest or moral irresponsibility or in girls under the age of 14."

The state now permits abortion only where necessary to save the mother's life.

$112 Million For Quentin Projects

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The State Division of Architects 112-million-dollar state building program will include $430,200 for two projects at San Quentin prison.

Both projects were expected to be put out to bids in the first quarter of 1961. An addition to the boiler plant was estimated to cost $219,300 and phase two of construction of a chapel $210,900. Both are in the current state budget.

Marinwood Homes Yule Contest Prizes

Gift certificates good at three local plant nurseries will be awarded next Monday by anonymous judges after weekend tours by day and night to inspect Christmas home decorations in the Marinwood area.

This decision, recently made by directors of the Marinwood Assn., was announced to the membership at a meeting Wednesday night. Though names of winners will be made public, the judges prefer to keep their identities dark.

San Quentin Education Aide Leaving

Bruce L. Russell Jr., supervisor of education at San Quentin Prison, has resigned from the San Quentin School District board with announcement he is transferred to the California Men's Colony at San Luis Obispo.

Russell said he will leave San Quentin for his new job early next month.

He will be succeeded as head of the prison education department by Dr. Homes J. Hastings, now supervisor of education at Soledad Prison, Associate Warden Louis N. Nelson disclosed yesterday.

Hastings will be returning to San Quentin after two years at Soledad. For several years prior to that he was supervisor of academic instruction at the big Marin prison under Russell.

Russell, who has been at San Quentin 10 years, will become associate superintendent of the Men's Colony in San Luis Obispo.

Youthful Malaprop

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Mrs. Richard Walker of Des Moines was stumped when her 7-year-old daughter came home from school and asked: "Are you going to vote for the French fries?" That was the day Des Moines residents voted on a proposal to grant a power company a 25-year franchise.

LOCAL DOG MAKES GOOD

Fame of sorts came this week to Huckleberry Finn McCool, an Irish wolfhound of 10 Buckeye Way, Kentfield, whose photograph appears in a full-page advertisement in the current New Yorker magazine. McCool, shown here with his owner, Fred Weiner, 8, was a mere eight months old when the New Yorker picture was taken. Now almost 2, McCool appeared unruffled by his fame. San Rafael Firemen Given Right To Live Outside City

San Rafael firemen will not be forced to live inside the city limits if they can give good reason for living outside, such as economic hardship, fire commissioners decided Wednesday.

Fire Chief Vance Trivett reported at least two firemen now live outside the city. He asked the commission for a policy declaration.

The fire commission, headed by Chairman Louis H. Baar, voted unanimously that each case would be judged on its own merits. They announced that any firemen living outside the city must submit written application, giving reasons why they must live outside.

The fire commissioners also graded the written examinations taken by about 20 men to fill positions of two captains and two engineers. They set another meeting for 5 p.m. today to re-check the grades and announce the top candidates.

More New Home Construction Expected In U.S. During 1961

NEW YORK (UPI) — Building of fewer homes played a big part in the failure of the nation's economy to get rolling this year, but new home construction is expected to start the economy moving in 1961.

Housing starts this year approached 1.3 million units, approximately 19 per cent below the 1959 figure of 1.6 million, and the Housing Institute looks for this figure to jump to 1,375,000 in the new year.

The institute said there are many favorable factors for an upturn in housing starts, although it may not come until sometime during the second quarter. The concensus among economists is for the economy to start picking up at mid-year.

Among the favorable factors are:

1. Disposable personal income should increase by about 12 billion dollars next year, providing a higher level for home purchases.

2. Consumers will start the ney year with record liquid assets and a very favorable financial position, despite the large short-term debt.

3. A continued increase in population to more than 181 million should result in increased demands for new homes.

4. The number of families in the middle income group—a big home buying category — continues to expand.

5. Vacany rates, which showed a substantial gain in 1960, indicate that buyers are becoming more selective, and that the supply of new apartments is greater than demand. The institute said the home building industry is in a position to capture some of the market since high rents provide an incentive to the purchase of a home.

Settlement Made On Sewer Line

A. H. Ruoff of 836 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, agreed yesterday to a $150 settlement of a sewer line encroachment problem with the San Rafael Sanitation District.

The district line from the Glenwood subdivision encroaches on his property. The district offered $150 for a five-foot wide easement, 125 feet long. Ruoff accepted the offer.

The sanitation commission discussed connection fees for a subdivision planned by Equitec Corp. at McNear Beach on the bay side of San Pedro Road. Commissioners notified Equitec that connection fees will be $500 per lot.

Stanley Dollar Estate Valued At $833,000

Former San Rafael shipping magnate R. Stanley Dollar left an estate valued at $833,000 in an inventory filed in Alameda County Superior Court.

Stock in the Dollar companies real estate, savings accounts, and oil holdings that comprise the estate were left in trust to his two children, Mrs. Diana D. Hickingbotham of 1403 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, and R. Stanley Dollar, Jr. of Walnut Creek.

A provision in the will made Jan. 2, 1958, leaves his wife, Esther of Piedmont, the income from the trust until her death at which time it is to be divided between young Dollar and Mrs. Hickingbotham.

The widow and children were named executors for the estate.

Dollar left his household and personal effects to his wife stating that "I intentionally make no other bequests to my wife, not because of any lack of love or affection, but because she and I believe she is already adequately provided for."

Dollar's father, Capt. Robert Dollar, founder of the Dollar Steamship Co., settled his family in San Rafael in the 1880s. Mrs. Hickingbotham now lives in the old family home.
